Schools At All Ages Urged

TORONTO (CP) — The provincially appointed commission on post-secondary education in Ontario today proposed to reshape Ontario's educational system.

Four years in preparation, the commission's federal report calls for more opportunities for a lifetime of learning for everyone "from school years to old age."

Courses should be offered "in homes, schools, stores, farms, hospitals, libraries and senior citizens' homes," says the report.

Larger schools "provide time off to those in the work force to enable them to study. Employers of adult students should be subsidized financially."

Entitled "The Learning Society," the report proposes an "Open Academy of Ontario" to supplement the educational programs already offered by some universities and colleges.

Such an academy would offer more media and education courses as well as tape-cassette materials. It would provide evaluation of the students' progress and progress.

The professions, it states, should be prepared to accept who can pass qualifying examinations whether or not the applicant has attended a conventional university or college.

A total of 13 recommendations are made by the commission, under chairman D. O. Howell vice-president of engineering at Dominion Foundry.

Howell said the recommendations were from university faculties to end university discrimination against women, students and faculty members.

Persons choosing an alternative route to formal education should be recognized by the granting of credits in appropriate cases. Degrees should be awarded by the open academy, the report says.

Federal manpower training programs were described as "far from satisfactory."

New programs with a "pre-training objective" were called for. The report also called for a new line of work in the advancement of basic research because of technology or economic changes.

The elimination of Grade 13 would be allowed to clear all forms of post-secondary education upon graduation.

Frostbite Suffered

TORONTO, Thursday, Feb. 15 (CP) — Peter Howley, 46, of the 1000s block of Dundas Street East, is in Peterborough City Hospital with frostbite on his face, hands and feet after spending 20 minutes outdoors in the snow.

Winter Queen

While many Canadians dream of trips to the tropics, 18-year-old Marsha Pearman, a student at the Ontario Business College, arrived in Belleville from Bermuda in June. Wednesday evening she was crowned Belleville's Winter Queen at the official coronation ceremony held at Centennial Secondary School. For story, see page 2.

Parks Will Divide Lakefront Centres

TORONTO (CP) — The Star says the municipal government is preparing to announce a new land-use plan that will include establishment of a 185-mile-long ribbon of parkland from Hamilton on the west to Scarborough in the east.

Persons choosing an alternative route to formal education should be recognized by the granting of credits in appropriate cases. Degrees should be awarded by the open academy, the report says.

The elimination of Grade 13 would be allowed to clear all forms of post-secondary education upon graduation.

The newspaper quotes a government announcement at saying the government policy is scheduled to be announced later this week.

The program for the park will be in preparation for three years. It was set out as a concept in the Toronto-based region plan study program for the Niagara Development Commission.

The aim of the park is to connect urban sprawl and preserve the identities of individual communities, the newspaper says.

The park belts will vary in width in different areas, some being as little as one mile, others as wide as 2.84 miles or more. The width will depend mainly on existing development.

It says the city has already been designated in the expansion to stretch across the top of Metropolitan Toronto while another will separate Mississauga from Hamilton on the west to Scarborough in the east.

Another belt is expected to stretch across the top of Metropolitan Toronto while another will separate Mississauga from Hamilton on the west to Scarborough in the east.

West of Metro, a belt would stretch Burlington and Oakville from areas around Mississauga.

BELFAST (AP) — Terrorists threw a hand grenade into a busload of Roman Catholic workers in a Belfast suburb today, killing one and injuring nine as Northern Ireland's Catholic and Protestant guerrillas squared off for an all-out war against each other.

Security chiefs believed the bus ambush was the work of Protestant extremists. They anticipated retaliation by the Catholics of the Irish Republican Army.

The bus was passing through a quiet Protestant suburb of Belfast, taking the workers to the site of a new Catholic school. A man with a stick limped in front of the vehicle, and the driver slowed to a halt. Two men ran up, lobbed a fragmentation grenade through an open window and escaped.

Two of the wounded were reported in critical condition, and the injuries of three others were "extremely serious," police said.

The grenade failed to explode, confirmed death toll in the Belfast suburb.

The Irish Protestant of the Ulster Defence Association announced Tuesday that because of Irish Republican Army "provocation," they could no longer hold Protestant extremists in check and would not.

The Catholics of the Irish Republican Army replied that they would take "ruthless retaliatory action" for the killing of Catholics. The Ulster Defence Association said this was "a virtual declaration of war."

Guns were heard five persons in Belfast since Monday. Four were Catholics, and three of these were teenagers. The fifth was an Ulster Defence Association member.

Two other Catholic teenagers and a Protestant police officer and his nine-year-old daughter are in hospitals with serious wounds.

The Irish Republican Army accused the Ulster Defence Association of giving a green light to sectarian killings "on Catholic" hitler's unprovoked. It said, "A new phase of sectarian killings will not be tolerated. The IRA will strike all its resources to end sectarian killings."

The Ulster Defence Association said the Irish Republican Army men are murderers and hypocrites, and "we will not permit them to live."

"The danger clouds are gathering, and here is the first flash of lightning," said one security officer.

British Army sources feared the troops would be caught in the middle.

Truce Work Starts Friday

SAIGON (CP) — The four-country international commission set up to supervise the Vietnam ceasefire started today to send its first observers out of Saigon, the head of the Canadian contingent announced.

A team of 24 soldiers from Canada, Hungary, Indonesia and Poland are expected to leave Saigon for the countryside Friday to inspect facilities being made available to them.

Canadian Major General, acting chairman of the supervisory body, said inspection teams will be sent to all sectors across South Vietnam.

Gervais said three teams of soldiers each will visit facilities in Hue and Da Nang to southern Saigon, Vietnam, and Phuoc in the central highlands. Each team consists of six soldiers from each commission member country.

The three sites are among seven inspection centres established under the Paris peace agreement for supervising the ceasefire.

Earlier today, a Viet Cong general who held the key to the ceasefire said he would be sent to inspect alleged ceasefire violations in the south.

Winter Carnival Queen From Sunny Bermuda

Winter Carnival is under way with a brand new queen. The coronation ceremony was held last night at Centennial College.

After Mayor Robin Jeffrey declared the carnival open, a packed auditorium sat back to watch the coronation of the 15th Winter Carnival queen, a Bermuda girl, 15-year-old Marlene Pomeroy.

She, who stole the attention of the judges with an inviting smile, also stole the pleasure of her husband, the mayor, who was the master of ceremonies.

She was crowned by Mayor Robin Jeffrey, who presented her with a scepter and a tiara.

new baptist apartment structure, could be delayed by possible court action.

It was reported today by three tenants of the old St. Agnes Baptist apartment house that the notice received to vacate the premises were invalid.

In Brandy, Fred Scott said he had been told by three people who were not named that he had been given instructions to ask for an injunction if demolition was ordered.

Under a permit taken out by city hall by the owners, demolition of St. Agnes Baptist apartment house is scheduled to begin next week. The house was given notice to vacate by the city. It had been given notice to vacate by the city.

Notices for tenants to vacate were mailed by registered letter late last in December but some tenants were given their notices under the New Year.

Because of late receipt of their registered letter, some tenants are claiming they did not receive their notices until the second week of January.

Mr. Scott, a city representative for J. Beach Investments Inc., a Toronto firm which owns St. Agnes, says property and health department officials of the city have been notified that all tenants were now out of the apartment house.

Quality Key To Rezoning

A three-four hour last night has left the fate of city council rezoning in the balance.

Because insufficient information was available, Mayor Robin Jeffrey and four other members delayed the motion subject to an investigation as to how fairly the developers' hands can be held in quality control.

This report is to be completed by next Wednesday, when the committee will conduct final deliberation on the rezoning application.

In any event, say both developers, the rezoning of the site is not a matter of life or death.

Must Repay Welfare When Benefits Paid

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario, has plugged a loophole in its legislation to ensure welfare recipients from enjoying the full measure of unemployment insurance and welfare payments.

The provision forces welfare recipients to reimburse the municipality any welfare payments they received while eligible for unemployment insurance.

Both provisions were contain in regulations published Wednesday in the Ontario Gazette.

The double payments resulted from delays in unemployment insurance payments to eligible persons who sought welfare as a means of getting them through a difficult period.

But prior to the new regulation, effective immediately, the municipality had to pay of being reimbursed when a recipient received his unemployment benefits for the period he was on welfare.

Under the new regulation, persons seeking welfare to carry him through the delays in receiving unemployment insurance must agree in writing to pay back the money after he receives his unemployment payments. He can only apply for this welfare assistance after the two-week waiting period.

Record Set

BRISTOL, England (CP) — A team of pub regulars in this Gloucestershire city are claiming a world record for non-stop snooker playing. The team, well equipped with several legs of beer, played for 73 hours without a break. They knocked down 31,800 shuttles in the process.

B.C. Indians Planning World Court Appeal

By THE CANADIAN PRESS — after the Supreme Court of Canada. The Shuswap Indians said, in a 4-2 decision, handed down Wednesday they will ask the World Court at The Hague to settle the claim to the land in the Shuswap valley. "Now that we have heard the case, we are now going to appeal to the International Court of Justice," said Mr. Calder, who is a minister with the Indian Affairs and Northern Development Department. The Shuswap Indians said they have been denied their land for 100 years. They are now asking the World Court to settle the claim.

THE INTELLIGENCER, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1973 5

Mr. Calder said band members were prepared to appeal their case to the World Court. "This is the only tribe in North America that exists by the land," he said. "We don't have a claim on any government land, but we do have a claim on the land that we have lived on for 100 years." He said that although the majority decision was a disappointment, the Shuswap were "most grateful" for the court's decision. "Judgment is being made against the case while three voted in favour and the seventh judge was more or less neutral."

Do parents feel superior to a child?
NO—or at least the mothers and fathers who love their children don't believe they are. Of course, concerned parents know their youngsters sometimes feel frustrated and angry because he or she is as big and strong as they are. This is something that cannot be avoided. Skillful and loving mothers and fathers, though, focus in their child a hope that he will grow up to be the same kind of parent to his children as his parents were to him.

Colts Tried To Trade Bubba

BALTIMORE (AP) — General manager Joe Thomas of the Baltimore Colts admitted Wednesday he tried to trade defensive end Bubba Smith for a first-round draft pick.

Giants Will Wait For Argo Star

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Giants say they're willing to wait a couple of years to get running back Long McRoy out of Canada.

The Giants, gambling in the National Football League's two-year draft, picked McRoy, currently playing for Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League.

What is rumored to be the draft's No. 1 pick, the Colts drafted Bubba Smith, a former All-Pro who was the 1972 season's defensive player of the year.

Smith announced a few days later that he would sign with the Colts, but he was not in the contract with the Argos, in an option on a year beyond that.

"We feel we can get him. We're pretty sure he'll be in the backfield with Ron Johnson, even though it would mean we have to change our style somewhat. The only thing is that's a question mark."

NEW YORK (AP) — Each of the 100 players from the Baltimore Colts will receive a gold-plated letterman team pin for any professional football game commissioner Donnie Gale announced Wednesday.

We were not so far waiting for the Eskimos to show up last night as we were in the Arctic.

The Eskimos came the rescue team of Don Chasney and John White to save the Eskimos and give them some breathing room in their fight with the New York Knicks.

"We played as bad as you could play," said Edmonton after the game played well enough to beat Cleveland Cavaliers 104-99.

The Eskimos were the National Basketball Association's worst team in the Eastern Division over the Knicks, who were upset in Detroit.

Toronto Police Officer Is Slain

TORONTO (CP) — Constable Leslie Mallard, 31, his revolver still tucked in his holster, was gunned down Thursday by a robbery suspect on a deserted Toronto street.

Constable Mallard, a six-year veteran of the Metropolitan Toronto police force, died after being shot twice in the chest from four feet away as he questioned a man believed to be a robber. Constable Mallard was shot in the chest and throat by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce.

Police are holding Rene Vallouin, 36, of Montreal, on charges of capital murder, bank robbery and auto theft.

Constable Mallard, 31, was arrested by police radio for having missed a speeding car on Denison Avenue.

They followed the car to the Grand Avenue and Constable Mallard walked across the street to speak to a man who was walking along the sidewalk. Constable Mallard returned to the cruiser and returned to the cruiser and returned to the cruiser.

Heath and Nixon Conclude Summit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and Prime Minister Edward Heath of Britain left Camp David today to conclude what has been described by both sides as the most extensive summit meeting of a modern President and a British prime minister.

Nixon and Heath were to leave for the presidential retreat in the Maryland mountains after a lunch with British Ambassador Lord Croft at his residence.

While spokesmen will not discuss the substance of the talks, they say talks covered the British arrival Thursday and possible major international issues with a focus on foreign relations and trade talks.

OTTAWA — Minister of Science and Technology,

Mrs. Jeanne Sauvé, (right) talks with, from left, Sen.

Jean Neuman, Senator Michel Fournier, Senator Speaker, and Conservative MP

Madoc Seniors Enjoy Lively Entertainment

A lively entertainment program was conducted by Mrs. Moore, program co-ordinator, at the Madoc and district senior citizens club on Feb. 1 meeting in January. Mrs. Moore conducted a lively sing song with Mrs. Reid at the piano. A delightful meal was given by Miss Adams. A harmonica and piano duet was played by Mrs. H. Holmes and Mrs. P. Blahy. Others included in the program were Mrs. Bazman and Mrs. Emery. In the absence of president, Mrs. Broadbent, the meeting was chaired by Mrs. Vera Holmes, vice-president. Mrs. Holmes welcomed all and read a poem.

Mrs. John, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. Kelly, on behalf of the residents of the Madoc Manor Nursing Home thanked the club for the plant received at Christmas.

The treasurer's report was read by Mrs. John. Plans were finalized for the bake sale to be held at the Kiwanis Centre during the Winter Carnival.

Nominations Made at Tweed Seniors' Meeting

TWEED — Mrs. McMaster of the Tweedborough Senior Citizens Club received special mention at the January 21 meeting of Tweed Senior Citizens Club No. 395.

Nominations were named which included: the lunch committee; ways and means committee; entertainment committee; sick and visiting committee; press reporter; name committee; new members committee; directors and elected committee. During the business meeting, at which 80 seniors attended, the president, Arthur McCarver, reported that he had been approached by a Chamber of Commerce Committee member and asked if the seniors would consider entering a float in the Tweedburgh Parade to be held February 5. It was decided to let the ways and means committee handle this matter for the Tweedburgh Carnival.

Mrs. Jennie Moffat, committee head, reported that six persons from the Tweed Club had visited Hastings Manor residents since the last meeting. Cards were sent to Mrs. Elsie Berman and Mrs. Gertrude Jones from the club. Harold Varty briefly spoke on the new developments in the new Hastings program. Royal Canadian Legion of Tweed offered their hall to the seniors to use as a Drop-In Centre. It was suggested by the Legion that a table be used. Any donation would be acceptable.

During the discussion, members decided that a calendar would be necessary if the hall was taken.

A thank-you note was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Smith in regards to the entertainment and lunch provided by them recently for 200 seniors.

The next meeting will be held February 14, Valentine's Day when the entertainment and lunch committee will confer on this special day. Following members of the Hastings group served lunch.

At Home

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Leeming of 820 E. Dalziel will be at Home to their friends and relatives on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary on February 18, 1973 from 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. Best wishes only.

Help your son get ahead.

This boy knows that country is good business

Newspaper route management can be a boy's first step forward

A BOY with a newspaper route truly is in business for himself. With an assist from our people who are experienced in working with boys.

He buys his newspapers from us and retains them to you.

He sells, he delivers, and he collects. Like any good businessman, he keeps records (you can see how valuable this is in applying the lessons he learns in the classroom in a practical way).

And like any good businessman, he shows a profit. A boy with a newspaper route earns money that can help him build a sizable bank account of his own. Useful for the things he wants. Even for a college education.

Not only does a newspaper route sharpen a young boy's business sense (which will be helpful to him throughout his life no matter what career he chooses). It also offers him some important insights — the ability to deal with people, and the lessons of persistence, of care, of self-reliance, and of good manners.

In these ways, a newspaperboy manages to keep a step ahead of other boys in preparing for life.

If your son wants to handle a route, put him in touch with us. One may be available for him in your neighborhood. It will be an unusual opportunity for the self-advancement you want him to have.

Olympic Coins Okayed No Deficit For Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government has approved the 1976 Montreal Olympic coins, which will bring in $10 million to help pay for the event.

Prime Minister Trudeau announced the decision Friday after being given assurances by Ottawa's Olympic committee that the coins would not be sold for a profit, but would be sold for face value.

The coins are made of silver and will be sold for $10 million.

Export Plan Boon for Big?

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government's export development program was criticized Friday in the Commons as a boon to corporate giants and a boon to big business.

At issue was a bill to boost the export on loans for the Export Development Corp. (EDC) to $14 billion from the current level of $600 million.

The legislation, as yet second reading and referred to the House of Commons, was introduced Jan. 12 by Trade Minister Allan Rock.

He told the House Friday the bill is intended to create employment by granting the EDC more money to help Canadian exporters.

Now That's Karate!

If the damage done to telephone pole, any indication, second-grade Black Belt karate instructor Romeo Cox should win all honors at the U.S. Karate championship match in Dallas Feb. 10-11. Don't be misled. The illusion was created by the sharp eye of photographer, Lee Langman of the Dallas Morning News. The pole was broken when hit by a car.

Tower Now Tombstone

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario cabinet Friday moved swiftly to approve the sale of a new police communications tower after the present system was described as "totally inadequate" in the wake of the killing Thursday of Constable Leslie Mallard, 32, who was shot while chasing a bank robber.

The announcement by Solicitor-General John Tarrington followed Police Chief Harold Adamson's complaints that the search for the suspected killer was almost defeated by the outmoded, two-channel police communications network.

Canadian Role Praised By Press

WASHINGTON (CP) — The Washington Star and Newsday have praised Canada's position as the role in the Vietnam ceasefire negotiations is "constructive and fair" and others believe newspapers can play power politics.

The newspaper suggests in an editorial that without Canada's aid there could be no international control machinery and without that machinery there could be no ceasefire.

"For three months the government of Pierre Elliott Trudeau, with just the right blend of Gallic subtlety and Anglo-American bluntness, has provided a diplomacy of imagination and tact to the cause of the Vietnamese, contribution to the White House."

"Since both sides want the ceasefire for the time being, why not let the peace machinery have to agree to accept all the peace machinery that has been agreed to by the two sides?"

"The play of Ottawa," the paper continues, "has come in handy here to get, from the U.S. or Canada, what is clear to the Vietnamese that they want. This is a tribute to the Canadian role in the Vietnam ceasefire negotiations."

Water Kills Snowmobilers

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario's first snowmobile accident record shows the water by the Port of Toronto Police have in snowmobiling deaths.

A police spokesman said the greatest loss of life involves snowmobilers crashing through ice on rivers and lakes.

Deliberately, the danger periods are at the beginning and end of winter but that year's varying weather has caused a number of mid-winter deaths as well.

Teacher Taught Lesson

OTTAWA (CP) — A high school principal who admitted defrauding the federal government of more than $100,000 and then spending most of it on sports equipment for his school was sentenced Friday to two years in jail and ordered to pay restitution of $20,000.

An Ottawa court was told that Arthur Stinson, 40, former principal of the Vincent Alexander school in Vincent, St. Lawrence, admitted the fraud because he was an insecure man who wanted more prestige in the community.

Evidence presented last week showed that Stinson admitted fictitious teachers to his staff and inflated equipment figures to get the money from the federal government.

On October, 1970, he filed out a check for $100,000 from the federal government and also got a social insurance card and a bank account. After that, the man amounted to nothing.

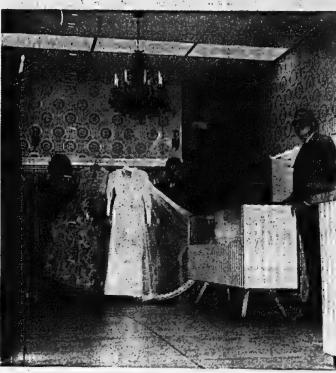

Jail Threat Quelled

CANADA, N.Y. (AP) — About 70 prisoners who also appear to be from their cells and barricaded themselves in a dormitory at the Canadian County Jail Friday threatened peacefully after being threatened with a tear-gas attack, police said.

"No one was hurt," Police Chief Vincent Thomas said. "It was just one of those protests. Everything's back to normal."

About 1,000 workers were on strike from the county and city.

The jail "which has been overcrowded" several years, is scheduled to be replaced by a new facility.

CP News Roundup

BC Law Requires Residence

VICTORIA (CP) — The majority of the directors of over 100 provincially-incorporated companies will have to be Canadian citizens resident in Canada, a new legislation introduced Friday in the British Columbia legislature.

Attorney General Alex Macdonald said the new legislation, which is a result of a similar law in Ontario, is the first step in the process of making the companies more Canadian.

There are a number of provisions in the new bill, including that dealing with company directors, which have been added to the legislation, it brings up to date the rules by which companies are formed, carry on their business and are dissolved.

Mr. MacDonald said he is not sure the bill will be passed, but he is sure the bill is a necessary step in the process of making the companies more Canadian.

Forms Blasted

OTTAWA (CP) — That long, complicated 177 income tax forms cause under more than 10 million a year in the Commons.

Don Sheppard (CPC-Quebec) said that the forms are too long and too complicated, and that they are a waste of time and money.

Mr. Sheppard said he would like to see the forms simplified and that he would like to see the forms simplified and that he would like to see the forms simplified.

WARREN ALLMAN Predicts Bon

OTTAWA (CP) — Solicitor General Warren Allman said Friday the government may amend its bill to continue to partial ban on capital punishment.

He was confident the legislation, introduced Jan. 11 in the Commons, will draw enough votes to pass second reading, but he was unsure whether it would survive third reading in its present form.

As a result, he said in an interview, there may be amendments at the committee stage between second and third reading.

Pension Plan

TRENTON — Times have changed greatly since the horse-drawn fire carriages, the firemen in top hats and the fire hoses that were used by the firemen as they raced toward a blaze, firemen climbing to the roof of a burning building.

This historic picture, circa 1913-1914 brings sharply home the contrast with the more modern fire fighting equipment and techniques of today.

The street is the same, although known by a different name.

The former Ridgeway Street housed the same buildings, but the buildings, such as the Lee Lang Laundry and the Candy Larch have since been replaced by Ting's Furniture, Don Bell's Restaurant and the Specialty Shop on the now King Street. The Gilbert Hotel still stands, although the tower, although the rest of the building has since been torn down.

History of the department before 1872 is sketchy. In fact, no firm records are available. The records of the present department archivists have amassed a fairly detailed log of department activities starting from historic fires to parlication in sporting events.

The original haul came from the present town location about 1900, when Trenton was still a village. For equipment, the 17-ton steam engine was obtained and a first lieutenant had the horse-drawn steam engine pulled to the site and drawn hose reels and carts.

As was often the case with a budding municipality, funds were not available for the job. The first piece of firefighting equipment, the steam engine, was donated by the first Fire Chief, Rowdell.

Because most of the equipment was hand-drawn, competitions to establish the fastest time and most efficient crew were held. The 300 feet race was placed on a hose reel. The men had to run 300 yards, hose was laid for another 250 feet, uncoupled from the cart and attached to a hydrant.

When it was then attached to the hose and a target knocked over. Firemen of the day were not allowed to talk at this and inter-department rivalry made the sport a popular-crowd pleaser. The men were the stars, and the women had to make do with the men's mistakes to show off their skills and bring home honors to the department.

In 1909, the department entered the world competition held at Hamilton. They emerged as the best team in the world with a record of 48 2-3 seconds. This achievement has never been surpassed.

The chief at that time was Walter Smith, who remained in charge until 1914. He was a very popular and energetic officer. He had a hand in drawing the picture, hand-drawn and horse-drawn racing firetrucks. A horse reel racing trophy donated by Chief Wendell Smith is still in the collection. The first fire engine was built in 1914 at the new Trenton Fire Hall on Front Street.

The first full-time officer for the department was Gaces Coleman, hired on Sept. 28, 1913. He was hired to operate the fire engine. He was in charge of the first motorized unit. Mr. Coleman died in 1933. He was replaced by several men in several years.

Trenton's first motorized fire gine was a 1917 chain drive LaFrance pump, complete with hard rubber tires and a night vision device. The engine, the fire hall proved too small and two front bays plus an upstairs living quarters were added.

The second vehicle, bought in 1923, was a Model T Ford equipped with a 1924 chassis by a second-hand vehicle.

During the tenure of office of Chief Harry Filson, it was decided to "modernize and improve the department. In 1942, a second pump truck was purchased. The new truck, with a 1934 chassis, was equipped with a Bixie-Seagrave pump still in use today, that replaced the 1917 LaFrance pump.

It was during Chief Filson's time that the town council passed a bylaw officially creating a fire department as of Oct. 12, 1950. A bylaw officially appointing a firechief as chief, was passed.

Up until then, official rank of the department, head rank was fire warden. It was decided to hold this post was the fire chief.

Over the years, the department has added an aerial truck, hired one or two vehicles, and brought in a boat, motor and trailer, for river and bay duties.

The department, strength has also grown and changed. It now has a force of 30, including 18 volunteers. The full-time officers are Chief Ellis, Deputy Chief Henry Barr, that he won the market square parking lot. The old station fire bell was salvaged and mounted in a glass case above the entrance to the new hall.

There have been some bad fires in the department's history. The Central Cold Storage fire of 1928, 1930, when Chief Elliott was in command, did the most heat of the firefighting action.

Chief Ellis recalls the hottest fire he can remember was the 1934 Domesday fire, when firefighters awoke the night until 3 a.m. battling fires in the Domesday Hotel on the city's east coast. Only black smoke and flames were visible for miles around. "The heat was unbearable," he says.

Ross Butts of 182 Queen Street, a firefighter from 1919 until 1955 when he first retired, says the worst fire he saw in 1910 that razed the old Guelph Lumber Mill on the east side of the Grand River at Number One Dam.

new mall, situated on what is now Centennial Park, was razed. A second firm, the Probbins Mining Company Inc., was selected to build the mall.

Trenton's former mayor also recalled several serious store fires, one a 1956 winter fire on Front Street.

Family Unity Church Theme

As part of its program to draw families closer together, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is sponsoring an open house on the public Feb. 8, at 7 p.m., at its church at 13 Palmer.

Church administration is called Why Families? and will outline the church's Family Plan. The program is an approach to family unity that has received worldwide acclaim. The family is encouraged to study the scriptures, discuss their beliefs, and their goals and attitudes, and to strengthen their relationships with parents and children.

The abandoned building, built in 1827, has been renovated by the Hastings county board of education to house the Loyalist College greenware course, a carpentry class for public school students and a playschool for pre-school children.

Classes in sculpture under the direction of Rev. John Hopkins will be conducted at the school and future plans call for physical education and music classes to be held in conjunction with the regular program of the public school.

Chuck Hawke of Ormsby initiated the refurbishing of the school. He realised it could supply much-needed space for pupils and citizens of the community. The building has been empty since the new school was constructed in 1961.

Chief Ellis recalls the hottest fire he can remember was in 1901. Domestic fires when firefighters spent the night until 3 a.m., battling fires in chemical - soaked lumber and posts. Oil? A big smoke and flames were visible for miles around. "The heat was awful," he recalls.

The last move was the most dramatic as recounted by Mr. Flavella Azev, president of the church's Friends

It was placed on skids and slid down the ice-covered Bay of Quinte in this cement mixer community where it was dedicated Feb. 9, 1913.

Today, the trim, white frame structure betrays not its age nor its various dislocations. About the only object that obviously hints of age is the church Bible presented to Belleville's Christ Church in 1865 and 40 years later to St. John's.

The book called The Country co-authored by Richard and Janet Luen attributes this collection of Biblical names in the area to a 17th-century school teacher named Luen who came to Ashmunston and preached to friends in his Church. The church was formed through his forceful teachings and his congregation's attitudes dictated the names.

In Demerestville where a thriving community lived sometimes in exile, the name Ashmun was adopted. In Southville, South Mills, five miles distant, the sister settlement of Gomerston was

In addition to its roads named from the Bible, Prince Edward County boasts still a few dubbed communities such as Partridge Hollow, Cold Creek, Indian Point and others.

The small community of Cherry Valley is peculiarly devoid of cherry trees just as the name suggests. The absence of its namesake.

Many local landmarks and settlements took the names of the settlers who first came to them. There is a Cruxville, Woodrow, Corners, Prinyers Cove and Dismoes. It has been stated in the book, "The Place Names of Ontario," that the names of Crux, Dismoes and Corners are Biblical place names not replicated by any other county in Ontario. For visitors to Prince Edward County, the place names provide a source of comment on part of this Area's colorful history.

"Not one Liberal gets one little thing. I'm not going to do much more for you fellows. I'm not asking for anything," he said. "I'm not doing anything wrong with the whole bloody works."

In answering Mr. Kavanagh's question, Mr. Wilson, vice-president of the provincial Liberal party, said since the postmaster days of Eric Muir, "the Liberal party and the postmaster's positions go to the persons who rank highest in qualifying tests. The jobs of drawing the mail are just open to all."

Dr. Wilson did admit that political patronage on the provincial level by the Conservatives was a thing that he considered as "one of the worst things that if federal appointments to any position are being considered, local communities at

Troops Kill 6 Snipers

BEAUFORT (CP) — Gunfire continued to ring through the woods of Beaufort early today as the death toll in one of Northern Rhodesia's bloodiest weekends rose to 26. More than 20 persons were wounded.

The latest victim was an 18-year-old Thomas Chabwila who died in hospital today. He was shot in the head at a death scene where he was killed.

Seven of the dead occurred early Sunday morning in the Chabwila New Lodge area. An army spokesman said troops moved into the area to investigate after shots were fired from a peasant car at a crowd of 100 residents, killing one man and wounding several others.

The heavy snipers fired and killed, killing 10 persons and wounding several others.

Local residents and the Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army denied the story version of the incident. They said the dead were innocent bystanders.

The Social Democratic and Labor Party, the main Catholic political group in Northern Rhodesia, called for an inquiry into New Lodge shootings.

The two other dead during the weekend were a 25-year-old Roman Catholic fish-shop owner who was shot at point-blank range by two youths who entered his shop. And a 25-year-old Protestant was found dead in a canal.

Police identified the Protestant as Ralph Boyd and he had been beaten, stabbed in the chest and throat and beheaded. A doctor said he did not see the injuries but said he had been told by police that he had been killed. The killing was reported by police as one of the "most heinous" in the history of the war.

The violence continued today as police reported a rash of killings in the area and had lost 20 persons.

MIAMI BEACH (REUTERS) — A 49-year-old man was arrested Saturday and accused of setting a fire in a crowded cafeteria which injured 139 persons and killed 10.

Police issued a statement saying that the fire started in the cafeteria at 11:15 p.m. Friday during a dance for the benefit of the Miami Children's Hospital.

Witnesses among the 250 persons in the cafeteria said the man poured the contents of the fire into the dance hall.

Several witnesses said they saw the arrest fire in a panic crowd, driven by a second man. The truck was found abandoned about five blocks away.

Truce Supervisors on Job South Vietnam Fighting Continuing to Slacken

SAIGON (CP) — Fighting in South Vietnam continued to slack off today as members of the International Committee for Control and Supervision of the ceasefire took part in their first meeting in the city.

Free fire zones from each of the four countries on the 1954-56 Geneva Convention for the cessation of hostilities were set up.

headquarters for questioning. Mr. Evans told police the three men armed with sawed-off shotguns and masked snipers had arrived late in the night, eight miles east of here about 10 p.m. Sunday and hid up him, his wife and three children.

They held the family at gunpoint throughout the night. About 2 a.m. later, the gunman told Mr. Evans away and let his wife and children get up in their home.

Mr. Evans was able to unite himself with about 9:05 a.m. and was of trouble inside.

They had intercepted a call from Helen Galloway, a bank employee who had received a letter from her husband and was on her way to work and noticed from the outside, he was surrounded by men of war of trouble inside.

She estimated 10 to 15 in the police and a half-dozen provincial police officers, machine guns and shotguns, surrounded the house.

Two hours later the employee inside, who was unidentified, called her husband and called police.

city constable in being the third since the New Year. Police have charged Jan James Peterson, 25, of Toronto, with attempted murder. He was arrested in a car which struck a hydro pole about a mile from the scene of the shooting.

Police said he is in fair condition in hospital with sufficient wounds which damaged his jaw, tongue, nose and teeth bones. A 40-calibre bullet entered his chest.

Constable Burridge said the shooting happened when Constable Smith stopped his car for a traffic violation about 1,000 feet from the police station.

The constable was hit on the right side of the leg, he said.

"I was wounded with glass from the window. And the bullet hit my leg," he said.

There was a sudden rush of blood and then a slight burst of sweat from my neck and face," he said.

Doctors removed three of the bullet wounds which are being treated.

The "wound took the front of the face—how much it hurt, I don't know," he said.

Constable Smith said he was not hurt. He was driving home in Constable Smith's car after going off duty, he said.

KLONDIKE CUT-UPS
Klonkide Night at Ben Blecker Amphitheatre Saturday didn't attract many costume gauds, but at least two men got into the swing of Winter Carnival festivities. They were John Blum and his "lady," said Alcorn. The Klondike Club of Belleville sponsored the dance, that also featured a board-gaming contest. For carnival stories, see Page 2.

HEATH WANTS U.S. AID
WASHINGTON (Reuters) — British Prime Minister Heath said in a television interview Sunday that West European security would be threatened if the United States withdrew all its nuclear military presence.

Heath said that America was becoming isolationist, withdrawing its troops. He said he was no longer interested in world affairs. He said in the interview on BBC's Most of the Prime Minister's speech.

MURDER SUSPECT HELD
BELLERCA, Mass. (Reuters) — Police investigating the murders of six girls are holding a suspect in New Brunswick, Canada, who is believed to be the killer of three of the victims, a police source said today.

The male body of a 19-year-old Canadian was found in a ditch near the scene of the murders. The police source said the suspect was held in New Brunswick.

KLONDIKE CUT-UPS
Klonkide Night at Ben Blecker Amphitheatre Saturday didn't attract many costume gauds, but at least two men got into the swing of Winter Carnival festivities. They were John Blum and his "lady," said Alcorn. The Klondike Club of Belleville sponsored the dance, that also featured a board-gaming contest. For carnival stories, see Page 2.

Hovercraft Steals Zwick's Show

Like a resounding vacuum cleaner to suck a crowd into the Rogers II hovercraft was the unannounced star of the Zwick's Island show for Winter Carnival Sunday.

The hovercraft, the conditions on the Bay of Quinte and the fact of snow which had cancelled out most other outdoor activities, were no hindrance for the fast sailing, noisy, cushioned (ACTV) driven hovercraft. The hovercraft was provided by Bill Warren, vice-president, MCT Industries Ltd., of all Canadian, Ontario-based ACTV manufacturing company.

Store Looted

Three store clerks of Zwick's Island were taken to the hospital during a break-in at Sunday on early Sunday morning.

When the owners arrived for work, they found the store's front door had been forced open.

Students Said Unable To Handle Our Language

"We are revealing students' lack of ability to handle our language."

This is the theme of another broadcast from the Secondary School Teacher's Association of Ontario.

Mr. Deacon's recent broadcast is the second of his campaign to "show the quality of education in this province."

"Students," contends Mr. Deacon, "have been receiving less training in effective use of language and in a disciplined approach to work than was true in the past."

It is a disconcerting fact that high schools receive many students who cannot read, at or close to their grade level, and who are actually incapable of reading at all. Similarly, high schools receive students who often are incapable of writing a complete sentence, even an ungrammatical one. Some of these students cannot even recognize a complete sentence of the very simplest nature when they are shown it."

Mr. Deacon's comments came at a time when many secondary institutions and educators are complaining about the poor knowledge of English exhibited by high school graduates.

Two universities, Waterloo and Guelph, have reported that many high school students in English for students entering the faculty of arts at their institutions.

The fact, contends Mr. Deacon, lies in minority of education.

High school graduates, he says, perform badly in English because the language is not stressed in school. The fact is that "20-cent" changes brought in by the majority of education.

Public now enter elementary schools with a better vocabulary than ever but they don't know how to put words together to work.

"Few (students) ever gain understanding of the structure of the language (or) the meaning," says Mr. Deacon.

He advocates the introduction of Latin at the grade 7 level "to help with the learning of the language."

He also advocates the introduction of French and second language skills must be taught.

"Discipline must be the decision," "Discipline must be the decision."

Dock Washrooms Lose in Committee

DECISION - Town council has decided not to spend $100,000 for construction of dock washrooms at the government dock.

A report of committee of the whole, to be presented tonight to town council, says that because of potential vandalism problems, the idea should be scrapped. This is the recommendation of the administrative board.

When the project was proposed during the Jan. 22 council meeting, some concern was registered that the facilities were being specifically designed for summer housing.

Hot NHL Teams Continue Pace

By IAN MACLACHLAN

Canadian Press Staff Writer
New York Rangers, Chicago Blackhawks and Philadelphia Flyers continued unbeaten streaks in the National Hockey League last night as the Rangers won the "warmer" game to advance to the second round of the playoffs.

The Rangers won their eighth straight and stretched their unbeaten streak to 37 by beating Atlanta Flames 6-0 Sunday night. The Flyers won their 11th straight by dropping St. Louis 4-1. The Blackhawks won their 11th straight by dropping St. Louis 4-1.

And Gordon, playing his home role, led the home team to a 5-1 win over Pittsburgh in a repeat of a 5-1 win to the Penguins last night.

Elsewhere, Buffalo Sabres trimmed New York Islanders to a one-goal game at Buffalo. Detroit Red Wings routed the Vancouver Canucks and Montreal Canadiens maintained a four-goal lead over the Stars with a 6-1 victory over California Golden Seals.

In other Saturday games, the Oilers won their 19th straight game at Buffalo. Detroit Red Wings routed the Vancouver Canucks and Montreal Canadiens maintained a four-goal lead over the Stars with a 6-1 victory over California Golden Seals.

Rich Get Richer In Jr. 'A' Hockey

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The rich get richer and the poor get poorer, with one exception, in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A league on the weekend.

The leading Toronto Marlboros reaped in a 6-2 victory over Kitchener Rangers Sunday and second place Peterborough Petes thrashed Sudbury Wolves 10-1 at Peterborough in the only game Saturday.

In other Sunday contests, northwestern London Knights defeated third-place Ottawa 6-1, St. Catharines Black Hawks topped Sudbury 6-4 and Ottawa Generals beat the visiting St. John's Maple Leafs 5-2.

Paula Burdette and Bruce Braden each scored three goals before 1,100 fans at Maple Leaf Gardens to give the Marlboros, who maintained their 1-1-3 record in the spread over Peterborough. Other Toronto scorers were Glen Goshko, Peter Marini and Paul Conway. Frank Davis and Les Bynum scored for Kitchener, now 7-0, in their ninth place.

Rick Chalmers and Bob Galley were two-goal men for the Petes who extended their winning streak to nine games in row. Singles went to Jim Johnson, Fred Price, Colin Campbell, Mike Fyfe, Bob Hasty and Stan Jonathan.

The first goal of the game at Peterborough was scored by Wolves' Martin Thane. The seventh-place Sudbury team came closer at St. Catharines as the Wolves rallied after trailing 6-1.

Left-winger Bob MacInnes scored four goals for St. Catharines. Rick Johnson and Jeff Jacques had singles. Thane scored 38 last year.

Don Silling with two goals, Bill Louden and Goldie Teresi completed the Ottawa scoring, while John Campbell, Marc Melnyk and Don Gagnon collected for the Leafs.

The Knights, playing before 1,000 fans in London, got off to a fast start with two goals in the first five minutes. The win, however, the team's position in fourth place.

CP News Roundup Macdonald Won't Pool Resources

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada is not interested in pooling resources with the United States for a continental energy policy, Energy Minister Donald Macdonald said Sunday.

In a two-hour CBC radio program, Cross-Country Checkmate, the energy minister said later on Sunday that he and the United States has surplus to meet its own needs.

However, Canada has reached a situation where it may not export as much gas and may not be able to import its full share of oil.

The future is broad and uncertain as well as the energy picture from several steps and the West will be looking for Canadian call in debating the issue.

Stalin Inspired

MOSCOW (REUTERS) — Just a month before the 20th anniversary of Joseph Stalin's death on March 5, a new Soviet novel about the Russian dictator has become a best-seller.

The syndicated issue is the subject of Stalin—many of the critics call it a whitewash—of the life of the former premier.

But the novel, which appears to be an official sanction, does not show that it portrays the country's most controversial figure as, privately, a lonely man striving to come to terms with his mistakes.

Spending Programs Inspected

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal Liberal government will come under concerted attack this week as it finds itself in the uncomfortable position of having to give opposition parties as much time as they want to criticize its spending program.

The Commons was to start the week with a debate on a government bill to remove the ceiling on the amount of money the treasury can advance to the Unemployment Insurance Commission (UIC).

After getting that, following predictably strong Progressive Conservative opposition, the government will ask the House for approval of spending bill.

Richards Backs West About Gas

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister James Richardson has aligned himself with Alberta in the skirmish with Ontario over raising natural gas prices.

Mr. Richardson, one of the Westerners in the federal cabinet, was interviewed on the CTV television program Question Period for broadcast Sunday.

The minister represents Ontario in riding of Winnipeg South.

The wrangle between the two provinces has threatened to escalate to full-scale war in recent months as various parties chose sides.

A Winter's Tale?

It's surprising what a man can find in a locked park in mid-winter. City parks department worker Norman Allin pauses a moment in Corby Park to scan paperwork—some of an annual muster among junked items he came across during cleanup. How and why they got there at the coldest time of year, where the park is closed in winter months, is unknown.

Increase in Unemployed Slows During January

OTTAWA (CP) — Estimates of actual unemployment took a jump in January over December, but the modification of the preliminary showed some improvement. Statistics Canada reported today.

The estimate of 10.1 per cent, 77 per cent of the labor force, was the lowest since January 1972, when it was 10.5 per cent. The estimate for December was 10.3 per cent.

TORONTO (CP) — Colorful comfort just about sums up swimwear for summer of 1972.

The colors will be bright, with emphasis on pinks, oranges, blues and greens, says Helen Sekell, women's swimwear buyer for Eaton's. Lots of all sizes will be fashionable as for all summer clothes.

The comfort aspect applies both in and out of the water, with the soft, unconstructed look providing easy wearabil-

Th tyles ran the gamut from the briefest bikinis to more sedate two-piece and one-piece suits. Lace and voile cover-ups in long and short styles veiled the suits. Long halter dresses and palazzo pants with halter tops coordinated the other suits.

Newest trend will be the one-piece mid leg suit and the brief bikinis — both best suited to the young figure. But in all styles the skirted look will be prominent this year. Backless suits will also be more apparent on the beaches.

Necklines follow the general trends, with the halter and double spaghetti straps leading the way. The newest shapes in bikini bras are the triangular and sliding bras. The "no bra" and softline bras will be most popular in Lycra blends lead the way in fabrics, but they will also be lightweight and fast drying — stretch rayon, polyesters, acrylics and nylon jerseys.

Ann Landers

'Subtle Blackmail' Used To Travel and Mature

Dear Ann Landers: Our 30-school, let me tell you that in the middle of the year she agrees to return to school in very bad weather to travel and the fall and puts in a productive nature, so that when she re-year you might consider giving travel to college she will be able to have a summer trip as a bonus.

I say "Rahow!" The girl has expect their children to be an excellent mind but she has delicate and polite when they moved off, started up all right, themselves demonstrate such sleep all day, missed classes, rudeness and poor manner? I feel failed in almost every way, refer to two mothers of grade-junior, her best friend refuses to school youngsters who take with her next year. Our turns driving in a car pool. Our daughter goes to the school. I am awakened every morning and has also put the touch on leg at 8:15 by this. Her brother, her grandmother, her brother or a series of things from a Chrysler or a series of things from a Chrysler or a series of things from a Chrysler.

My husband and I are not. And don't tell me that's not healthy. We work long hours. I work from midnight to 6 a.m. have other children to educate. Both these women begin to go long as our daughter started late on the horn as soon as the college we felt an obligation turn the corner. If the school support her. Now that she or making they turn into has landed up in school. I don't drive which separates our business we own, her school house from the neighbor's and I got this shock treatment right.

My husband feels I should not be in bed with my husband. So along with her or we might. When children are I hope you see her for god. I believe she picked up they should be in a subtle blackmail. He reads from, waiting for the car to pull into your column and thinks up. Don't let us speak to her. So on an escape hatch she can also work from midnight till four I would responsibility and do her woman's can be helped. When that is a person. Tell of bed at 8:15. Or let a her last funds are available for how this letter does your good.

Mischief of Your Mind

by JOHN CORNWELL

Do children welcome permissiveness?

NOT as much as you would think after comparing permissively raised children with those brought up under strict rules. Perhaps it is because our permissive parents misconstrued that they have discharged their obligation to their children by giving them their "best." Here disciplinarian parents, on the other hand, often use extreme expressions of love in try to soften the child they impose on their children.

Will a happy wife ever get angry?

CERTAINLY, even if she is provoked by the person she is usually happiest with her husband, the very fact that a wife or a husband believes she or he can hand off and express that anger is a positive sign that the marriage is healthy. There is no sense denying that anger is a necessary human emotion, and it is a wife's confidence that she can "let it out" when she has it, just shows how happy she is in the marriage.

Is unbelief to worry?

INDIRECTLY, worrying does one person to become nervous physically, and it certainly doesn't do his mental health good in the long run. It is not a mental illness. Yet, in the end, perhaps it takes a poet to say in just about worrying's effect. Robert Frost, in a poem called "The Road Not Taken," says: "I shall be telling myself that I have made the best of all possible worlds." (Copyrighted Literature). That's the reason why you kids more people who work in that more people worry than we.

Successful Living
Don't Hit A Child . . .
Isolate Him - He'll Learn

by DONALD CLARK

Physical punishment is an ancient way of bringing about obedience in any child. Perhaps there are times when a hand span can jar a little rebellious child into a more judiciously. But if the punishment is excessive and continues to be better.

Isolation - being sent to his room until he can think things over and come out ready to give out more obedient and type behavior - is usually effective. Especially if the child knows the parent that he is being sent to his room and he is being sent to his room.

Is beating an unexcusable, self-worth, sooner or later a child knows his own feeling of self-worth and may indeed develop a chronic sense of worth that is not really worth while.

It is better to be unexcusable, self-worth, sooner or later a child knows his own feeling of self-worth and may indeed develop a chronic sense of worth that is not really worth while.

Dear David: I am a teacher and my present job is managing the library in an elementary school.

I am concerned about good students who are being sent to the library. Many of these good students are being sent to the library because of discipline. They are sent to the library for not listening to the teacher, for not following the rules, for not doing their work, for not being on time, for not being on time, for not being on time.

Would you please send me your booklet, "Children With Learning Disabilities: In the Large Division I am an ending I am also enclosing 20 cents a stamp. -Teacher to the Library.

Routes for the two proposed bridges planned by the Pinnacle Traffic Commission in the downtown area have been approved by the city council traffic committee.

The recommendations for construction of a new bridge over the river at the north end of Pinnacle Street and an overpass over the double tracks east of the present Canadian Road level crossing will now go to city council for ratification.

Decision on the two routes was made by a 10-4 vote Monday of the traffic committee and city council members. Both projects have been under consideration since the inception of the north-west urban study which was done by consultants Tolson, Sims and Hamilton, who submitted several alternate routes for the two projects.

The recommendation for the Pinnacle Street route is for a new bridge over the river at the north end of Pinnacle Street and the Highway 57 intersection.

The bridge would be a single span bridge with a slight rise in the middle. It would be 100 feet long and 20 feet wide.

The plan would see the intersection of the river and the highway at a grade level. The bridge would be 100 feet long and 20 feet wide.

HALF-HINT

DICK CROFT

YOU WISHED FOR DINK, DIDN'T YOU?

I DON'T RECALL ANYTHING ABOUT RECEIVING YOU!

I'VE GOTTEN MUCH OF A CHARACTER FOR GIVING THINGS.

SPECIAL DELIVERY! DIDN'T SAY I'D POWER IT?

MR. AHERBATH

WHAT'S WRONG WITH YOUR TV SET?

To Your Good Health
Syringe of Air
Not Often Fatal

By G. C. THOMPSON, D.Dear Dr. Thompson: I've been reading a paperback novel about a nurse who by mistake gave a patient a dose of air instead of medicine. The patient died in a few minutes. Now is this true or is it fiction?

Put it out to fiction—with a small trace of factual possibility. R. Mahan, a domestic story line.

There is such a thing as an "ate embolism," that is, a bubble of air that enters the blood stream depending on where it lodges and how big it is, cause a stoppage.

Small it is second nature to make sure there are no visible bubbles before a needle is ever inserted. As for the "ate embolism" it is a very rare occurrence.

No, let's put that fiction accident down for what it is. Fiction.

Dear Dr. Thompson: I saw what you wrote about Impetigo which helped stop bed-wetting.

I'm 14 and have been wetting everything all my life. I've tried everything and nothing has worked. I have a lot of money every week but I didn't wet the bed. They tried cutting down on my fluids. This

the body sends by that artery.

If, by some error, the curve's accidently too subtle to go on, instead of the heart or some critical point in the central circulation arries, then the story would be possible.

But of this I can assure you:
there are more reliable ways to a cure than the one that appears in fiction. You see,
I read a paperback novel and then, . . .

— I found fact: I've lots of air in my lungs.

The drug is imprudent by its very nature. It's a

I would still work the bed.
A friend told me to take it very carefully, but that wouldn't be help. Anything
I'm not work and I'll soon be 15 and things aren't getting back to normal.

It was some way that I would help, because I've tried to get the drug out of my system. I want to tell what this needless contains and how I could receive or purchase it. —

The drug is imprudent by its very nature. It's a cause no trouble. Larger bubbles may occur from severe illness, but they are a common illness of divers.—The bends.

There are certain things very wrong about the fictional story, though. Just don't fit with the way things really happen. For one, the name wouldn't be in brackets. It would be in the text. She must, however, have been injected into a vein.

And in venous injections, it is drilled into arteries (and doctors drochloride, one of several drugs occasionally used to treat people who don't sleep, but who are not sleeping because of the bends).—The bends.

You mentioned several things that were wrong about the fictional story. Let me give you a little more information: you said that the doctor was a physicist. I've never heard of a doctor examining you to see whether you are a physicist or not. I've never heard of a doctor examining the trouble. That sometimes is the case, and then the ordinary methods just aren't going to help.

Opening lead — Four of diamonds.

There is often considerable gamework during the play trick set.

Declarer wins your diamond lead with the ace and plays the ♠ heart to the queen. ♠ King then and there it's easy to go wrong. If you take the ace and play the ♠ partner's presumed ace, you wind up behind the eight bars.

Declarer would win this hand, drive trump, and make the contract.

You could play that East was not going to have the ♠ ace and then the club ace, but that would not be a good

All the same, a good card player doesn't subject himself to a game if he can avoid it. The man I met would play the next time, as well as the next; in short, whenever he has to, but his chief strategy-trick is a talent for delegating gamblers and solving his problems by other — and safer reliable — means.

Liberals Face Defeat To Get And For Its

OTTAWA (CP) — The life of the minority Liberal government appeared threatened Tuesday following Prime Minister John Turner's statement in the Commons that the government will go ahead with legislation to raise tax cuts and other concessions to corporations.

Minutes later Conservative Leader Joe Stinson indicated strongly to reporters his party would join the New Democrats in voting against such a bill.

Details of the tax cuts would be inevitable in such circumstances, and failure of the government to get parliamentary approval of a budget bill could lead to its resignation.

Standing in the 36-seat Commons is Liberal 100, Conservative 107, NDP 31, Social Credit 15, Independents 7.

This political shambles, which could come later this month, followed a possibility after Mr. Turner told the House that he would bring down the government on March 13.

That's the end of the May 1973 election, about the time the PC-Unionist vote, referred to as the "Unionist vote," is expected to be given the government.

Mr. Turner said the tax cuts, due to effect Jan. 1, will help Canadian industry to "pierce and take advantage of a very competitive world."

Outside the Commons, Mr. Stinson said he would not support the government's measures were not enough to have the desired effect.

Both Mr. Lewis and Mr. Stinson said Tuesday they also look for big cuts in personal income taxes.

The question now is how the Liberal government will vote the corporation tax cuts before the Commons.

It has been that the government could bring in increased pensions for the aged and personal income tax cuts.

Income tax cuts in the same bill with increases in business taxes.

It was suggested by Mr. Lewis that a procedure would draw NDP support.

Mr. Lewis said he would not answer hypothetical questions nor would he commit NDP members without consultation.

He conceded an anomaly but a possibility since "one should not underestimate the ingenuity of man."

Ulster Protestants Heed Strike Call

BELFAST (CP) — A 24-hour general strike, called by a show of Protestant militancy and enforced by threats, paralyzed Northern Ireland today.

Labor unions claimed that only 500 out of the 60,000 work force reported for work.

The stopped transport, closed shops, newspapers and shops and his milk and bread supplies.

The strike was planned to protest the detention of two Protestants after a Belfast grenade attack on a hotel in Belfast.

Money for Unemployed Approved by Commons

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons voted to give the Unemployment Insurance Commission money Tuesday night, just 34 hours before the debate would have drained the CIO account and threatened to halt payments to the jobless.

Legislation creating the government to make all necessary contributions to the account was approved by a vote of 36 to 19 with three Conservatives voting against the bill.

New Democratic and Social Credit members also voted with the government while John L. La Follette (Ind.-Idaho) joined the Conservatives in opposing the legislation.

There are 389 Liberals, 197 Conservatives, 11 New Democrats, 15 Social Crediters and two Independents in the 500-member House.

Conservative members were absent and Speaker Louis Lacombe did not vote.

During the debate the government warned that the CIO would run out of money by mid-October if parliamentary approval was withheld.

The legislation voted out the $800-million ceiling on government contributions to the unemployment insurance account.

Senate approval, required before the bill becomes law, is expected to be granted sometime in the upper chamber next week, a P.M. 227. The Liberal bill, a commanding Senate majority.

The government introduced the legislation after the cabinet was forced last fall, because of high unemployment, to pass two government bills, guaranteeing $400 million to cover losses over and above the $800 million ceiling.

The unemployment insurance program is paid to pay for half out of employer-contributions up to a jobless worker of four per cent. Beyond that, the government picks up the bill. The vote, seasonally adjusted, was 6.1 per cent in January.

Conservative members said they opposed the legislation because the government have just argued the CIO was needed for the money.

Because of this, they said, the government acted illegally by introducing the bill.

The action violated the $800-million ceiling set by an act of Parliament, they argued.

The government said the work was passed in accordance with strict conditions laid down by the Financial Administration Act. It argued that the Unemployment Insurance Act, requiring benefits to be paid, took precedence over legislation not giving the ceiling on contributions.

New Democratic and Social Credit MPs agreed with the government that the central issue was the payment of benefits and nothing must be done to jeopardize those depending on CIO cheques for a living.

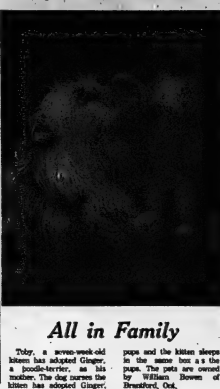

John Lacombe (CPC-Grover, Williams), one of the three Conservatives who voted for the bill, said a similar stance in the coming week would mean persons were required by the act, he said.

Mr. Lacombe, Harry Carter (CPC-St. John's West) and Robert Muir (CPC-Cape Breton) were the only three Conservatives who approved from government.

New Democrats and Social Credit members when they rose to vote for the bill.

Mr. Carter later said he voted in favor because the people in the riding "couldn't give up" about the local hotel, which had been closed for some time.

Mr. Muir said he could not vote against any measure that would destroy the conditions of the bill.

Food Prices Must Rise To Aid Farmer--Whelan

OTTAWA (CP) — Grocery prices must climb above their current level if farmers are to catch up economically with the rest of Canada, Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan said Tuesday.

And he left no doubt in the minds of the 10 farm leaders gathered at the Canadian Federation of Agriculture annual meeting that he thinks food costs should go up.

"It's high time that farmers get a better deal in our country's economy. We have steadily continued to apologize for the fact that we have not done so," the minister said.

Mr. Whelan said the government would raise food prices through the recently introduced Food Control Act.

The last time farmers Canada made a freeze on food prices which would reduce prices by 10 per cent. "They have been catching up to the rest of our society and economy," he said.

The group, which represents all of Canada's 80,000 farmers, was one of another through the C.P.A.'s 15-member organization, responded with approval and enthusiasm.

"That's the kind of talk I've wanted to hear from a minister of agriculture for a long time," said president Gordon Hill of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. Farmers should get the effective and demand paid prices for their stock, he said.

He reinforced statements by a wider number of his colleagues, Hattie Donohue of Ontario, H.H. McLean, N.E. the industry's eastern women's representative, who agreed farmers had nothing to be ashamed of in respect to high food costs.

Mr. Whelan's comments, and others earlier by C.P.A. President Charles Murray, drew particular notice from the recently introduced Food Control Act.

Mr. Whelan said he would like the committee how farmers had improved their efficiency and productivity, while their prices had not kept pace with the rest of the economy.

He rejected out-of-hand what he said will be a committee suggestion to freeze farm product prices.

Such a freeze would encourage farmers to stop producing, he said.

Mr. Whelan said, "A huge source of export income would be cut off if farmers were denied almost of money."

Added, other countries would be able to buy our food at a lower price than we could sell it for.

"There are just three reasons why I think the committee would be wise to begin recommending a price freeze for farm products," he said.

The C.P.A. passed a resolution only hours earlier calling for wage and price controls to help farmers. It said such controls should have room for farmers to have income "in reasonable relationship" to the rest of the economy.

Mr. Murray, said the Commons committee would find no value in the idea of freezing the prices of foodstuffs because the losses involved were not in the nature of an inflated economy in general.

"The issues are those of the production and benefits of production, the problem of the over the distribution of income, the problem of the distribution of income, the problem of the distribution of income, the problem of the distribution of income."

Chinese Fabrics Make Fashion News

ROME (Market) — Fashionable women may soon be wearing fabrics made in mainland China.

Italian silk manufacturers have turned to mainland China for silk, polyester, damask and shantung from China to Italian costume houses that make Chinese fabrics.

The fabrics are being used for a wide range of apparel, as well as for women's gowns now on view in the Italian spring and summer fashion shows here.

They are known as "Lace, Dye, Chant, Lingerie and other fabric from China," said a spokesman for the Italian fashion industry.

C is a result of an international agreement between the Chinese and Italian governments.

TORONTO (CP) — Student beer drinking has increased in the last year, says an Addiction Research Council survey.

More than 8,000 people were surveyed in a survey of more than 8,000 people. The survey found that the number of people who drank beer had increased in the last year.

"Life to me is funny, real humorous," he said at a luncheon here. He was celebrating the completion of his most recent film, Pete 'n' Tillie, in which he and Carol Burnett star.

"I don't know why, but life seems to make me laugh most of the time now. I try to have

Now 32, although he could easily pass for an athletic 40, Walzer reached the peak after a long apprenticeship in both living and acting.

After earning his basic salary as a serial radian and bomber gunner overseas during the Second World War, he worked his way through acting school working as a floor scrubber and cement finisher.

He still tends to think of himself as a character actor rather than a star, and likes to play serious as well as funny films or shows.

"My only preference is less good roles," he explained. "I can be about anything, anytime, anywhere."

"It became an actor because I like to act. I'm good at it and I make a lot of money out of it. What would I be if I wasn't an actor? Dead probably."

Here are Walter's likes:

"Horses that come in first ... spelling tests with people I meet while travelling ... girls, both before and after the show ... the grove me a tremendous feeling of security ...

And here are his disciples:

"There is so much work y to be done in Egypt," he said.

There are thousands of monuments yet to be published.

"There are literally acres of texts that have never been properly dealt with."

He said he is becoming increasingly intrigued by the Egyptians' administrative texts.

The Egyptians operated an all-pervasive bureaucracy. They were the first to keep papers as they recorded every transaction in several copies.

Dr. Mueller moved from East Germany to West Germany, held positions in several German universities, worked as a guide for tourists in Egypt, and then joined the United States prior to coming to Louisiana.

He is chairman of the special projects committee of the Toronto-based Society for the Study of Egyptian Antiquities.

Railroads' Old Relics Bringing Good Prices

MONTREAL (CP) — Private communications facilities, such as the country to highways in the real, Canada's major railways have moved into the nation's business and are finding a popularity.

Both Canadian National and Canadian Pacific have announced with directors' cars two new more up to display and sell the first phase of a vast stock of old and immovable from the golden age of passenger trains, hotels, steamships and other transportation facilities.

Encouraged by a good public reaction to their first offering, the railways opened auctioneers to their stations in downtown Montreal last summer.

Monitors, responsible by buying everything from books, records, furniture, paintings, tapestries, chandeliers, flower boxes to reproduction paintings and prints.

On the other hand, the railway's general manager of Canadian Pacific's special projects

Management gave him the right to March and, with the feature, the small shop opened of the main corner of Central Station in mid-June, several weeks before CP's shop was opened.

Mr. Lowe, who, unlike his old friend Mr. Lavelle, has no full-time assistants, is aided by the success of the shop.

"We had started collecting by guess because we didn't know what else to do with them. We were always sorry to see things go for them. Then we decided to sell them. Why not?"

J. Lawrence Lowe, a public relations officer with CN for 11 years and now head of the railway's special projects staff, started the idea of a company shop last January.

HAMILTON, Bermuda (CP)—A massive bid—the biggest ever mounted—to find out more about the sea is to be centred on the Bermuda Biological Station.

Six oceanographic ships, an aircraft, about 40 scientists and 300 technicians will combine in a quarter-million-dollar-plus experiment called MODE—Mid Ocean Dynamic Experiment.

"No one has ever tried anything on this scale before," said Dr. Conrad Gebelken, the station's deputy director. "It is arousing great interest in scientific circles."

In Britain. The British National Institute of Oceanography with its ship Discovery is to take part.

The American institutions are the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute, the Bedford Marine Laboratory at Duke University, the Institute of Marine Science at the University of Miami, the department of oceanography at the University of Rhode Island and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"The project grew out of a meeting of minds—people who wanted to know what the ocean is doing," Dr. Gebelstein Bermuda's position makes it an ideal land base for the scientists.

"We expect they will find some fairly fascinating things," Dr. Goebel said. "The Gulf Stream splits into small currents carrying their own flora and fauna, so you get displaced animals and plants where you would not expect to find them."

More knowledge about these currents might also help shipping to plot routes which use the currents, rather than go

When the five-mission project ends in July the scientists hope to know considerably more about such things as currents and the effects of air on the sea and vice versa—information which might prove valuable to weather predicting and shipping as well as add a lot to man's general knowledge of the oceans and what makes them work.

The experiment is a co-operative effort among five American institutions and one

"The basic idea is to look at a fairly small area of the open ocean in a very intensive way for a long period. No one has ever documented the sort of information that would be obtained during the experiment."

The ships and aircraft will use Bermuda as a base for study of an area between 200 and 300 miles southwest of the island. The area's position near the Gulf Stream and Sar-

The aircraft will monitor air currents and drop sophisticated electronic sea current monitors which will send back signals from different ocean depths.

Information from the ships and the aircraft will be radioed into the biological station every day for immediate processing and analysis by a resident staff of up to a dozen scientists.

Job Applications Up in January

A sudden surge in the number of women registered for work has jolted jobless totals upwards in the Belleville area.

At the end of January there were 2,182 people registered as job-seekers at the Belleville Canada Manpower Centre — an increase of nearly 400 over the 1,822 at the close of December.

In January, 1972, there were 1,443 applicants for work at the Belleville Manpower office — which covers an area including the city, Ameliasburgh township and all Hast-

H. W. Karn, Belleville Manpower manager, admitted excitement over statistics that showed 438 men registered for work in the contracting trades, compared to 220 at the end of December — up slightly more than 300.

"Building is supposed to be booming (in the city area)," said Mr. Karn. "I don't know where these people are coming from."

Some 60 carpenters registered for work during January, an "unusually high" number for this time of year, he said.

The latest statistics show little increase in the number of men seeking work — 1,205 compared to 1,155 at the end of December. But there were 990 women registered, compared to 647 during the same months.

Manpower officials believe the sudden statistical soar can be mainly traced to one source: A leading city industry which sent Manpower an order in January for a "fair number" of women employees for a specific project.

The Manpower manager also felt recently - launched incentive programs — including Local Initiatives Program and On-The-Job-Training — may have created jobs that have not yet shown up in statistics.

Other contributing factors cited were the post-Christmas seasonal layoffs and shutdown of a downtown retailer, Zeitlers.

What has Manpower officials more puzzled is a big jump in applicants for work in construction.

House, Senate Bugged Down

OTTAWA (CP) — Government legislation bogged down in both the Commons and the Senate Wednesday as Conservative "127s" sparked a lengthy argument and members complained they were being asked to rubber stamp a bill approved earlier by the Commons.

The Commons introduced on Tuesday morning a bill to amend the Criminal Code and the Criminal Procedure Act. The bill would allow a judge to order a person charged with a crime to be held in custody for a period of 14 days before a trial. The bill would also allow a judge to order a person charged with a crime to be held in custody for a period of 14 days before a trial.

Labor Force Growth To Out-distance Jobs

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister John Turner told the Commons Wednesday that labor force expansion will out-distance job creation in Canada for the next two or three years.

He said he expects this to occur in spite of the "very noticeable" effects of the government's efforts to reduce unemployment.

Lewis Believes Canadians Getting Better Government

TORONTO (CP) — New Democratic Party member of Parliament Lewis said a considerable impact on proposed government legislation since the Oct. 30 election. He cited tougher regulations on foreign investment, expanded measures to assist homebuyers, increased child-protection, establishment of a Commons committee to study food prices and energy shortages.

Mr. Lewis forecast most of his speech to proposed government measures to lighten the unemployment insurance program, having the legislation been government and give it a voting majority in the Commons is a possibility.

"Yet the proposed amendments would have laid upon the rights and would unfairly penalize the class in poverty who are the innocent victims of unemployment and are badly and ineptly assisted by the state."

Ontario's PCs Meeting Today

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Progressive Conservative Party begins its annual meeting today with about 1,000 delegates and alternates paying up to $10 to attend the event.

The meeting is being held at the Sheraton Hotel in Toronto. It is designed as a political extravaganza for members who have been without an annual meeting since 1980. The 1979 meeting was postponed because of the impending departure of Premier John Robarts, who held it in 1971 because of the provincial election, and dropped last year because of the federal election.

Auto Workers Want Profit-sharing Plan

NEW ORLEANS, LA. (AP) — United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock said Wednesday for a profit-sharing plan with the largest American automakers unless they reduce their monthly profit target and their price to the consumer.

Auto Workers Want Profit-sharing Plan

Woodcock's proposal came in an address to nearly 1,200 delegates at the union's 10th annual convention in New Orleans. He said the union would not accept profit-sharing with the automakers unless they reduce their monthly profit target and their price to the consumer.

Woodcock said the union had proposed profit-sharing with the automakers "in a very serious way" since 1968. An agreement with the automakers would mean a profit-sharing plan to which American Motors agreed in 1967.

Further Delay Possible In Air-pollution Suit

WINNIPEG, ONT. (CP) — This week's decision by the Ontario court could take place if an appeal of the decision is granted. The three companies are: Great Lakes Steel, Allied Chemical, and Duffell & Edman.

Italian Judges Now Able To Grant Bail Equivalent

By VICTOR L. SIMPSON
ROME (AP) — Italian judges now have the power to grant bail equivalent to the American system, according to a new law passed by the Italian parliament.

The law allows judges to grant bail to persons accused of crimes, but only if the person is not considered a flight risk. The law also allows judges to grant bail to persons accused of crimes, but only if the person is not considered a flight risk.

Hundreds of motorists, including foreigners, have spent months in jail as a result of automobile accidents before a court has ruled there was no crime at all.

According to lawyers, the case of "Radio" young Vagabond immigrant, illustrates the plight of an innocent person held by a justice system indifferent to justice.

Police arrested Radone on a street last May 15, six days after he came to live in Italy for a job in the movie industry. He was charged with stealing a wallet containing 20 lire—the equivalent of 4 cents.

Radone spent 10 days in prison before being brought to the lawyer arranged for him by a friend. The first time the judge was on the stand, the next time on a Friday and the police was arrested, everyone having left early for the week-end. The third time the court was on the stand.

Finally, after six months in jail, Radone was released. He was able to be released because he was charged with a misdemeanor.

Gauvin Dreams of Peace But Then Works for It

SAIGON (AP) — Michel Gauvin, the first chairman of Viêt Nam's international peacekeeping force, combines the Old World charm of his native Quebec with a seasoned diplomat's hard-headed approach to peace at any time.

He is an optimist who dreams of peace, but a pragmatist in working to achieve it. He is optimistic in English and French.

Almost from the moment of ceasefire 18 days ago, Ambassador Gauvin has been the prime mover and deer in the International Commission of Control and Supervision, the task is a hurry to get prisoner exchanges started and observation teams into the field.

With the help of Indonesia,

Gauvin persuaded Poland and Hungary, the other countries on the international body that they could get rolling even while waiting for Viet Cong and North Vietnamese to join Americans and South Vietnamese in the Joint Military Commission in organizing transportation and security in the countryside.

"There were two distinct philosophies at the beginning," Gauvin said Wednesday in an interview. "One was the technical argument that the commission could not act without the cooperation of all four signatories to the ceasefire agreement."

The other was the approach of practicality: That regardless of the fact that the Joint Military Commission was not yet working, certain steps could be taken, like setting up regional headquarters that would put us ahead when they were ready."

"It was a question of whether the commission could just deal with two parties of former belligerents instead of four. Canada stood on the side of practicality."

Gauvin declined to disclose which two countries decided on the hard technical line. But sources inside the Australian contingent indicated their chief delegate, Lt. Gen. Shannon, quickly lined up with Canada.

"If we had a war and that the world was withdrawn in 10 days if there is no solution, levy progress," post as Canada's ambassador to Greece, has stressed that if there is discussion in the commission were ceasefire violations, prisoner exchanges or any issue, Canada will file its minority report and tell the world why.

"We are not going to contribute to making this commission support for the sake of presenting a united front or for the sake of preserving the rule of unanimity," he said in the interview.

At the same time, he said, presented a formal bribe to the

Allmand Tells Police Parole Being Overhauled

OTTAWA (CP) — Solicitor general, some directors of the General Warden, the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police expressed readiness to accept abolition of capital punishment. However, that measure would be put away for long term.

Highrise Freeze Backed

A subordinate board of the Quinte Planning Board last night passed a recommendation in city hall that a holding bylaw be imposed on 5-10-acre parcels of downtown land to freeze the construction of a duplex larger than a duplex.

Theresa A. McKinnon, chairwoman of the board, said the holding bylaw would be in direct conflict with a report from a professional planning staff which was requested by the committee and city council last week.

Ald. Orr said he would consider in light of council of the holding situation, particularly in light of public opinion of "indiscriminate high-rise buildings."

The professional planners said they would not be able to take such development on its merits and make a decision rather than the decision being automatic according to the existing bylaw.

The recommendation will be made at the next city council meeting.

More Funds Available

Opportunities for Youth — the federal program creating employment opportunities for Canadian students — last year provided projects for the Quinte area on $450,000.

This year, almost $600,000 is available for the program, aimed at employing students in the region.

Some projects for 1974 include:

- (1) Applications must be in by March 15.
- (2) Forms, instruction sheets are available at the Quinte Power Centre.
- (3) Forms, instruction sheets are available at the Quinte Power Centre.
- (4) Maximum weekly wage is $10.00 for part-time, $15.00 for full-time.
- (5) Opportunity for summer jobs, part-time, results in employment, feasibility, internships, etc.

A highrise apartment complex, now under construction on South Front Street, may have broad appeal.

The presentation of the project, on behalf of Langstaffer Properties, was made by Bill White, who described the building as a nine-story structure with eight apartments on each floor.

The building is designed in a modern style, with a curved facade and a central atrium.

This development would be located on the old M. J. Schuster Coal Dock area and would consist of a parking area with a deck area.

A one-bedroom unit will cost between $12,000 and $15,000, while a three-bedroom unit would be in the range of $18,000 to $20,000.

Bill Hickey, who is in charge of the building, says he is not sure if the building will be built.

Coach Refutes Central Claims

Dear Sir: I would like to make a few facts re Central Tax pulling out of Quebec Hockey League, as your story of Friday, Feb. 7 would have many to believe that the Belleville Hockey Club is the villain. Do not get me wrong I am not saying we are little agents but we must certainly do not take any blame for Central pulling out, this must fall on Mr. Carmichael's shoulders. There are a few points to be considered regarding the incident: (1) The hockey game was over and the players were going to their dressing rooms. (2) Both teams were keyed up as this was the first game of the playoffs and the close-checking resulted in a much rougher game than usual. (3) What does Mr. Carmichael have to do with pulling out his hockey team? (4) We have played Central at least 12 games over the past 3 yrs. Does any rough game cause us to pull out of the league? (5) If this is so we would have no hockey in the world today. (6) If the players received a cut over the year this is very unfortunate, but in a contract sport this is possible and certainly not unusual. (7) Belleville Hockey players received in the same game: (1) cut one (high stick) had to go to hospital. (2) bad shoulder (result of checking). (3) have around neck (high sticking). (4) had bruise on thigh (checking). We are not considering we are not withdrawing. The Belleville team reported that Central Tax would want to pull out, as one game does not make a series. We also hope that this one incident does not stop other teams from joining the Quebec League in the future.

Producers Want More For Oil

LACQW (AP)—Here's good four-letter word to remember the next time you visit the coast of gasoline-pricing your pet.

The word is "OPEC," standing for the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, which recently wrapped up a two-day conference in this little sleepy West African capital.

OPEC made close to 11 million barrels, who produce more than 80 per cent of the world's oil and exports, intend to dig deeper into your wallet in coming years. But simply OPEC wants to get as much money as it can out of the developed, industrial nations of the world.

It's nothing personal, but OPEC represents oil-rich underdeveloped nations that want to become donors and grow prosperous like everyone else.

"They know they are still dependent on continued investment and export help from the developed world to get ahead, say oil experts here. So they want, as we put, 'til the golden goose,' but just fence it a little."

A major consideration that could temper the demands of OPEC nations would be the availability in developed nations of such resources or other forms of energy to replace oil.

But they are going to charge as much as possible for their oil, and, one way or another, ultimately plan to take over the foreign oil companies operating in their countries. Then they will have the last say on the supply of the world's most important source of energy.

So at the meeting here, they voiced support for Iraq, which aided foreign operations last summer.

And they moved closer to putting up a $20 billion fund to protect OPEC nations from possible possible measures by any oil companies upset with OPEC member policies.

OPEC members Libya, Iraq, Iran, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Abu Dhabi, Qatar, Algeria, Nigeria, Indonesia and Venezuela. Ecuador is expected to join up next year.

Bengalis Held Hostage For Pakistani Captives

RAWALPIND, Pakistan (Reuters)—The visit of United Nations Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim to the subcontinent in February has raised hopes here of a breakthrough in the still unresolved human consequences of the 1971 Indo-Pakistan war.

For Pakistan, this meant only one thing: Repatriation of the country's estimated 80,000 soldiers and civilians held captive in more than 30 Indian prisoner of war camps. Pakistan has released all the 600 or so Indians captured in the two-week conflict 14 months ago but has failed to obtain the release of the 80,000.

The government, a New York Times newspaper, Morning News, put it this way in an editorial: "The Indian attitude towards the release of the POWs stands in the way of return of normality in the subcontinent."

It added: "Similarly, the situation in this part of the world with new dangers as long as Bangladesh insists on the trial of the POWs. Such an action is bound to have serious repercussions in Pakistan."

Such repercussions may already have begun. Times reports say hundreds of Bengalis currently stranded in Pakistan are to be on trial soon on charges of treason and espionage.

Statistics are imprecise. The Pakistani government refuses to disclose exactly how many Bengalis still are in the country.

But the number is believed to be much less than the oft-quoted figure of 400,000. 50,000 communist-led Bengalis, non-government estimates, puts the figure at between 100,000 and 180,000. Even so, the number is diminishing daily as the warblers, Bengalis pay hundreds—sometimes thousands—of dollars to tribesmen to smuggle them through the Northwest Frontier to neighboring Afghanistan.

From the Afghan capital, Kabul, they fly to New Delhi and Decca. Local exit through arduous channels is banned for Bengalis.

That, those able to do so left all their possessions to pay the frontier tribesmen who know the smuggling routes and passes into Afghanistan.

About 60,000 Bengali personnel of the armed forces are also living in conditions of detention, disarmed and held in camps and garrisons in the frontier area.

In Islamabad, near Rawalpindi, about 7,000 Bengali—ex-civil servants and their families—still are living in their government houses but receive only a fraction of their former income.

They are the Bengalis who, asked by the government last summer whether they wished to serve in West Pakistan or East Pakistan, chose the latter.

The following month they were told of their dismissal because they had voted for Bangladesh.

But, most of the Bengalis stranded in Pakistan—about 179,000 of them—are stuck in the shanties of Karachi, the country's only port city.

Mohawks Reopen School As Cultural Institute

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP)—A Ontario Indian school has reopened here as a cultural center for 20,000 students in Ontario and Quebec. The center will provide information for and about Indians of Eastern Canada and will maintain a museum of the artifacts of their culture.

The Six Nations Indians own the property which was known as the Mohawk Institute, and until it closed three years ago it was a residential school for Indian youngsters from Eastern Canada.

The institute was closed and handed over to the Six Nations reserve by the federal government because of a drop in enrollment and its increase in educational facilities on provincial reserves.

Then came the federal white paper on Indians, proposing to make them all citizens of Canada. The white paper was opposed by the Association of Indians and Allied Indians, whose formation grew out of the federal document.

themselves and their history, grew up rapidly at that time.

Left with an empty and unused school facility, the Six Nations school board initiated a $11.50 study in 1971 on how best to use the site.

Then Thomas Hill, a member of the Six Nations band, who works for the department of Indian affairs in Ottawa, came up with the idea of such a center.

Kathie Lachert, 31-year-old of the chairman, was appointed director at $15,000 a year and began to put flesh on the bones of the idea.

Now the center has hired an administrative secretary, an individual-publisher, chief librarian, museum co-ordinator, a computer and a five-man maintenance staff.

The center has received a $25,000 endowment on a federal grant which Indian officials hope will eventually total $2 million.

Young Lachert says the center will become financially self-sustaining. But he figures it will not be easy.

"We have Indians are skeptical of this whole thing," he said in an interview. "We've got a lot of hard work to do."

In before we can convince them."

"It will be a place where Indian artifacts, historical documents and cultural resources will be stored, but where the main emphasis will be on education," he said.

His father looks at it from another angle: "It will be a museum containing all those different things which make up the cultures of all those different groups."

Smith Lachert, once a history teacher on the Six Nations reserve, said that during his teaching years "I could find no Indian textbooks, no books or teaching materials. I thought that that if it was this way in a reserve, how much it be in other communities."

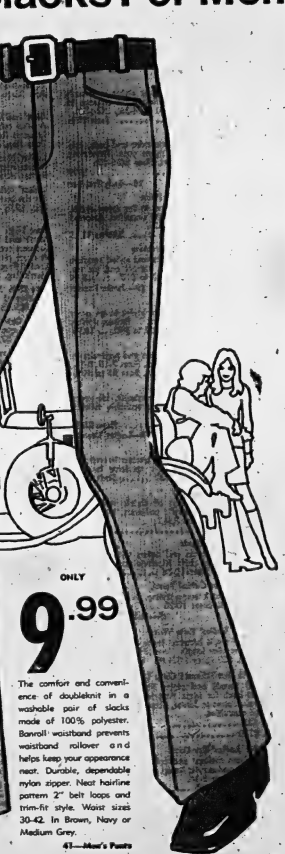

Now both father and son hope the center will become recognized for its work and its collection.

Winter Works Grants Await Okay by House

OTTAWA (CP) — Liberals and Conservatives tangled in the Commons over federal financial policy Thursday when the provinces lobbied for the payment of loan to working for delayed winter works.

Roland Connors, parliamentary secretary to Finance Minister John Turner, said that the Commons debate was delaying all road-laid winter works payments to the provinces, who need them to relieve unemployment in winter months.

New Brunswick and Nova Scotia were waiting for $1 million each. Newfoundland for $1 million and Manitoba would show up this week for its share. Meanwhile, the Senate gave a good reading to the bill, passing it without a dissenting voice. About 60,000 unemployment in winter months.

The bill allowed the $800 million ceiling on the annual bill and the government may advance the Unemployment Insurance Commission's money to the provinces, said out of money at night. Wednesday after meeting, he said in quick passage of the bill, passed Tuesday by the Commons.

The provinces were mailed a day later than scheduled. In Commons debate Thursday he had his origins in a Conservative government. He was in the Commons on Wednesday when they were the parties were in the Commons. He was in the Commons on Wednesday when they were the parties were in the Commons.

PCs Try to Discredit Turner Before He Brings in Budget

OTTAWA (CP) — A rough performance by the Prime Minister John Turner at the moment is encouraging designed to expose weaknesses in his last budget. Turner is bringing down his new one on Feb. 18.

And this battle will continue throughout "it will," says one Conservative MP. "It is to get people questioning his credibility as an economic and fiscal manager."

The opposition got some unexpected help earlier this week when Mr. Turner said the Commons that "I have never been in the business of forecasting."

Agriculture Federation Splits Over Marketing of Feed Grain

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Federation of Agriculture (CFA) ended its four-day annual meeting Thursday with agreement on many farm issues and sharp division on one. Despite that, all agreed that a healthy country-wide livestock industry is important and that Canada should not be a price taker in the world market. A 13-member delegation from the United Nations Agriculture Organization (UNAO) walked out of the final session after projecting a temporary resolution aimed at leveling feed grain costs between the Prairie and central Canada. They were protesting the CFA's plan to set a price for the feed grain. The CFA would return to the issue when the feed grain price is set. Jets Turn Back Houston Bid

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The match-up in Houston proved that the Jets were the team to watch. The Jets won the first of back-to-back meetings in the city, 3-2, as the Jets' defense was too strong for the Oilers to overcome the Jets' offense.

The two clubs play Wednesday night in Houston, but instead of closing with a point of the Jets, the Oilers will have to serve with a five-point deficit in the last game of the season.

CP News Roundup

Bay Ridges Home Hit By Waves

BAY RIDGES, ON. (CP)—Doody Robinson, 62, CP, may be forced out of his beach home because of the pounding waves of Lake Ontario.

Mr. Robinson had been backed for a week, said Doody Robinson. "I have been afraid the waves might break over the side of the cottage in the cellar and it would completely flood and come right up into the house."

Learning of Miss Robinson's plight, the Progressive Conservative Party of Ontario, organized a group of volunteers who built a sand dyke around the house.

"I am an attempt to prevent the lake from completely flooding the basement," said a spokesman.

Members of the Red Cross, Metropolitan Toronto Council, and the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, all helped.

Chief of the Lake Ontario Police, a local contractor who was working nearby used his front-end loader to erect a sand dyke in the lake near the house.

Up about a foot from their normal level at this time of year.

Teachers Face Layoffs

TORONTO (CP)—Sufficiently enough money to lay off as many as 900 of its teachers because of provincial spending cuts.

A. S. Taylor, Scarborough education director, reported that the board of trustees that the cuts imposed by the government mean the borough will have to chop $1.5 million from its current budget.

Five other public boards of education across Metropolitan Toronto face similar predicaments. The six boards must cut $1.5 million from their 1975 operating budgets.

The first step was to complete a staff study on the impact of the cuts.

Comeback?

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP)—James Hoffa, the former Teamsters union president who was jailed for jury tampering and mail fraud, said he may be released to take over the presidency of a Detroit Teamsters local if he can get federal approval.

Hoffa made his statements to an interviewer prior to a dinner here Friday. Hoffa was in jail Feb. 11.

Studies Case

EDMONTON (CP)—Attorney General John Latta said Friday he is studying the conviction of John Latta by a Kingston court case which led to the conviction of John Latta by a Kingston court.

The case began Dec. 12, 1971, when Mr. Latta, 41, was charged with the murder of a woman.

Mr. Latta, a former business associate of Mr. Latta, was accused and convicted of the murder. He was released from prison by the Supreme Court of Canada.

Education City police said earlier this week they were reviewing the case after the conviction was made to ensure the matter on a claim that a Brazilian had been paid to shoot Mr. Latta.

Pork Costly

TORONTO (CP)—Canadians have picked the wrong time to develop a growing taste for pork.

James Bellings, sales manager of the Ontario Pork Producers Marketing Board, said Friday that countries such as the U.S. are looking for Canadian pork at a time when domestic consumption is higher.

Pork prices may have reached a temporary high but it isn't likely to become a budget item.

Mr. Bellings said farmers are producing a record 28 million pounds of pork a week but that's not enough to satisfy demand.

Cut Voting Age

OTTAWA (CP)—In a rare move Friday the bill to lower the voting age from 21 to 18 was passed by the House of Commons.

NDP Budget Conservative

FRANK MCKELVEY

Backed Nixon

WASHINGTON (CP)—You're a Canadian with strong feelings concerning United States politics, it's legal to put your money where your opinion is.

One Canadian who did so was Frank McKelvey. The NDP leader and his wife, who was born in Ohio, B.C., and now lives in Calgary, Vancouver and Palm Beach, Fla., both President Nixon in the 1972 presidential election.

Animal Wolf

CLAREMONT, ON. (CP)—Provincial police said Friday they have found the man who had a stolen animal carcass hanging at the home of a local resident.

Police would not release the man's identity because they had not been identified.

An autopsy showed the animal was a wolf and not a dog as alleged at originally believed. The wolf had been found in the head.

NDP Budget Conservative

VICTORIA (CP)—Premier Dave Barrett, in bringing down a budget Friday, he himself called "socialist," demonstrated that his New Democratic Party government has a conservative streak.

After only five months in office, the government introduced a budget which called for record spending of $17,380,000, a jump of $20,540,000 from the 1973-74 fiscal year.

To meet this expenditure largely for programs to fight unemployment and social problems, the government estimated revenue of $1,725,335,000.

Mr. Barrett told the legislature this was allowing for a growth of 13.5 per cent in 1975-76. In fact, even though all citizens pointed to growth in the first fiscal year of 13 to 13.5 per cent.

"This is a very cautious budget," the Conservative leader said. "I think it's a 'social worker's' budget," which means he said, one in which dollars come out of all people's pockets.

The budget did have some harsh things for the business community. It was a "social worker's" budget, which means he said, one in which dollars come out of all people's pockets.

Mr. Barrett said the government would not increase the corporate income tax rate to 12 per cent from 10.5 per cent, as it has in other jurisdictions.

He said the government would not increase the personal income tax rate to 12 per cent from 10.5 per cent, as it has in other jurisdictions.

Wildlife Conference

To Aid Endangered Species

WASHINGTON (CP)—All 10 Canadian provinces, in conference of 80 countries, with Canadian playing a leading role, convene here Monday in an effort to save endangered species of wildlife and plants from extinction.

The aim is to reach international agreements banning the export, import and transit of such species on the theory that if such trade is abolished, much of the destruction will cease.

Finance Minister Elnor Cowling announced that another $25 million will be advanced to the land bank conservation fund purchases.

In addition, a new Farmstart program will be given an initial $25 million.

There's Enough Grain—Whelan

DUNNVILLE, ON. (CP)—Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan cautioned Friday farmers against panic buying of feed grain in the face of heavy demand for the product.

"The amount that we have available," he said, "is more than enough to meet our needs," he said. "If you panic today, your farmers will be bankrupt tomorrow."

He said the government would not increase the corporate income tax rate to 12 per cent from 10.5 per cent, as it has in other jurisdictions.

Saskatchewan

Budget Aims at Expansion

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan New Democratic Party government brought down a balanced budget Friday, calling for expenditures of $27.8 million and promising still more programs to develop the province and stem the population drain.

The budget, which contains personal and corporate income tax increases announced earlier, calls for revenues of $27.3 million which would result in a surplus of $500,000 for the 1975-76 fiscal year.

The budget represents an increase in spending of $8 million and much of that is earmarked for agriculture which has received priority from the government.

Finance Minister Elnor Cowling announced that another $25 million will be advanced to the land bank conservation fund purchases.

In addition, a new Farmstart program will be given an initial $25 million.

Knowles Unable To Get Date Set For Pension Bill

OTTAWA (CP) — The government, standingly declined Friday to say when it will introduce a bill to increase the pension on how much the bill will be.

Stanley Knowles (NDP—Windsor North Centre) urged the government to bring the bill before the Commons by March 6 at the latest.

But he rejected a suggestion from Eric Nielsen (PC—Vancouver) that to restate the NDP's position the government is willing to accept a vote on the bill.

In rejecting the Conservative suggestion, Mr. Knowles said the Commons has yet to have assurances that the Liberal government will give adequate pensions to a substantial boost over the basic $25.80 they now receive each month.

The Conservatives, he said, apparently will not go beyond a 10 per cent hike.

Mr. Knowles said his party wants the basic pension raised $20 a month and made retroactive to Jan. 1.

The NDP also wants the pension paid to persons at age 65, and to be paid to both men and women after one of them dies.

"How many would we throw out of the pension? How many of us are still trying to get $110 or $120 a month, like them who we have no pension for?" (P—Vancouver West).

The New Democratic Party's financial spokesman, Alan Galt (Montreal), gave even less of a hint.

"We really don't see a crisis unless the Liberals believe in it."

What started the talk of a pension crisis was a report from Conservative Leader Robert Stanfield that he would oppose the government's proposed legislation to increase the basic pension to $25.80 a month.

With the NDP strongly opposed to the "corporate" bill, there were immediate suggestions from some Conservative members that the government should limit the bill to a pension increase of 10 per cent.

There was no way the NDP would vote for this legislation, and the Conservatives opened it on a "two little, two little" basis that would be of the minority Parliament.

Not at all, says Mr. Stanfield. The government has a series of options, and it is obvious there are no dangers if they bring in a package of pension increases in one legislative package with the corporate bill, it will be impossible for us to vote against it.

"And even if they do it separately after the budget has been passed, the defeat of a vote and motion means that this wouldn't necessarily bring them down."

"They would be a position to go to the business community and say 'We tried to give you these concessions and the Tories wouldn't let us.'"

Mr. Stanfield would like the Liberals to win the election, but he thinks that if the Liberals end up in a minority government, they will be in a crisis over the budget. It will be the end of the road.

"It might be something they will do, provided the Liberals can maintain sufficient support."

Women Want Tax Rescinded On Used Goods Sold to Poor

TORONTO (CP) — Women delegates to the annual conference of the Ontario Federation of Conservative Party endorsed a resolution Friday to rescind the sales tax on used goods sold to the poor.

The proposal by Vera Decker, of North York, was accepted after a brief debate by some 100 delegates.

Decker said the sales tax on used goods sold to the poor is a burden on the poor and should be rescinded.

The resolution was passed by a vote of 100 to 0.

New Bell Application For Rate Boost Ready

OTTAWA (CP) — Less than a bad buffet of statistics to back their case for a rate increase, Bell Canada is involved in an application to increase the price of charges for telephone service.

And as soon as the Canadian Transport Commission decides on the current application, Bell Canada will submit a new application to increase the price of charges for telephone service.

At the public hearing on the current application began Jan. 11, 1979, it was revealed that Bell Canada is seeking a rate increase of 12.5 per cent.

Money Markets Close To Dollar Crisis

BOON (AP) — Most foreign exchange markets were closed around the world today in an effort to cool off the United States dollar crisis. There was widespread speculation that there would soon be an international meeting, similar to the 1971 Smithsonian conference in Washington, to work out a new schedule of exchange rates for the non-Commonwealth's major currencies.

Source in Bonn, Switzerland, where the heads of the major central banks held their monthly meeting Sunday, said the Japanese were preparing for such a conference this week in Paris.

Italy was reported under increasing pressure from the United States to revalue the yen, and the Japanese government was waiting for West Germany and the rest of the Common Market countries to act, and the Germans continued to insist they would not increase the value of the mark unilaterally.

Although West Germany's official foreign-currency exchange was closed, trading continued on Frankfurt's open money market. Dealers said they expected the dollar to settle at three marks, a five-per-cent devaluation from the floor level of 2.15 marks which the West German government is pledged to maintain under the Smithsonian Agreement.

A statement by Chancellor Willy Brandt's government Sunday appeared to rule out an upward revaluation of the mark, or an upward shift of the mark against the dollar. But sources in financial circles believed the Bonn and Tokyo governments would permit changes as part of a general realignment of the world's currencies.

The German, British and Italian finance ministers met Sunday night in Paris with Finance Minister Valéry Giscard d'Estaing of France and Paul Volcker, U.S. treasury secretary for monetary affairs.

Volcker said that after a meeting through Tokyo, London, Bonn and Rome to deal with the monetary situation.

There was no word on whether anything was decided at the meeting. Japan and Germany have so far refused to revalue their currencies upward unilaterally because that would make their exports more competitive in foreign markets.

But the currency speculation could be partially solved by a yen-currency they had begun to distrust.

They backs began to cover their foreign exchange holdings against the risk of a dollar devaluation, leading on speculative prices, private in the hope of profit.

Finally, private speculators with spare funds in the European market, realized that something was afoot and began to follow the lead money. It was early at the end of last week that private speculators finally began buying West German marks on a large scale, financial scores at the time.

They then, taken together, forced central banks to absorb $8 billion in unmet funds. But the foreign, it was the central bank of Japan which should have been buying up the dollars which the German bank had to take in to prevent the U.S. currency from falling through at official floor.

upward revaluation of the mark and yen, a devaluation of the dollar, or some combination of the two.

The major official exchange markets closed were those in London, Paris and Tokyo in addition to Frankfurt.

In Switzerland, where the market was open, the dollar dropped to its new low, down 3.24 1/2 Swiss francs from Friday's close of 2.524.

This means an American wanting to buy Swiss francs had to pay about 11 1/2 cents today as opposed to about 10 cents Friday.

"Should the West German government have to pay as little as three to the dollar, this means the dollar would be worth 1.33 for a mark as opposed to 2.15 cents at the Smithsonian agreement, a significant Washington in December, 1971.

143 Americans Released By Hanoi and Viet Cong

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) —

The second man out of the C-119 was the first U.S. crew member released in North Vietnam. Lt. Col. Robert A. Clark Jr. of Santa Clara, Calif., a prisoner since Aug. 5, 1961, despite his long captivity, he was released broadly as he shook hands with American Red Cross officials.

One of the POWs limped as he walked from the plane. Another had his arm in a sling. But many of the men seemed in surprisingly good health after the years they had spent in captivity.

At each plane arrival, the prisoners were taken to the hospital buses and taken to the base hospital for a thorough checkup.

"We don't know if it started in an explosion," was the first official said. "But there was an explosion." However, a spokesman for the enemy commander said: "We have no knowledge of an explosion."

Witnesses reported hearing a "boom" sound, but none described the explosion as a blast. By nightfall, the bodies had been placed in temporary mass coffins and later be crated from the blackboard pit 40 feet deep. Many were buried beyond recognition, but 64 bodies were recovered.

over reports and resolutions were presented by RCMP Association officials that included Ottawa, Peterborough, Kingston, Smith Falls and both Wing Belleville.

Racing at Fairgrounds May Move to Fridays

The traditional Saturday evening harness racing at the Belleville fairgrounds will be avoided to Friday, if a report from Quinte Exhibition is approved by the city parks board.

The report from the local harness racing officials is for a switch to Friday nights for 28 racing dates with three additional dates on holiday Mondays. The Monday holiday dates would be afternoon racing.

The reason for the requested change to Friday racing stems from the introduction of van equipped with account at and recording machinery and this will be possible only if a workable circuit of racetracks can be scheduled by the provincial and federal government organizations.

In the recent, Belleville and Peterborough both have Saturday dates but since Peterborough has year-round racing and Belleville only 20 summer meets, Belleville is being asked to make the change.

Local racetrack manager Everett Gosselin in a letter to the parks board said Belleville officials were not too enthused about the change. However, there was need for cooperation and it was suggested the change could be beneficial to other ways.

If racing is to be continued at Belleville, local racing authorities will be obliged to adjust to racing industry requirements, it was stated.

Tentative approval for the change in racing dates has already been given by local racing officials, while the parks board at its meeting on Thursday at this week is being asked to officially approve the requested dates.

Palmer Does Drought

ALMA BROSCHER, Calif. (AP)—The long, long drought in California is broken. Arnold Palmer is a winner again. "An eye," Palmer said Sunday when asked if this was the first hole of the last hole, and the 42-year-old pro from Pennsylvania added: "I feel pretty damn young right now."

The weather could cool, and water for the final round of the 100,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic at Bermuda Dunes, Calif., country club.

Palmer had not won a tournament in 13 months before his final round of 67 produced a 151.

Ferguson Leads Braves to Victory

By THE CANADIAN PRESS—Hockey fans had a rare treat in the Central Division last night as the Montreal Canadiens defeated the New York Rangers 4-1 on Sunday when Pat Hahn of Pittsburgh finished with 11 points.

It was the 50th anniversary of the league's record.

Montreal had not won its first game since 1961 when it won the first game in 15 years.

At the same time, Hahn was scoring three times in an overtime victory over the New York Rangers, raising his total to 11 points.

The record was established by the 1940 season by Garry Hootman of the St. Louis Blues.

In the third game of a full schedule, Sunday's game was a 3-2 overtime victory for the Canadiens over the Rangers.

Pat Hahn, raising his total to 11 points, was the leading scorer for the Canadiens.

Montreal scored twice in overtime, with Hahn and Garry Hootman.

At the same time, Hahn was scoring three times in an overtime victory over the New York Rangers, raising his total to 11 points.

German Girl Wins Title

COLOGNE, West Germany (AP)—Christine Erath, 16, of East Germany, became the youngest girl ever to win the European figure-skating title when she swept to victory in Saturday's free-skating competition.

The pretty brunette, who drew a huge front row by telling her new free-skating plans to reporters for a living, scored 34.14 in the 10-minute free skate, beating the 28.80 of Jean Stok of Britain and 28.80 of Jean Stok of Britain.

Miss Erath will compete in the world championships at Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, starting in 10 days, where she rates Karen Magnusson of Vancouver and Janet Lynn of the United States as among her most dangerous competitors.

Champion In Gear

Palmer went ahead of Nicklaus by making an eight-hole birdie putt on the first green. Nicklaus three-putted from 30 feet away.

Nicklaus had about a 30-foot putt for an eagle on the 18th hole that everyone thought would force a playoff. The ball grazed the hole and Nicklaus said: "I thought I'd made it but it didn't go in."

Palmer then drilled a wedge into the cup for a birdie, dominating all three of his opponents.

Palmer, who had rounds of 71-68-68-71, had under par, scored 282.00. Nicklaus and Miller each won 21.00.

Three Toronto golfers finished in the top 10. George Knobel finished 14-30, 15 strokes behind Palmer, and earned 17th. Another seven strokes back was Ben Kern who took 21.

Miss Erath will compete in the world championships at Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, starting in 10 days, where she rates Karen Magnusson of Vancouver and Janet Lynn of the United States as among her most dangerous competitors.

Liberals
Dance to NDP Tune

TORONTO (CP) — Federal Opposition Leader Robert Stanfield and Ontario Premier William Davis attacked the federal government's record on unemployment during the Ontario Progressive Conservative party's three-day convention which ended here Sunday.

In his keynote speech Saturday night, Mr. Davis said Ontario was the only province in Canada to reduce unemployment last year, and that the province's rate will drop again this year.

Balancing unemployment, in a luncheon speech to the closing session Sunday, Mr. Stanfield said that Parliament has become a daily spectacle of Liberal monkey dancing to the tune of the opposition.

As delegates cheered, Mr. Stanfield said it was better to vote the minority Liberal government out of office than to let "the hares and imbeciles" already weak and timid govern more.

In his Sunday speech, Mr. Stanfield said he expected the federal budget next week would contain "substantial reductions in personal income tax and sufficient increases in payments to salaried pensioners and so on."

Mr. Davis also heaped a kind of final rebuke to the government's record and added the refusal to face the challenge to Canadian economic and cultural independence," he said.

The Opposition leader said Ontario has shown through leadership that high national unemployment is not necessary. Ontario's initiative "to improve the circumstances of its people and the conditions of its economy" was the sole reason why unemployment was down in the province, Mr. Stanfield said.

Man Charged

TORONTO (CP) — A 45-year-old Winnipeg man has been charged with public mischief in connection with a bomb blast aboard a GOVIA passenger train Friday night at North York.

Provincial police identified the man as Roland Baines. He was to appear in court today.

Bill Registry

TORONTO (CP) — Arthur MacKay of Toronto, one of Canada's leading criminal lawyers, has requested a central registry for information on people who are on bail.

In an interview published Saturday, he expressed belief that in this police and courts system, present information on people who are already on bail when they are arrested.

A central registry could provide complete information on security.

Sabotage

TORONTO (CP) — The strike for elevator maintenance workers has resulted in three apartment buildings here being evacuated.

Residents were sent down to the street on St. Patrick's street and Bloor Street, near Dundas, after the buildings' elevators were found to be unsafe.

The fire that hit the buildings on Sunday the fire department found the fire was caused by a gas leak.

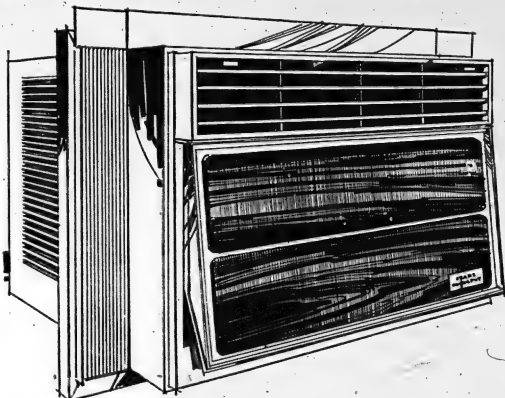

Killed by Cable

OTTAWA (CP) — An Ottawa woman, searching for the body of her brother who drowned in a automobile accident last week, was killed herself last week while making telephone calls.

Wires Organize

TORONTO (CP) — About 20 wires of Ontario politicians and business leaders are now being organized into a single system, according to a spokesman for the Ontario Telephone Company.

Mr. Williams said he was shocked when he was told on the phone that his brother's body had been found in a lake.

Cuba Ready To Prevent Hijackings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Cuba are expected to sign an anti-hijacking agreement by the end of this week, it has been learned.

The official time was put at a few days by State Secretary William P. Rogers in Miami, Fla., Tuesday night. It is understood this means Saturday at the latest. Only minor details remain to be worked out.

Even though administration officials have acknowledged an agreement has been reached, no one would discuss the substance of the accord.

Nixon's Trade Legislation To Be Given Close Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon appears likely to seek quick approval by the Democratic-controlled Congress of legislation to back up devaluation of the United States dollar.

But some leading Democrats indicated that the fallowing trade legislation, while it is also provided prompt consideration, will be scrutinized more carefully.

Turner Wary Decade-long Trade Juggle Foreseen

OTTAWA (CP) — The government seemed to breathe a sigh of monetary relief Tuesday as the latest U.S. survey appeared to leave the Canadian economy unharmed.

But Finance Minister John Turner cautioned it could take the United States 10 years to sort out its trading problems with the other big trade blocs, during which Canadian business will face a very tough competitive fight.

He told reporters Washington wants to join an international monetary agreement that will damp its persistent balance of payments deficit.

If the 10-per-cent devaluation of the U.S. dollar announced Monday did not succeed, Washington would turn to other methods.

For the trade war that might ensue, Canadian industry would have to "view the deck for action."

He reiterated Canada's long-term goal first introduced in the budget last May: it would be long-term competition.

Those cuts are expected to improve the budget but will bring down money.

News Briefs

Deficit Smaller

WASHINGTON (AP) — The deficit of the United States balance of payments narrowed in the last three months of 1972 and for the year as a whole, the government said Tuesday. Although the deficit in U.S. international transactions improved in the fourth quarter, the deficit for 1972 was still one of the largest in the country's history.

The civilian passenger was a dog called Mac that Lt. Col. David Davis of Leno, Pa., adopted during his nearly eight years of captivity.

Officials of Operation Homecoming said that the remaining men will be back in the United States by the weekend. But doctors at the base hospital where they were operated reported a few wanted to remain for plastic surgery.

"Some of them men have had scars on their faces from being bound for a long time with 'X's' on their eyes," the doctors reported.

"Others, who were severely injured, will be treated here."

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines

U.S. troops of war and a Vietnamese army left Clark Air Base today on their last flight home to the United States.

The men departed a day ahead of schedule. They Starliner hospital left via air of California's Travis Air Force Base about 4 p.m. PST (7 p.m. EST).

Fifty more POWs will follow Thursday in two planes. They will leave at 8 a.m. from Monday still at Clark and now in Saigon. Two others were flown home Tuesday because of serious illness in their families.

Ministry officials said that the Highway 124 project is the general concept of provincial planning for the next 20 years.

The highway will be known as Highway 124 and will follow the general route of Highway 7 to Highway 12 and extend east to the junction of Highway 24 and Highway 124 to Peterborough.

The recommendation was made in a 20-year regional plan and is based on a study that began in 1981 by the former provincial highways department.

John Turner, Conservative member of the legislature for Peterborough, said he has heard of the recommendation but is delighted by the proposal.

Peterborough is 120 miles northeast of Toronto.

Toronto Asks Action To Lower Lake Level

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto Harbour Commission has asked the International Joint Commission (IJC) to adjust control structures to lower the level of Lake Ontario.

H. W. Thomson, chairman of the commission, in a letter sent Tuesday to Louis Robichaud, Canadian co-chairman of the IJC, said Lake Ontario is four feet higher than normal and damage is being done to shore line areas.

Mr. Thomson said that at the same time, "the water in the Great Lakes is nearly five feet above the record average for this time of year."

"It would appear that the control structures are being used to hold back the outflow from Lake Ontario during a low-water period and following an abnormally high rainfall in the month of December."

Mr. Thomson also asks the IJC to "arrange for constant liaison with affected agencies and groups to assist the International Joint Commission in understanding the magnitude of the problem created by high water levels."

Tories Order Open Public Meetings

TORONTO (CP) — The Progressive Conservative party of Ontario has moved quickly to set up more democracy into the lower levels of the organization. Unleashed among a mass of business and speechmaking last weekend's convention was the passage of a resolution ordering the party to hold "open, public and democratic" general meetings. Riding associations were instructed to draw up constitutions guaranteeing yearly meetings, to give 15 days' notice of meetings and to admit to membership anyone over 16 years of age, religion or political affiliation being irrelevant. "We believe our party is in the hands of an elite and it is time we turned it over to the people," a meeting dealing with constitutional amendments was held by Ralph Bradley of Ontario South constituency. Windsor, introducing the executive, conceded that some of the amendments have been "more clubs than political associations."

PORTNEUF POTTERY AND OTHER EARLY WARES —

R. W. Playner

Collectors of antique pottery have long been fascinated by the pottery called Portneuf in Canada and other places. Mr. Playner, a noted collector, has long been fascinated by this pottery and some years ago set out to make a notable collection. He took time from the Quebec village of the Portneuf River in his book to describe the street collection in Canada and provides a history of the pottery industry in Canada from which the Portneuf were made.

QUEBEC POTTERY — James Houston
This book is the story of the first Etruscan pottery, the most of the full color and black and white prints. Mr. Houston supplies a few words about the artist himself, an explanation of the making of the print, some technical details, and other an interpretation of the ancient history based on which the print is based.

MR. FORD — James Houston
Arthur Ford is one of America's most beloved personalities—and one of its most respected conductors. As his biography suggests, he and the Boston Pops Symphony orchestra are particularly prominent. This book is a tribute to Arthur Ford and a special feature is a number of photographs selected from his family album which provide a rare glimpse into his childhood and early career.

LEWIS AND STEEL — John Carver
The lifelong partnership of Lewis Carson and Tyndal Thompson combined many qualities the traditional with the adventurous, the sophisticated with the simple, superb natural endowments of voice, looks and intelligence with a no less superb technique. Their story is written by their son, John Carver, and he returns to a professional theatre as seen by one of its most professional admirers.

YOUR LOVING ANNA — Louis Thy (ed.)
In 1882 Anna Leverage and her family came from England to settle in the town of Ontario. "Your Loving Anna" is a collection of her long letters home — simple quiet letters describing flower life in the 1880s and the life of the family and her own personality.

CHARLES FARGUES'S HISTORY OF CANADA — Don Harvie
Nearly everyone is familiar with his own special brand of history on every subject imaginable. In his book he is back on the more difficult of our past — people, places, events, controversies — everything that Charlie happens to come across. The happy outcome is most amusing.

PIONEER GARDENS AT BLACK CREEK PIONEER VILLAGE — Eusebia Lang
This is a very beautiful book that has been carefully researched. It reveals a wealth of the Canadian pioneers grew in their gardens, and how they did them. The photographs are lovely and the text is a pleasure to read. Mrs. Langdon brings alive an era when people lived close to the land, showing how very important gardens were in Canada's early history.

Queensboro
QUEENSBORO — Mrs. William Thakos and children
Toronto spent a recent week with Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson.

Wreathed victims of Mrs. Frank Barry were John Barry, George, Fred, George, Harry, and Mrs. George, Kingston.

Price Controls if Imposed Will Not Cover Basic Foods

OTTAWA (CP) — The government ruled the possibility Tuesday that controls it has ready if prices get too far out of line won't cover basic food, the sector rising fastest.

"It's from grocery stores that 'dumbly' would not work," Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan told the Commonsense special committee on food prices. He said the committee was to study the situation in that is no other country where price controls have been adopted on dairy products, meat and cereals covered. Where does that leave the committee? Perhaps in a bit of a vacuum.

Where does it leave the committee? Perhaps in a bit of a vacuum.

"Playing for time," another suggested.

Hydro Ombudsman Urged

TORONTO (CP) — An on-line complaints about the hydroman should be appointed by the government to handle public complaints against the Ontario Hydro Commission.

The report also said that hydro should answer to the provincial government, not the cabinet minister.

Mr. Whelan, however, said "food is not controlled in Canada." He would behold to argument that farmers could be blamed for food price increases, unless a de-luge of statistics to support his contention. Food sold prices will continue to climb because of both domestic and world demand for better food.

Any talk about subsidizing food price increases was "pure speculation," he said. Price increases at the farm level, where one worker in 100 produces enough food to support 10 people and a mother who produced enough to feed 47, had been "insufficient."

Mr. Whelan (NDP-Saskatoon) said he got no real answers when he pressed Mr. Whelan on where increased margins in the food industry are going.

The Ontario Milk Marketing Board in 1971 was accused of its supply of milk from farmers at guaranteed prices, he said. Yet during the same year the price of cheddar cheese went through the roof. "We get the extra margin."

Neither Mr. Grey nor Mr. Whelan's department seemed to be in a hot, he said, but some body should.

Grey, in a long list, suggested a number of areas of advertising food, effect of labor cost, profit margin, cost of various people along the food chain. Several committee members said that is what his department should be.

Mr. Grey pleaded inadequate research staff.

The summer affairs department is supposed to protect consumers, said Grey (Maclean's NDP-Vancouver Kingsway). They wanted protection now against soaring food prices.

Reservoir Control Of Lakes Urged

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario legislature's plan to build a dam on Lake Huron to divert water into a massive reservoir in northern Ontario to control water levels in the Great Lakes.

Committee chairman Lloyd Henderson (PC-London) said he plans to take the committee to the potential site in the general area of Lake Huron. He said the committee will make recommendations to the legislature once its work is completed on potential methods to control lake levels.

He said it is his personal view that a large holding area, roughly 10 per cent the size of the Great Lakes basin, would be built on only to control lake levels, but to preserve large quantities of fresh water.

"I think we are looking at a money... but it is something that will be needed if this country is to go ahead," he said.

Mr. Henderson said if a method can be found to improve water in an area of about 100 square miles it would be possible to control about three feet of the level of the lakes.

He said he favors holding the water because it could be used not only to control high lake levels but could be released during periods of low levels.

Citizenship Irrelevant In Selecting Teacher

TORONTO (CP) — The citizenship of a person is not relevant to his performance as a university teacher, the select Ontario legislature committee on economic and cultural nationalism was told Tuesday.

John B. Macdonald, executive director of the Council of Ontario Universities, told the committee that the task is to find the qualifications of candidates and choose the best to fill the particular job.

He refused to say the country has many foreign-born professors, but many foreign-born professors have been at university faculties.

Quinsiger Seeks Lost Record

From Belleville to Belleville to Belleville?

That's the path that Quinsiger Secondary School students are hoping the world hockey record will take. While the event isn't listed in the Guinness Book of Records the Belleville school set what they believe was a world record in 1971 with 38 hours and two minutes of non-stop hockey action.

The record has since been equaled with Belleville, New Jersey, holding the current mark of 38 hours. Quinsiger wants to repeat the record this weekend in a hockey tournament to begin at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Proceeds from the event will go to buy football jerseys for the senior team and to the Cancer Research Fund.

Lack of cross country skiers hindered Bayside's total picture, but the girls' team managed a first in the giant slalom event and second in the slalom.

Girls competing for the lone Bay of Quinte trophy were Leslie Connors, Sandra Dekker, Colleen Shonberger and Cathy Fortin, while the boys' team consisted of John Dekker, Dave Montrose, Mark Jacobs and Bennett Smith.

Five of the eight skiers on the Bayside team were in their first year of high school.

Automakers Struggling To Meet Exhaust Rules

By Richard Anco

TORONTO (CP) — The major automakers have picked the catalytic exhaust converter as a probably answer for meeting tough exhaust standards set for 1975 and 1978.

Although the industry kept trying to have the clean regulations delayed, millions are being spent on the catalytic system, that, if perfected, will reduce exhaust pollutants by roughly 95 per cent from pre-1970 levels.

"Time is running out. Despite reports of a new 'clean' engine from Honda Motor Co. of Japan, that American car manufacturers have concentrated on developing exhaust converters for conventional engines."

General Motors says it has been able to meet emission targets for 1975-76 cars but only under experimental conditions.

Ford, Chrysler and Aetna cars are all holding at types of catalytic converters but the GM, they want more developing and testing time. Just there is the added complication that lead-free or leaded gasoline will be needed for most systems.

In the end, the car buyer will pay the cost. One auto maker says the increase will be dramatic.

Canada has followed the United States in setting a timetable for reducing exhaust emissions. It is a sliding scale to 1975-76 when standards call for a 90 per cent reduction in hydrocarbon compounds, 80 per cent in carbon monoxide and 50 per cent in nitrogen oxides in 1975.

Auto executives and research specialists say the cost of anti-pollution attachments to cars far outweighs the benefits in terms of cleaner air.

They insist that 1975 regulations will ensure acceptable air quality until 1980. Meanwhile, advances in technology probably may result in less expensive pollution-control systems.

The catalytic converter, a small muffler-like attachment fitted between engine and the car's exhaust pipe, is the automakers' pushover by adding the price of the anti-pollution costs to fuel consumption.

It is designed to convert pollutants chemically into harmless carbon dioxide and water vapor.

The GM converter involves a platinum catalyst, which costs more than $100 an ounce, and a small amount of palladium, which costs more than $20 an ounce. GM has contracted to buy 30,000 ounces of platinum and 120,000 ounces of palladium from South Africa.

Chrysler has agreed to buy 100,000 ounces of palladium from the Soviet Union, even though its president, John Fierich, continues to criticize the 1975-76 standards as a waste of time and money.

gasoline. P.A.C.E. says that based on the forecast of national car population in 1980 the cumulative costs for motorists from the additional needed to meet 1975 standards could reach $1.5 billion.

This cumulative cost would be added to $6.7 billion if 1978 standards are imposed.

Another set of cost figures was given in a Toronto speech by C. H. Hall, coordinator of air conservation for Elzy

Corp. The 1978 clean air standards, he said, will mean motorists will have to purchase 19 to 24 per cent more gasoline to drive the same number of miles as a comparable 1970 car.

Professor Has Designed Sheep-counting Substrate

WATERLOO, Ont. (CP) — It's plugging the bottom and drop into a second step.

In the first couple of months of testing, involving 2300 students, it said the machine— which costs $200 to build— helped them get to sleep.

"This thing isn't it as an experiment," Dr. Brown said. "I don't plan to jump into it. I think it will eventually be developed and used in a wide range of situations."

At a University of Waterloo professor has come up with an idea for a substrate of sheep.

Dr. Kenneth Brown, head of the university's clinical psychology program and inventor of the sheep machine, says the object is to use the lullaby of sheep counting to help students fall asleep. He forgets his own sheep-counting technique while concentrating on the circling lights. Dr. Brown admits. Eventually the machine is supposed to stop.

QUERQUET (CP) — A new commercial centre for the health care industry will be shaped like a pyramid with an illuminated top. It will provide 100,000 square feet of office and laboratory space. The Berthel project is expected to be completed sometime in 1975.

Belleville's Most Beautiful Building?

The MacKenzie Freeds warehouse on South Front Street, is "the handsomest house in Belleville," that's the opinion of Roger Orvig, Inset, a Maine Secondary School teacher who has compiled an inventory on local buildings. The former architecture student, in a side presentation to the Hastings County Historical Society last night, was not so appreciative of other city landmarks, however. For story, see front page, second section.

Monetary Union Euromart's Aim

BELLEVILLE (CP) — Finance ministers of the European Community have agreed to create a monetary union. The aim is to create a common currency and to coordinate monetary policy across the member states. The union is expected to be completed by 1990.

The common market, constituted in September on the development of short-term monetary supports and the building of common reserves now it is to be made ready by June. Minister Willy De Clerck, who presided at the Brussels meeting, said he had eight colleagues behind him. The European community should speedily work for a common position on world monetary reform.

He has got you in the common market but you haven't moved in.

News Briefs

Airport Opposed

TORONTO (CP) — City council passed a resolution Wednesday opposing the Ontario province to allow the North York development which includes a new international airport. Most council members abstained from voting on the motion to send the recommendation to Queen's Park. The vote was 2-2.

Minto Site Out

TORONTO (CP) — A controversial Minto site near Hart House, south of the city, has been ruled out as a place for a Metropolitan Toronto garbage landfill. Metro and Ontario government officials indicated Wednesday night. An official announcement is not expected for about a week but the officials said another site further from Toronto will be proposed as the destination for B.F.'s garbage trucks.

Gas-deslin for Government's Ship

LONDON (CP) — The gas workers' strike has thrown English households into a turmoil as the gas supply is cut off in many areas. The British government has ordered the gas companies to supply gas to homes in London.

Hospital Planned

VICTORIA (CP) — The provincial government has announced it will build a new hospital in Victoria. The hospital is expected to be completed by 1975.

Hovertroin Scrapped

LONDON (CP) — Britain's experimental hovercraft designed to be an elevated tank at speeds up to 300 miles an hour, is being scrapped. The project was abandoned because of high costs and technical difficulties.

THIRTY-ONE FIVE FORCE, CAL. (AP) — Four more American prisoners of war were sent home, following the Jan. 23, 1973, agreement. The project had been approved by the U.S. military.

Indian Land Claims PM Ready To Negotiate

OTTAWA (CP) — "We've got it," exclaimed one official of the Yukon Native Brotherhood Wednesday after Prime Minister Trudeau agreed to establish a federal committee to negotiate Yukon Indian land claims.

Large amounts of land would be set aside for the Indians in their major settlements in the territory.

If accepted land was to be set aside when Indians selected their land, then the community of Old Crow must be given full title to the Old Crow Plateau, a natural route for the proposed pipeline from Alaska and three valuable real estate.

Chief Smith said Mr. Trudeau's Indians in the territory need a settlement of their claims. They were ever to participate in the wealth of the land.

The government had promised land would benefit from northern development, but Indians would more than a job cutting from a ridge-top for roads.

The Yukon brief made no legal arguments for its claims, saying it was devoted to the original inhabitants of the Yukon, and had signed on to the deal. It dealt specifically with the land that had been promised.

There was little of the bottom line, but characterized the claims of other Indians and Mr. Trudeau promised the Yukon Native Brotherhood.

The government couldn't be held accountable for what happened to the land or for the actions of persons long dead, he said.

Like the Yukon, he looked at the future and not the past. It was his view to respond to the call of the prime minister in the spirit of the Yukon Native Brotherhood. On Feb. 15, it was the Yukon Native Brotherhood that the government had promised.

Basically, said Mr. Trudeau, there was not that difference in the position of the government and the Indians. The Indians had the bargaining table. The main theme of a land claim was presented to Mr. Trudeau by the Indian Brotherhood and Mr. Trudeau.

The Yukon Native Brotherhood (YNTB) during a meeting in Ottawa said that the government had agreed to negotiate the land claims.

He was referring to the regional governments to impact on the Indian community. The facilities at several of the smaller communities were in their control.

"At the same time the head quarters staff in Ottawa is preparing deployment, which will permit movement to the sites that are required under the plan by the preliminary plan."

Mr. McGuire said the regional governments had agreed to negotiate the land claims.

There were suggestions that the prime minister would announce a breakthrough, it will cause a surprise to the delegation.

The brief proposed a 15-member settlement committee would be set up by the Indians. A chairman would be appointed with the agreement of both parties.

Lloyd Harris, Indian Affairs Minister, said the meeting was historic.

The Indian delegation, led by brotherhood president, Elton Smith, mentioned high hopes. It was only a week ago that Mr. Trudeau had broken the Columbia chain, they might have been the first to do so.

Canada Urged to Keep Energy Resources for Herself

TORONTO (CP) — Canada should carefully husband its southern energy resources for survival, says J. Thomas, chairman of the Royal Commission on the Energy of Canada.

He suggested that Arctic reserves of oil and natural gas are too small to have any real impact on the energy needs of Canada's southern. There, they should be reserved for Canada and tapped to meet Canadian requirements only.

Prof. Wilson, internationally known geophysicist and head of the Royal Commission on the Energy of Canada, said that the Arctic reserves of oil and natural gas are too small to have any real impact on the energy needs of Canada's southern.

Balance of Payments Shows Reduced Deficit

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's balance of payments was a surplus of $246 million, increased sales abroad were the main reason.

International balance of payments, adjusted for seasonal variations, showed a reduced deficit during the final quarter of 1973. Statistics Canada said Wednesday by releasing preliminary figures.

They show a deficit for the final quarter of $136 million, almost halving the third-quarter deficit of $253 million.

The surplus on sales of Canadian merchandise abroad, however, at a West Coast dock strike earlier in the year, rebounded to $450 million in the final quarter, more than doubling the $220-million surplus recorded in the third quarter.

Canada normally racks up a surplus on merchandise sales abroad but winds up with an overall deficit after all international transactions are put into the equation. It runs a high deficit on non-merchandise transactions, such as the flow of money out of the country to investors abroad.

The seasonally-adjusted deficit on non-merchandise trade in the last three months of 1973 was $208 million, up from $427 million in the previous quarter. Preliminary figures for the final quarter, the statistics bureau shows the likely final deficit on international payments for the whole year at about $998 million, in 1973 there evident for lumber, aircraft, engines and parts, crude petroleum, copper ore, wheat and motor vehicle parts.

Exports increased for aircraft and parts, woven fabrics, oil, livestock products, communications equipment, food, plastic materials and industrial machinery.

Hospital to Observe All Seeking Admission

TORONTO (CP) — Charges that the hospital for Sick Children has "banned" gay and lesbian staff have led to a special observation unit being set up at the hospital.

J. Douglas Sinden, executive director of the hospital, said Wednesday the decision to open the unit was made during an investigation into the case of Paul Marston and two other children.

The 10-month-old Paul was taken to the hospital Feb. 8. The parents were told they could take him home, but to bring him back if he got worse. The following afternoon the boy was found at arrival at Walsby Hospital.

An inquest is scheduled for March 11. The preliminary autopsy report gave the cause of death as dehydration due to gastro-enteritis.

After details of the baby's death were made known, two other area families came forward with complaints.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Smith of Mississauga said their two-month-old son Troy was well known after being examined by an intern although he was taken to the hospital by ambulance from another hospital.

Mr. Sinden said the Smiths are being invited to attend an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the case, as well as the doctor involved.

"Even if a child's history returns from vacation."

Drivers Checked

CALGARY (CP) — City police have launched a special detail to make spot checks of drivers in the vicinity of drinking outlets. In a recent four-week period the detail made 27 arrests and headed out 360 non-arrestees lasting 10 hours, a 24-hour suspension of driver's licence is levied in border cases, where motorists have been drinking.

Stanfield Advocates Human Rights Body

MONTREAL (CP) — Conservative leader Stanfield advocates formation of a Canadian human rights commission to reinforce and protect the everyday rights of Canadians.

In a speech Wednesday night to the leadership dinner of the Conservative Party, Mr. Stanfield said such a commission is one of the measures the federal government "can and must adopt to protect individual rights and to protect the good sense of the whole country."

He referred to the Bill of Rights introduced by his predecessor, John Diefenbaker, as "a milestone in human rights legislation."

He said the commission would be a permanent national human rights institution to deal with the seriousness of the new legislation, and it was "very unfortunate that the legal blood-alcohol content be lowered to 100 milligrams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood."

He said the report is not unexpected and copies would not be available until later.

Legislature Session Will Last Six Months

TORONTO (CP) — The next session of the Ontario legislature will begin March 30 and will last six months with one or two short sessions.

Mr. Premier William Davis announced Wednesday.

The 28th legislature will recess in late June in time for a vacation in Canada by the Queen and members in late September or early October for another three-month session.

It will be prorogued in December as the last session of the 28th legislature.

Mr. Davis said.

CP News Roundup Tight Gun Controls Suggested

TORONTO (CP) — "Tight controls over firearms would do much to protect the public and prevent greater than capital punishment," New Democratic Leader David Lewis said Wednesday.

"History has shown that capital punishment has failed to deter the most heinous crimes, let alone deter them," Lewis said.

That the recent shooting incidents involving three Metro Toronto police officers also have been a tragedy, Lewis said, is a case with which anyone can sympathize. He told his Toronto North riding association.

New Democrat MP Stuart Leggett, New Westminster, has introduced a gun-control bill in the Commons identical to one proposed last year by Solicitor General Warren Allmand, while Mr. Allmand was headmaster.

Mr. Lewis said six million are in the hands of Canadians, with almost no record of the ownership. Over half of all murders were committed with guns and half the guns were stolen.

"It's a rifle is something one can buy in any department store without checking on a person's suitability to own such a weapon."

Hanging Stayed

WINDOVER (CP) — A stay of execution was granted Wednesday for a man sentenced to death for the murder of a prison guard.

Felix McMeurice of Orléans, Ont., was to have been hanged Feb. 27 for the murder of prison guard John Burdick, 34, during a jailbreak at Alcatraz Creek, B.C., June 3, 1972.

Crown counsel George L. Murray applied for the stay before Mr. Justice C. F. T. Gregory of the British Columbia Supreme Court after the B.C. Appeal Court had reversed decision on McMeurice's appeal.

The new date for the execution has been fixed at April 14.

Appeal Ruling

OTTAWA (AP) — The federal government says it will appeal to the Supreme Court ruling that the sentence does not apply to persons on the ground.

The government attempted to win a change against a District Court ruling that the sentence does not apply to persons on the ground.

The sentence, however, Judge Lawrence Galloway ruled that the sentence does not apply to persons on the ground.

Pact Welcome

MONTREAL (CP) — The announcement of an anti-kidnapping treaty between Canada and the United States was welcomed by the Canadian Justice Department.

Mr. Kromm said in an interview: "It hasn't been a day yet, I don't think seriously has made of government circles the understanding that at least one of the treaty has been of an agreement to the United States."

Seek Release

OTTAWA (CP) — External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp said the Commons Wednesday the government is working to free the Canadian who has spent years in a Cuban prison.

The minister said the government is prepared to go "all possible assistance" to a small Patrick Lippert of Enchirito, Ont., sentenced to 30 years for smuggling arms into Cuba.

Responding to questions from Press Council (PC-Lewis), Mr. Sharp said the government, through its embassy in Havana, was in touch with Lippert "in custody" as Jan. 22 and learned he was in good health.

He told reporters outside the House the government is in no position to Cuba to humanize the grounds for Lippert's release, but gave no indication whether he expects the efforts to be successful.

Plans Visit

OTTAWA (CP) — New Democratic Party Leader David Lewis plans a visit Friday to three Quebec labor leaders to discuss the situation in the province.

The three were into jail last week after failure of an attempt to support the Supreme Court of Canada against their own unions but they for members of union.

'Eternal' Student Returning Home

VANCOUVER (CP) — The University of British Columbia's well-known "eternal student" has become a dropout after 23 years on campus as an unregistered student, unofficial teacher and faithful social climber.

His name is Karl Burns and lately he's been running "the experimental college" on the UBC campus after twice being thrown out of campus by off-campus employers.

Mr. Burns, a flamboyant 65-year-old former poet and communications camp survivor, says he decided to give up on "Canadian higher learning" and return to his native Germany.

Mr. Burns had an official status at UBC following his dismissal from two off-campus teaching jobs.

But his peculiar figure, perpetual smile and heavy German accent helped him become a part of the UBC scene as the latest pose in "Thunder-Med Parts," the university's "experimental college" from a boy room over the student cafeteria.

Originally from Berlin, Mr. Burns studied history, political science and philosophy at Berlin University from 1951 until 1954. He joined the West party in 1957 "partly because it was natural not to want to become a dropout," he said. He was arrested on a political protest and spent more than five years in a succession of West concentration camps. "I escaped imprisonment by convincing my guards that I had friends in Berlin."

After the Second World War, "I left Germany because I was ashamed. I came here in 1948 with group (Shirley) and my daughter."

"I was a communist and I was ashamed of my past," he said. "I was a communist and I was ashamed of my past."

material future and the trials. "I was convinced that only if I dropped could I have a future."

An educationist, by inclination, he became a brief writer by profession. He wrote books on writing and editing, and books telling the history of German literature and his own life.

of delinquency, which resulted in a study about a case of delinquency. Mr. Burns' educationist background led him to write and edit books on writing and editing.

As it happened, a group of his friends got together and put up the cash for his trip back to Germany.

The self-described socialist Marshall actually admitted his years in Canada ended with total failure.

"I never succeeded in making any student do anything better or worse. And if I was smart I wouldn't have had any students."

For better or worse, the aging retired said he'll continue to live at his home in Berlin, but he'll be back in Germany.

"I hope someone won't be too disappointed in me," he said.

He wrote books on writing and editing, and books telling the history of German literature and his own life.

Pocket Passes Rocket As Habs Best Rangers

By IAN MACLAINE

Canadian Press Staff Writer Henri Richard expressed a great emotion after the Montreal Canadiens' victory over the New York Rangers on Wednesday night at the Montreal Forum.

But the Rocket, Richard, confided after contributing a goal and an assist that his career points, which give him a one-point edge on Maurice Richard, didn't cross his mind "until the papers started talking about it."

"Sure it's nice," he admitted, but suggested the Canadiens' six-point margin over the Rangers in the East Division game is not passing through the player's mind with a 2-0 victory.

"We still have to keep winning," said Richard. "If we lose one and they win one, then we are right back to where we were before tonight's game."

KEVIN VICTORY

And while the Canadiens were concerned about their position in the Prince of Wales Triple, Pittsburgh Penguins began to knock over the visiting New York Rangers on Wednesday night.

"This week is the key to the season," said Penguins coach Dick Scott. "We had to win together three consecutive victories before being held to a 2-2 standstill by Montreal last Saturday, could find the range."

Then it was the only Rangers win last night. Wayne Gretzky, Steve Yager and Bill Paltani—each could score twice, including Michel Pilon who improved his NHL mark to 9:11 while adding for injured Ken Dryden. Yager scored twice in the third period and Pilon with five seconds remaining in the game.

Row Robert, who was a Toronto bench-warmer in 1970-71, used his experience to advantage to help the Sabres, drilling a shot past Leaf goalie Jacques Plante.

The Buffalo winger, who got behind the Toronto defense for his 34th goal of the year, never looked tired. "I know Plante, I used to take shots at him in practice when I was here," Robert said.

Robert said he remembers how the eager visitors gathered to use stick check to push him from him when he got too close, so when the overconfident Sabres yesterday night, "I didn't give him a chance."

He drilled a few shots from about 30 to 15 feet in front of Plante but they all went in.

Fish Pirates' Feted Taiwan Junk Going Home

AKIKLAND (CP) — The extraordinary voyage of the Taiwanese junk Ming Pao has ended its long period of piracy after it was captured and forced three-week holiday in New Zealand.

New Zealand became aware of the presence of the Ming Pao last year when it was sighted fishing near the coast. The 100-ton vessel was reported to have been seen fishing in the extreme north of the country. Thereafter, a search was developed. Reports said the intercepters were landing on the coast and on the water and on the coast and diving for shellfish in black depths of the sea.

The first New Zealand vessel to sail there passed the couple of bottles of beer and they believed they had landed on a wonderful new island area—until the navy and the law caught up with them.

At Whangarei the crew was brought ashore and the ship impounded. When the matter was brought to court for detention, command said it was a native vessel in the extreme and so case of modern fish piracy. The master, he said, had no idea he was doing anything illegal.

The magistrate rejected the idea of a criminal fine, maintaining that a deterrent penalty was necessary. He imposed a fine of $1,000, and by law the vessel was automatically forfeited to the government.

Now, however, the story is that the vessel was released. The government said it did not want the ship and would release it on payment of $700 towards its freight to Australia and the ship.

'Unitons' Seen as Key To Origin of Universe

NEW YORK (Reuters) — The primal stuff from which the universe was born is postulated by a Columbia University professor to be a theory which is still attracting increasing attention from scientists of the distant future.

It explains as much, says Prof. Lloyd Motz, speaking of the matter was used up. Motz explains, in this theory, raw and shabby unitons remained scattered throughout the universe—from the planet earth and its sun to the far reaches of the distant galaxies.

These leftover unitons, he believes, could explain such mysteries as the source of powerful gravity waves which sweep out from the center of the Milky Way galaxy; or the source of quantum, near-galactic-sized humors which sweep out from the center of the galaxy.

The unitons also play a role in the slowing of the expansion of the universe. As time passes, the unitons in the far distant future, the universe will cease to expand and will begin to contract.

According to Motz, unitons, attracted by the mass of the galaxies, are streaming in from the outer reaches of the universe.

where the powerful gravity waves were originated. It would take the energy of 1,000 suns a year coming to produce the kind of gravitational waves which have been observed, Motz says. Using as mass at this rate would make a disruption in the mechanism of galactic activity.

However, if it is assumed that unitons stream into the center of the galaxy, the resultant mass would account for the gravity waves. On an inter-galactic scale, the mass formed from unitons could be exerting gravitational pull which is slowing down the rate at which the universe is expanding.

Motz believes that unitons exist in the universe in a ratio of about one uniton in 100,000 trillion in elementary particle particles.

LONDON (CP) — One amusing story has emerged from the winter fairs, resulting airports around London. A pilot landing from a trans-Atlantic flight arrived at passengers on arrival. "Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to Heathrow." After an embarrassed pause, he added, "I'm sorry, welcome to Gatwick."

Iranian Naval Ships To Enter Indian Ocean

TEHRAN (CP) — Daily Momen reports a steady stream of Iranian naval ships to the Indian Ocean to patrol Iranian waters and to protect Iranian shipping. The ships are being sent to the Indian Ocean to patrol Iranian waters and to protect Iranian shipping. back up its naval presence with its own ship-building and armament-manufacturing capacities at home. In this respect the Indians are ahead, but lack the industrial capacity to match the speed of Persia's development. The Shah's decision to use his navy beyond the confines of the Persian Gulf and Oman Gulf can only have meaning in the context of the immediate balance of power in the Persian Gulf.

However, the American record of withdrawal from its role as global policeman continues. Iran would feel more secure if it could set up new alliances with others who would take the Russian danger—such as a triangular link-up with Saudi Arabia at the southwestern corner and Australia and New Zealand at the southeastern corner of the Indian Ocean.

Less vigorous, perhaps, are Iran's improvements of its land and air forces, both of which have a reputation for being the most modern in the region. Some of the new equipment is being supplied by the United States, but the Shah's military modernization program is not dependent on U.S. aid.

Indo-Pakistani relations are also a factor. Pakistan's nuclear program has been a source of concern to the United States, and the Shah's military modernization program is not dependent on U.S. aid.

Czechs Off to Everest, To Seek Canoe Record

TEHRAN (CP) — Sixteen young Czech adventurers are on their way overland to the Himalayas, not to climb Mount Everest, but to set a world high-altitude record by canoeing on the Dhaul Dhar Lake, which reaches an altitude of over 20,000 feet.

down river, each time. There are seven canoes in the group, the remaining nine members being involved in rescue work, camp installation and other operations. The group includes a champion canoeist from Czechoslovakia, such as Zdenek Vrtak, who was a silver medalist in the world championships in 1966.

The oldest member of the group is 64-year-old Zdenek Vrtak, who has been up the Himalayas before, and is an experienced mountaineer. The party will be carrying all their equipment for the canoe run in the region. Some of the new equipment is being supplied by the United States, but the Shah's military modernization program is not dependent on U.S. aid.

The average speed of a river of this kind," said Jiri Bohac, leader of the expedition, "is between 10 and 20 miles an hour. But the team does not go at exactly that speed because there are swifts and other obstacles, so we have to use a lot of rope."

One thing that is to be noted, the speed of the river varies as they go.

On particular important to the canoeists on this expedition will be the use of the "Eureka" device, which is a special technique used to rig the boat when it overturns in the swift-moving water.

The canoeists, who will be in the boat, find it hard to hold the floating water and must quickly get the boat the right way up. To protect themselves when drenched against the waves, the canoeists will be wearing life jackets and special suits of plastic.

The canoeists themselves are made of reinforced plastic. The adventure begins at 12,000 feet, when the canoeists enter the famous torrents of the Dhaul Dhar. This will be 2,000 feet higher than the river set by American and American teams, who have started at 3,000 feet. To get to the starting point the group will follow the track used through steep valleys to get to the village of Jalding.

The boats will enter the Dhaul Dhar river on the 14th of June, and will travel for stretches of about three miles

Religion-oriented Comics Well Received

TORONTO (CP) — It takes any indication, religious-oriented comic books may be well accepted by churches and Sunday schools as Bible and term books.

Two such comic books, The Cross and The Switchblade and God's Stronger, recently appeared in Toronto's religious bookstores which reported booming sales.

Both comic books are published in the United States.

What the Stars Say

By JEANNE DECOY

Friday, Feb. 18
Arles (March 13-April 18): As you arrive for a creative group or community enterprise, you share may not be extensive but it is important to all.

Tuesday (April 24-May 1)
Now is the time for getting out of old ruts; build habits change, new friendships and acquaintances, or take up a new avocation.

General (May 21-June 1)
In a day of great news, material change, shared nostalgia, even people and places you may never see again.

Experiments are encouraged
In the morning, according to the natural quest for creative change may not return to an old way.

Low (Feb. 24-March 1)
Stay long enough to think through all of friends and not take risks; realize you are neglecting something of value.

Virgo (Feb. 23-March 1)
What you want is more really achieved by quietly doing what is indicated, as opposed to either public recognition.

Luna (Sat. 23-Oct. 27)
In cooperation with old friends, you attempt in some personal ideal. Whatever your ideas you can find authority.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 1)
Get away as there are people make to make, more than you may do; distinguish what your avocations, make life.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23-Dec. 1)

Capricorn (Dec. 23-Jan. 1)
Take all that is coming your way; it is a day of inspection, add additions for those under your supervision. Review your home and its condition.

Aquarius (Jan. 23-Feb. 1)
Take all that is coming your way; it is a day of inspection, add additions for those under your supervision. Review your home and its condition.

Pisces (Feb. 23-March 1)
Take all that is coming your way; it is a day of inspection, add additions for those under your supervision. Review your home and its condition.

To Your Good Health It's Miscarriage After 16 Weeks

By G.C. THOMPSON, MD

Dr. Thompson: If I am three months pregnant and lose my baby without doing anything to cause it, I have a miscarriage. I loved my baby and I am sad to see it go. But I have been told that if it was at three months, it was a miscarriage. I would you write the difference.

Either term means the loss of the fetus, or forming baby. The difference is the state of the fetus at the time it is lost.

If it is about 12 to 14 weeks, the term "miscarriage" is commonly used. After that it is called a "spontaneous abortion."

The way to see what is true is to see what the doctor says. He will tell you whether you have a miscarriage or a spontaneous abortion.

In your case, you have a miscarriage. It is a loss of the fetus, or forming baby, before it is 16 weeks. It is a loss of the fetus, or forming baby, before it is 16 weeks.

Dear Dr. Thompson: I read in your column that a miscarriage is a loss of the fetus, or forming baby, before it is 16 weeks. I am 16 weeks pregnant and I am worried that I might have a miscarriage. What should I do?

Ontario, Rejects Offer to Assist In Ending Strike

OTTAWA (CP) — Ontario has refused a federal offer to cross-haul coal from the United States to assist in ending the coal miners' strike in Ontario.

As a result, the federal government will have to shoulder the cost of the strike. The federal government has offered to assist in ending the strike by cross-hauling coal from the United States to Ontario.

The strike has had serious effects across the province. The coal industry is a major industry in Ontario, and the strike has caused a shortage of coal.

Mr. Mulroney said previous offers to assist in ending the strike by cross-hauling coal from the United States to Ontario.

The economic implications of the strike are very serious. The coal industry is a major industry in Ontario, and the strike has caused a shortage of coal.

Algae Purifies

WATERLOO, Ont. (CP) — Most pollution can be cleaned from small lakes by using algae as a natural mop, a University of Toronto scientist said Thursday.

Dr. F. M. Stokes told 85 fellow researchers that algae, if self considered a form of water pollution, can be cultivated in lakes to soak up toxic materials, then removed by nets.

Impossible

TORONTO (CP) — Police Chief Harold Adamson said it was "impossible" to have 100 men all on duty at the same time.

He told a meeting of the police commission that 1,000 additional men would be needed to maintain a force of 100 men a year.

He said the numbers of two police officers have this year the police commission, "police officers' lives and the health of the city."

Chief Adamson said: "If I could get all the money, there's no way I could get 1,000 people in a short period of time, even if I could." He could not.

Protests

SAGINAW (CP) — Brig. Gen. Doug Gagner, chief of staff of the Canadian military, said the International Commission of Control and Disarmament was reported to have been established in a West Coast town.

He said the numbers of two police officers have this year the police commission, "police officers' lives and the health of the city."

Chief Adamson said: "If I could get all the money, there's no way I could get 1,000 people in a short period of time, even if I could." He could not.

Broadcasters Accept News Curb by Police

QUEBEC (CP) — The Canadian Association of Broadcasters (CAB) and the Association of Chiefs of Police of Canada have agreed a "working understanding" that would give police the right to "make the decision on the release of information for crisis, a broadcaster said Thursday.

Quebec's Police, who were denied of television stations CFCM-TV and CFCM-FM, have accepted a Quebec Association of Chiefs of Police of Canada, which said the decision, which it has considered "a good" for the operation between police and broadcasters.

Sections of the police act allow "broadcaster to refuse to broadcast" a "news item" on a basis for police cooperation and for the right to "make the decision on the release of information for crisis, a broadcaster said Thursday.

Good Guys In Prison

MONTREAL (CP) — Louis Laberge says of his life in prison.

"You must a lot of good guys, quite a difference from lawyers and judges."

Mr. Laberge, president of the Quebec Federation of Labour, is serving a one-year sentence for contempt of court.

He was allowed a one-day leave from jail Thursday to attend a meeting with Labor Minister Jean Comte.

Mr. Laberge was jailed last month with Marcel Poirer, president of the Quebec teachers' Corp. for urging court-ordered hospital workers in June.

He refused under repeated questioning from reporters to reveal the content of his discussion with Mr. Comte.

Mr. Laberge said he was well treated in prison.

"It's not exactly like the U.S.," he said, but rather a democracy — type arrangement where several people are in the same room."

He said Poirer and Comte were his cellmates.

Mr. Laberge drove to jail from Grande Prairie, a town near Quebec City shortly after his release Thursday morning and was scheduled to arrive back Thursday night after the meeting.

Legislation Will Reduce Council

Special provincial amendment to the Act which would reduce a Hastings County council to five members, by the number of members in the county council - has been passed by the provincial legislature.

Change to Ontario local government, based on population, would reduce the number of members permitted to sit on a county council to five, a number that has been reduced from 10 to five.

Council earlier approved a private bill for legislative procedure which would cut back the total of councillors, both members and deputies, to 23 at the beginning of 1975. This would have been before the deputy-represent elected two years later on Feb. 10.

But last week, council decided the new law would be effective at the end of 1975.

Mr. Rolton said he had been given similar assurance that legislation will be introduced - action to reduce - giving council authority in deciding the length of time that deputy-represent will continue to sit on the county council up to the end of 1975.

Mr. Rolton said he had received similar assurance from the provincial legislature.

Treasurer John White and the minister of municipal affairs, Donald Irvine, said the move would speed up the legislative process necessary in substituting council's latest decision according to earlier bill.

Interior Renovation Job Next for Proctor House

By JAY ROBERTSON
Staff Reporter

BRIGHTON — The exterior of one of Brighton's most famous buildings, built by John Proctor in the mid-1800s, has been spared damage from another disaster.

But inside it's another story.

Walls and ceilings have been damaged to the point where the old wood siding will need to be replaced. The interior walls were covered with wallpaper for protection, but mold and mildew are exposed, and rot, woodpecker and grime are everywhere.

But this is not the only sign of severe deterioration of the house. For of this year, the State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) is in more recent years, has a preliminary plan of an additional $25,000.

Although the federal government under its Local Historic Preservation Act is used for interior restoration.

Because of this second great has created a good deal of controversy and conservationist groups of the city.

As recently as 1971, the sale of the Proctor House listed as a prime example of pre-Victorian architecture complete with woodwork, plaster, and other decorative features.

But inside it's another story.

conservationists have been keeping the landmark standing.

When the first renovation application was made, a record was set. It was a record in 1972.

John Canine, manager in Tremont acting as a labor agent, was the first to arrive to take part in the restoration project.

The roof was replaced — not with cedar shingles, but with a suitable material. The interior brickwork that is several blocks from the main house, was packed with several inches of insulation.

The windows were taken out, including two on the first floor, and the house was left to rot.

The windows were replaced with new windows at the front. The wood was repaired and scraped and the glass replaced, with no rot or damage.

All the adjustable shutters were repaired and replaced with a network of standing joints arranged from various locations.

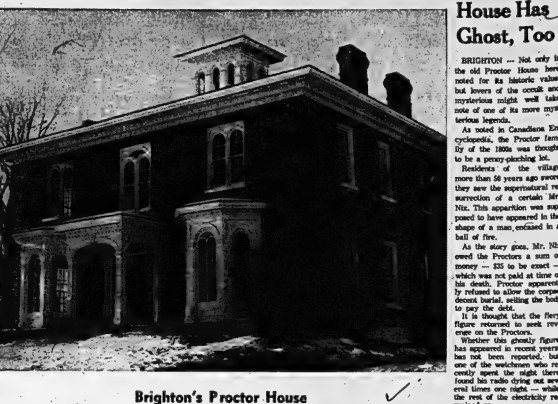

The second phase of the work was to take the interior job and provide 1500 sq. ft. of space for the interior job and provide 1500 sq. ft. of space for the interior job.

Electrical wiring was installed in the house, but with the removal of the antiquated lighting system, only several hundred hours of work were needed to bring the house back to a condition of habitability.

But the workers are not yet finished. The house is still in a state of disrepair.

It is not a simple job to restore a house of this size.

Brighton's Proctor House

Arvid Oberg With Moulding House Was the Centre Of Commercial Empire

BRIGHTON — The Proctor family, whose married Brighton residents would rather forget, according to historians, first came to North America in the 17th century.

It was during the century of the Puritans that the Proctors arrived, first settling in Massachusetts and then later in Vermont.

In 1811, Joseph Proctor emigrated to Canada, cutting the first tree on the site of present-day Brighton. Believed to be a man of immense strength, Joseph Proctor is reported to have weighed 360 pounds.

The family established themselves on 1,000 acres of land, with several towns growing up around the house.

One descendant of the original Arvid Proctor, another Joseph Proctor, served as a village council of 1850. His son John E. Proctor, who built the present Proctor House, north of the village, was reeve of Brighton from 1887 and 1897.

He was described as "a man of great energy and enterprise, who by means of the schooner Boston and his own ship, carried the people of Brighton by land in the winter of ice, cattle, sheep, horses, and other goods, and was a large factor in the commerce of the village."

It was from his widow's estate that the last wooden room on the roof of the mansion, built in 1850, was removed to be replaced by a glass structure.

By the time the estate was sold in 1928, after a four-year, five-year, the structure was a growing family, but eventually built 12 children.

The exact date of construction of the present mansion has not been established.

Some believe it is a house of the 18th century.

in 1887. But one old family name exists with the date 1887 on it.

The main portion of the house was obviously built in a more recent date than the 18th century.

Operation Rehearsals Given

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP) — People about to have operations at a one-man night clinic at St. Anne's Hospital.

See pictures of everything that happens to a surgical patient from admission to discharge. The practice exercises they are expected to do after they are operated on and are encouraged to ask for help if they need it.

She says it is helpful if patients know what will happen when they have things done. "For instance, if surgery patients don't know what is to be done to them, they are scared and they expect to be in pain, and they are not," she said.

When they were given the help of two members of the hospital staff, the group was told that the patient is not only in his own care. Sometimes, however, a patient can only be in his own care. Of course, they are all working to get more information, he just can't absorb it. The patients in the group operate one another.

She said rehearsal has shown that people who have had the operation are less likely to worry after surgery.

The sides and accompanying sound track were made during two months at the hospital. The staff and auxiliary members have all seen the material.

Artistic personnel, H. J. Krenkiewicz says the women who make up Sister Agathe are screened.

"A woman who is herself frightened" by surgery could have a bad effect on patients," she says. They are not encouraged to answer questions about operations.

It is not known enough, and in this case, it's more important to know what you do know. They are able to react intelligently. If they have to be told how to take a patient, we can't tell them.

Alertness In Our Time Stressed

This year's day of prayer to be held on St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Rockville, March 17th is "Alert in our time."

The theme of St. Andrew's is a call to follow Christ's way to join the fellowship and to be alert to every opportunity of serving service to others.

It stresses alertness to the needs of all people.

Quake has sponsored a 1938 Day of Prayer since 1934 when it was first celebrated in a nation-wide scale.

St. John Chapter, 100E, had been in February with their regular monthly, annual and a day of prayer meeting, presided over by Mr. J. C. Connelley.

Mr. J. C. Connelley took the installation of officers for the 1937-38 year. The officers were: Mr. E. A. Adams, president; Mr. E. A. Adams, vice president; Mr. E. A. Adams, secretary; Mr. E. A. Adams, treasurer; Mr. E. A. Adams, chaplain; Mr. E. A. Adams, pastor.

Letting Belleville know what the United Community Services is doing in the name of the game for a new UCC center, it was announced by a number of directors representing the public relations committee.

The formation of such a committee was a discussed briefly at the meeting of the chapter meeting. The board at that time voiced some opinion that many people in the city didn't know what the board was doing with money raised through the United Way.

It was at this meeting that the board unanimously voted to allow the press to enter the meeting, setting a precedent for UCC in the city.

Mr. Pepper, in his first address to the board as its president said, "We must break down the notion that we are here and everybody else is out there, 'hunting at a dinner' between the board and the community."

The UCC, last fall, had been criticized in the press for its reluctance to comment on the progress of fund donations. In the early portion of the meeting, members of the board were given a list of committees that would be set up through the coming terms.

Mr. Pepper and some other board members suggested the public relations committee should be headed by private business people.

Mr. E. A. Adams, who is giving to have to maintain an official relationship with the city, and he hoped this time would be better through the public relations committee. He described public relations as a key area for the new board's attention.

Stitchers Meet

TWEED — "Getting Ready to Cut Out the Pattern" and "Cutting and Making" were discussed at the second meeting of the Crookston 41 Club.

During the next half of the home of Mrs. Don Blackmore, the meeting was read by Joanne Easthope. It was decided to call the club the "Stitching Stitchers."

Back to School

CHARLESTONVILLE (AP) — Walter R. Shaw, 35-year-old former Conservative premier, decided to go on an university study in 1937.

He had accepted an invitation to become "instructor in residence" at the University of P.E.I. in Charlottetown. He was associated to invite distinguished scholars to spend some time at the university.

What the Stars Say

TUESDAY, FEB. 28
Arnie (March 24-April 18): It's an ugly day, but worth the effort. Get an early start, with reserves mobilized to take full advantage of any break.
Taurus (April 20-May 20): Long-extended projects can be moved up a notch if you re-appear quickly enough. Group activity may carry you forward.
Gemini (May 21-June 21): Make immediate use of what comes at hand, short-term gains regulated, rather than no-bid long-term involvement.
Cancer (June 22-July 22): Whatever you are concerned should be done will respond. Thoroughness to your efforts. Take to heart the doing of things discussed.
Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Be up and out making the most of the hour. You have all sorts of side issues to settle or defer.
Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Early hours of day disagree. The storm of the day. Later hours bring on a flood of social interest.
Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You now find the high side of your prosperity and persuasive powers get you into situations you need to enter.

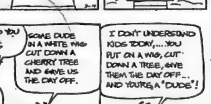

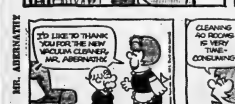

back's stars prepared for:
Sagittarius (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Many secrets were into your awareness as you watch people jockeying up after their weekend holiday diversion.
Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): With good intentions and as early start, you can make a personal triumph in the run of daily's work, and keep promises.
Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Intention takes over. You can make favorable exchanges of property and valuable advancement becomes more of a reality.
Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): One thing at a time will succeed. See more of the current, some relief. Take the time to make corrections.
Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20): One thing at a time will succeed. See more of the current, some relief. Take the time to make corrections.

Every part of forest tree may provide food for some kind of insect.
INSECT SUBMERGED
 The painted turtle cannot swallow any food unless its head is under water.

Turner's Family Budget Taxes, Tariffs Cut Pensions Increased

By IRVING C. WHITNEY, CP Business Editor
OTTAWA (CP) — "It's a family budget for the average Canadian family."

That was Finance Minister John Turner's description of his Monday night budget in which he increased personal income tax by at least five per cent, altered old age pensions and lowered sales taxes and customs duties on numerous consumer items ranging from cornmeal to fruit and vegetables.

The budget measures, he told a news conference following his appearance to the House, to increase the take-home pay of average Canadians and put more money in their pockets.

"That is a risk worth taking," he said, "because the breadwinner makes less than $10,000."

Who's busy with the budget?

Budget Highlights

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Basic federal income tax on individuals on the 1973-74 tax year will be increased by a married couple by $130 to $2,898 this year.

Tax-free earnings for an individual raised by $100 to $1,000 annually, the exemption for a married couple by $150 to $2,000 this year.

Personal income tax exemptions and rates to be adjusted annually from next year to discount increases due to inflation.

Basic old-age security benefits to be raised April 1 to $180 a month from $22.50 a week and a previously scheduled $84.81 had been due in April.

The 12-per-cent federal sales tax at the wholesale factory-gate level abolished from all children's clothes and footwear and from non-food products such as chocolate bars and soft drinks.

Luxury excise tax on 18 per cent removed from cameras, toilet articles and clocks and watches worth more than $50 a piece.

Import duties reduced immediately on a range of consumer products.

Family farms to be free of capital gains tax when passing land to heirs.

Smaller corporate capital gains tax rates on investments, with more help for pension funds.

Budget brought in $173.1 million in new spending in the 1973-74 fiscal year.

War veterans and civilian war veterans allowances to be increased under new provisions.

Tariff cuts on consumer items to include some fruits and vegetables, oil and oil seeds grown in Canada.

NDP Backs Turner

OTTAWA (CP) — New Democratic leader David Lewis said today that his party will support the minority Liberal government's new tax-and-distributing budget.

With $1.5 million, the NDP held the balance of power in the House and its support for Prime Minister Joe Clark's budget. Mr. Lewis said the NDP would support the budget's tax and distribution measures.

Mr. Lewis announced his party's intention to back the budget, "which is a strong, common-sense measure."

Mr. Lewis indicated shortly after the budget speech that the government had come a long way in its budget road-giving NDP support.

Tax cuts, tariff reductions and an increase in the old-age pension were something his party had fought for for a long time, he said.

Mr. Lewis said reporters there was much to be said in the budget and that his party remained poised to vote against any part of the budget.

The chief decision was that the NDP could not support the government's new tax-and-distributing budget.

Conservative Leader Robert Stanfield said he felt the government had borrowed too heavily from the public account when competing for votes.

He said the NDP would not support the budget, but would support the government's new tax-and-distributing budget.

Calculated Risk

Mr. Turner said his expenditure budget designed to boost the economy and produce jobs is a calculated risk.

"We recognize that we are taking a risk and that the risk is in the size of the expenditure," he said.

"But we believe that the risk is worth taking because the economy for the last few years has been in a state of stagnation."

"That is a risk worth taking," he said, "because the breadwinner makes less than $10,000."

Another risk he didn't mention directly was the political risk of a minority government that must gain approval for its budget.

The official opposition, the Progressive Conservative Party, said the budget fails to provide a coherent economic plan for the country's economic problems.

Mr. Turner said the budget is a calculated risk, but he believes it is worth taking.

Another Landmark Disappears

The old Simpson Tavern at the corner of Dundas and Front Streets, which more than a century ago was a stopping-off place for travellers, is going under the wreckers' hammer. The old frame structure built about 1850, years ago, has been vacant in recent years and is being razed to make way for a combination chicken take-out, gubar and car-wash.

Farms Freed From Gains Tax While They Stay in Family

OTTAWA (CP) — It took almost two years for the federal government now has decreed that its capital gains tax—as originally intended—would have had an undesirable effect on the family farm.

Tax changes announced in Monday night's budget will exempt as long as the farms remain in the family. Definition of family farm is to be applied on a case-by-case basis.

When the capital gains tax was presented to Parliament in 1971, opposition critics and farm spokesmen complained that it would kill the family farm.

Under the capital gains tax provisions effective Jan. 1, 1972, the tax was levied on the value of a farm when its owner died, even if he left the farm to his children.

"The change announced Monday night, however, is retrospective to Jan. 1, 1972, and thus in effect means those provisions were never in effect," said Mr. Turner.

In his budget speech, Finance Minister John Turner said that the question of preserving the family farm is of great importance.

"Under the present rules, when a farmer dies and leaves his farm to his children, he is treated as if he has sold the farm at its full market value," Mr. Turner said.

Bobbies Kill Two Armed Intruders

LONDON (CP) — Three armed intruders, their faces covered with stocking masks, invaded the Indian high school building today, but were shot and killed by police.

The intruders had been in the school building for some time, but were shot and killed by police.

MPs Mild In Budget Criticism

OTTAWA — Quite a few Progressive Conservative MPs shared a view on Monday that the government's budget was "not too bad" and that the night's federal budget presentation was "not too bad."

The reason: They felt much of the Finance Minister's presentation was "not too bad."

George Brown, MP Prince Edward Island, said: "I think it was a pretty good budget."

Among those few who were not so sure were the opposition leaders, who said the budget was "not too bad."

There have been six attempts to get the bill passed in the House of Commons.

At least, that's what the federal government's press release said.

Warman Returned as Chairman

Proctor House Title Dispute Leads to Charges of Rip-off

The story at this point is a little confused. Some members of the LTREA, said they thought sale of the house and some of land to 5000 was a rip-off. Others said they were under the impression that sale of the property was a rip-off. Others said they were under the impression that sale of the property was a rip-off.

RAY KADUCK

He said they "suggested that to see any measure to get the house and some of land to 5000 or the local conservation authority."

70 Die Libyan Jet shot down

TEL AVIV (CP) — At least 70 persons were killed and 13 aircraft were shot down by Israeli fighters when a Libyan jet was shot down in the Mediterranean Sea, Israeli officials said today.

The spokesman said the Boeing 727 was forced down when it did not respond to Israeli warnings and fired at Israeli jets and to order it to land.

The spokesman said rescue workers were at the scene at tempting to pull survivors out of the wreckage.

It was the first time a Libyan aircraft has been caught in the Middle East conflict, and came only 11 hours after Israeli commandos rescued from a raid on seven Palestinian Arab guerrilla bases in northern Lebanon.

The spokesman said the Libyans fired a second Israeli aircraft 20 miles from the coast, and was shot down by Israeli fighters.

Israeli planes were seen firing at the plane, and Israeli fighters were seen firing at the plane, and Israeli fighters were seen firing at the plane.

By Israeli Commandos

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli commandos raided two Arab guerrilla bases at the northern end of Lebanon today, more than 30 miles above the Israeli-Lebanon border.

The Israeli military command said "scores" of guerrillas were killed. The raid reported by guerrilla sources in Lebanon ranged from 10 to 25, with more than 50 wounded.

Israel said its only casualties were eight wounded, but a guerrilla leader said: "Scores" were heavy, far more than the Israeli raid in the area, and included a number of deaths.

Ottawa Outlay Rises Billion

OTTAWA (CP) — The government Tuesday presented a preliminary forecast of spending and lending for the 1973-74 fiscal year of $19.3 billion amid indications that the government will easily top the $20-billion level.

The preliminary estimate, which is a rough guide to the government's final forecast for the current year ending March 31, is at least $1 billion more than the government originally forecast for 1973.

The spending estimate, tabled in the Commons by Treasury Board President C. M. Dwyer, was drawn up before Finance Minister John Turner presented his budget.

"So these estimates of federal spending don't include the higher government outlay for the current year," he said.

Mr. Turner's Budget

You don't have to be a politician or even an economist to realize that Finance Minister John Turner's budget is a political effort, conceived under the gun of minority government status and specifically the cocky New Democratic Party and its leader David Lewis.

As such, the budget fulfills expectations to a considerable degree. There is relief for taxpayers as well as additional cash for pensioners. It is a budget that is both expansionary and inflationary. But Mr. Turner evidently is counting on there to be enough of the latter to hurt the economy. What it means in terms of that other major bugbear, unemployment, only time will show. All we know is that in the kind of economic circumstances obtaining in Canada today jobs do not grow on trees. Nor do they become available in substantial numbers overnight. Furthermore, this would apply to no matter who is in power.

In any event it is a budget that should appeal to the short-term to most of us and to most elements of the economy. What it does in the long term though is another matter. Memories are short in this difficult to anticipate at this stage what the long-term benefits will be.

Finance minister Turner himself does not come over in the role of one who has all the answers. But in this he is no different than any other before him. Mr. Turner is a lawyer and as such would be expected to know something at least of money management. It is a fact that he is like the rest of us—a wimp in the economic wilderness. The minister then is something of an enigma in this role (and he really is, as none are saying, prime minister material), a man dancing, like others before him, in the dark and hoping his fiscal choreography will keep the people happy, himself in a job, and the government in power.

After the Fire

To escape from a fire with one's life is cause for gratitude, but to lose all one's possessions in the disaster produces an agonizing sense of deprivation loss.

There was a fire like that in Ottawa recently. Like any blaze it had its own singular, awesome quality, but the human drama was perhaps more interesting than most as we shall see.

Quick action by 17-year-old Lagar high school student Paul Martin credited with helping all 66 residents of the 70-year-old four-story Clark Apartments to escape without injury. Turner, 21 minutes after the fire broke out, ran down to direct the whole building, two blocks from Rideau street, was abandoned by those who were fleeing.

John McDonald, his daughter Mary, a retired school teacher, and 79-year-old Judge O'Connor.

All were alive, but the sense of personal loss was keen, not only in their homes but for possessions. Miss McDonald lost a unique collection and Captain Frank Martin lost his father's paintings done in Europe and drawings from his youth.

Commentator John McDonald saw things differently though. "I think it must have been the Shurtens' meeting tonight," he said, more concerned about that than over the loss of possessions.

At that age maybe, human values, such as the companionship of one's fellows, are more significant. Certainly they manifested themselves in the aftermath of the blaze. Judge O'Connor reportedly stayed overnight at the apartment, wondering what to do, when neighbors offered to take him in. Indeed, each of the 28 people still housed in the Clark at this time of the fire was during the night.

That no lives were lost though was fortunate. There will be heartache of course. There was a lot of sentimental value in the possessions, but there is a challenge too, even for those in the evening of their lives, to start afresh.

Firms and Union Deny Most Truck Drivers Steal

TORONTO (CP) — Transport company executives and teamsters officials have denied claims by a United States security expert that 86 per cent of truck drivers in Canada steal from their companies.

Bob Curtin, security consultant from Dayton, Ohio, told the annual conference of the Lumber and Building Materials Association of Ontario that Canadian stores lose more than $1 million a day in thefts and that employees steal more than shoplifters.

CP News Roundup

He said truck drivers are the most dishonest group of employees.

"These are wild statements prof," said Duke Thomson, an executive with the Central Conference of Teamsters. "I think this guy (Mr. Curtis) was trying to stir up some business for his services."

John Cox, an official with Smith Transport, the largest trucking firm in Canada, described Mr. Curtis' statements as "outrageous."

John Kennedy, a Kingway Transport Ltd. official, said that there is little beef by employees at his company, and "the industry in general suffers no more of this kind of stuff than does any other business."

Award Is

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Court of Appeal ruled Tuesday that the $4,000 awarded a Barrie woman's claim in the right eye in April, 1979, not income, and ordered that deductions be made from the assistance she is receiving.

Mrs. Ellen Elliott, then 33 and the mother of a four-year-old son, was deserted by her husband in Sept. 1971. She was granted $178 a month in general

Award Is Not Income

Not Income

The court of appeal, under Chief Justice George Gale, allowed the appeal and said Miss Elliott is to be reimbursed any deductions have been made from her welfare payments.

Bilingual Courses Planned

OTTAWA (CP) — More than 4,500 post-secondary students from across Canada will take part in six-to-seven-week "immersion courses" this summer to familiarize them with the second language.

The agreement between the secretary of state's office and the council of ministers of education was signed Tuesday by State Secretary Hugh Faulkner and Dr. Maurice Richer, secretary of the council.

The continuation of the summer language bursary program was announced earlier. It will cost about $2.8 million

Toronto Studies Sales Tax

TORONTO (CP) — Metropolitan Toronto council decided Tuesday to seek new ways of increasing tax revenue—possibly a one-per-cent sales tax or a portion of the federal income tax.

104 Years Old

MIDLAND, Ont. (CP) — Felix Latour turned 104 years old last week and the secret of his longevity is a bit of a mystery even to his own family.

Identify Bodies

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Two headless bodies have been identified as missing Santa Clara co-eds, the coroner's office said Tuesday. They raised to 15 the number of murder victims found in that coastal rear community this year. Rolando Prahl, chief Alameda County coroner's investigator, said identification of Alice Mein 19, 28, and Rosalind Thorpe, 23, was made through "a combination of physical evidence."

Control Rents

* QUEBEC (CP) — Legislation to prevent excessive rent increases during 1973 was tabled in the Quebec national assembly Tuesday by Justice Minister Jerome Choquette. The bill would allow tenants to appeal the Quebec Rental Board if rent increases they feel are unreasonable. It is then up to the landlord to justify the increase.

Flyer Rescued

Body Recovered

TROUT LAKE, Ont. (CT) The body of a 19-year-old whose plane crashed near isolated community 300 north of Thunder Bay has recovered.

Robbed Aged

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — A day parolee from a men's prison, who passed himself as a doctor while visiting home for the aged, was sentenced Tuesday to an additional 12-month term for possession of stolen articles from the rooming house of an 81-year-old invalid. John Richard, 27, serving a 13-month term for robbery and a 12-month term for larceny, pleaded guilty to the 20 charge at his provincial court trial.

Plan Meeting

CHATHAM, Ont. (CP) - Kent County board of education decided Tuesday night to arrange a meeting with the local Island Band Council to discuss the contents of a document drawn up by the Union of Native Indians on discrimination.

Queen, Philip to Visit Ten Centres in Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — The Queen and Prince Philip will visit ten centres in Ontario this summer, starting June 25 with a tour of Ontario Place in Toronto.

A detailed itinerary of the tour, released Tuesday from the office of Premier William Davis, shows the royal couple will visit Cobourg, Kingston, Kitchener, Cambridge, London, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Hamilton, Windsor, and Detroit.

Waterloo-Cambridge area, and later in the day to St. Catharines. On the evening of June 28, the royal couple will attend the Shaw Festival at Niagara Falls for a special performance of Verdi's Macbeth.

They will then travel to Hamilton and visit the Hamilton Civic Centre and the Hamilton Civic Centre.

On July 1, en route west from Prince Edward Island, they will visit Thunder Bay to open new government buildings and a new hospital.

The train takes them the next day, June 28, to the Kitchener area.

No Sewage Said Involved In Overflow from Lagoon

GORMLEY, Ont. (CP) — E. P. Seagram, president of the Jordan Valley Sewers Ltd., said Tuesday there was no sewage involved in the $100,000 spill from a lagoon at the resort development.

He said the resort had been closed for several days for treatment until pollution abated.

The lagoon had become full and the sewage treatment plant was asked for permission to discharge into a nearby stream.

The municipality granted permission to subject to water sampling and testing.

Tests were made, he said, but the lagoon overflowed into the stream before the results of the water tests.

Subsequently the ministry had noted that the water was clean.

Metropolitan Council was told of the spill Monday by district chairman Miller.

J. R. Hart, director of the environment ministry's sanitary engineering branch, said in Windsor, Ont., of $1.5 million in damage to the city.

The change of plans followed a meeting with the city's mayor, John Diefenbaker, and other officials.

Man Pleads Guilty To Conspiring To Rob

STARRATON, Ont. (CP) — Joseph Bruce Atchuk of Chatham, Ont., and Judge Wilfred Dufford of Chatham, Ont., after Mr. Atchuk withdrew charges of armed robbery and possession of stolen property, Judge Dufford adjourned sentencing on the conspiracy to rob the Royal Bank of Canada at Windsor, Ont., to December 27.

The change of plans followed a meeting with the city's mayor, John Diefenbaker, and other officials.

House Paintings

Scores from slay, Rast and Grevil decorate the front of the children's orphanage in Oberhausen, Germany. Although the slayings are fairly recent, most of the house paintings are as old as 200 years and are concentrated in a small area in southern Germany. (CP Photo)

Allan Lawrence Fails in Bid To Call PM Before Committee

OTTAWA (CP) — The special Commons committee on food prices voted Tuesday not to call Prime Minister Trudeau as a witness, then failed to a delegation from the Manitoba government argue that food prices are not necessarily too high in Canada.

The committee also heard a delegation from the Canadian Commoners' Association call for tighter competition legislation and question advertising methods used by major supermarket chains.

The vote against calling Mr. Trudeau passed by a narrow 8-7 margin when Liberal MPs, in a minority committee position, were supported by New Democratic Party members who just one day earlier had attempted to have the Commons order the prime minister to appear.

Allan Lawrence (PC-Northwest Territories) raised the subject when he accused Mr. Trudeau of trying to upgrade the committee's work by having the weekend that Call ada would be crazy to impose price controls at this time. The Manitoba brief, presented by provincial economist W. P. Jansen, said it recommends have just paid too little attention to a so-called "unassorted pre-later cost-of-living factors."

Police Chiefs Hold Meeting With London News Media

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Police chiefs of London, Windsor and Toronto met Monday with representatives of London news media to discuss a proposed set of guidelines for the handling of news about police activities.

Used as a basis for discussion were guidelines produced by the Canadian Association of Broadcasters and the Canadian Association of Police Chiefs. News media and the police chiefs had been involved in preparing the guidelines.

Chief Walter Johnson of London said the meeting provided organizations of police chiefs have eventually to see guidelines adopted that are acceptable to local news organizations and police.

Last week Pierre Jansen, chairman of the Canadian Radio-Television Commission, circulated individual stations not to implement the guidelines issued by the C.A.B. and the association of police chiefs.

Mr. Jansen said the CRTC considers independent dissemination of news as a primary requirement of each broadcaster's responsibility for its programming.

Chief Bob Cook of Santa, Chief Gordon Prentice of Windsor, Managing Editor W. H. Williams of London Free Press and representatives of CTV, radio and television and CRTC, radio attended Monday's meeting.

The chiefs covered that much of the meeting in the proposed guidelines had been taken from United States policies.

Mr. Williams said he does not think it possible to draft written rules that will work.

Chief Johnson said he feels guidelines can be drafted and agreed upon by provincial or national representatives of police and news organizations.

Chief Williams said several organizations represent newspapers and news can work for the press.

The London news director of CTV, Ltd., said any organization that can speak for newspapers cannot speak for broad news and that media organizations would have to be represented separately.

"I don't think a national or provincial committee is possible at this time," said Mr. Williams. "I said if guidelines are needed the drafting should start now."

He added: "We're not accepting."

Man Seeks Release From Debtors' Prison

NEW YORK (AP) — A middle-aged truck driver must release from a debtor's cell Tuesday, saying he was being held under duress because he can't pay his family $150-week support on a $10 weekly salary.

Ralph A. Haddock, 38, of Bradford, Conn., said his wife used for support for herself and five children, not to get money from him, but because she was afraid he could not stay in his cell far unless she did.

His wife said she was determined to resort to family court enforcement procedures, said Haddock in a federal court yesterday morning release from city leave again.

Haddock said he now finds himself living in constant fear of homicidal dangers and sexual harassment, unable to eat, sleep or work.

Haddock said he was separated from his wife and children in 1971. Originally, he was supposed to pay them $150 a week, but he was out of work with no money and fell in love with the woman who said she was married to a man who was in the army.

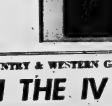

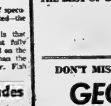

Federal Judge Joseph Haddock in a federal court yesterday morning release from city leave again.

Will Map Southern Sky

One of the largest astronomical telescopes in the world is to be dedicated to the study of the southern sky by the British Science Research Council at Siding Spring Observatory, New South Wales, Australia.

Many new objects are expected to be discovered in the southern sky such as supernovae, comets and meteorites, said the astronomers.

It is hoped that the new telescope will be able to see the southern sky in the next few years. (CP Photo)

Airliner Strayed Israel Reckons For Killing 15

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel was widely denounced today for shooting down a Libyan airliner in which more than 100 persons died.

President Nixon sent condolences to Libya and Egypt, a pointed rebuke to the Israelis. But a Lebanese newspaper charged him with hypocrisy, likening him to "a murderer who attends the funeral of his victims." Canada expressed "shock and regret."

Israel said its fighters flew on the Boeing 727 Wednesday because the airline's French pilot refused to land after being ordered to land after flying over Israeli military installations along the Suez canal.

The deaths took place apparently about 100 miles off the Egyptian coast. The Israeli airline said there were 121 persons aboard the plane, including nine crew members and 112 passengers.

The Libyan airline said five Americans and two French, two of the passengers were German and the others about 100 were Libyans, Egyptians, Jordanians, Lebanese, Palestinians, Indians, Indonesians, and others among the survivors, the first officer and a stewardess.

The unidentified group of countries at the United Nations in New York expressed "solidarity with the countries which have been the victims of Israeli aggression," and called upon "the international community to put an end to the aggressive policy of Israel."

The Canadian viewpoint, made known by External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp in messages to Libya and Egypt, "It was with shock and regret that my colleagues and I learned of the destruction of a Libyan civil aircraft in the Sinai peninsula on Feb. 21 and the attendant extensive loss of life." Sharp said.

The Libyan government said Wednesday a flight originated in Tripoli, overland Cairo airport, and landed in the Sinai. It had weather, strayed across the border into Israeli-held territory.

The plane was downed about 12 miles from the canal, which is approximately seven minutes' flying time from Cairo airport. The plane's first officer, who was Israeli, injured and suffered from shock, was quoted by a Lebanese newspaper. Sharp was telling his interrogators.

The Israeli newspaper Ma'ariv said that if we were in Israeli-held territory, we get very frightened, and we decided to try and get out of it as soon as possible without alerting the warplanes."

The paper also claimed the pilot of the liner tried to flee the Israeli by turning his back to the Israeli and pretending to begin landing. They suddenly turned east, gained altitude and fled. The Israeli air force planes were ordered to shoot down the liner.

Trade Outlook U.S., Canada Goals Alike

TORONTO (CP) — With the possible exception of agriculture, American and Canadian goals should parallel each other in demands for expanded and liberalized international trade patterns later this year, a high-ranking U.S. trade negotiator said Wednesday.

William Rogers, deputy assistant representative of President Nixon with the rank of ambassador, said world economic balance has shifted largely because of the emergence of the European Economic Community (EEC) and a strong competitive Japanese economy.

In multilateral negotiations later this year, the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), he said, Canada and the U.S. should find common ground for seeking reductions in tariff and non-tariff barriers to international trade.

"Probably the most contentious area of international trade is agricultural trade resulting from the EEC and the Japanese trade barrier," Rogers said. "The U.S. and Canada have a common goal in the last decade, 'we want to see the world open up to trade.'"

Rogers said Canada clearly shares our desire for wider markets and more open trade. "I suspect we may differ in the details of how to achieve this," he said. "The forthcoming round of negotiations will be the test."

Central Canada Seen As Threat to Unity

TORONTO (CP) — Central Canada must shoulder its share of Canada's economic problems, the Ontario Premier, Robert Harris, said today. He said the province must take its share of the economic burden.

Woman Who Gave Birth On Jet to Be Charged

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Federal authorities say the woman who gave birth to a girl and then abandoned her to the custody of a United Air Lines jet will be charged under the heading of crimes committed aboard an aircraft.

The 36-year-old full-term baby was found Monday night stuffed in an airplane toilet minutes after the plane landed down in Youngstown, Ohio, following a 22-minute flight from Pittsburgh.

The child is shown above with a nurse at a Warren, Ohio, hospital. She was born at 10:10 a.m. and weighed 7 pounds 12 ounces. She was named after the airline's first lady.

Trenton Air Disaster Scheduled for Tuesday

TRENTON—Trenton is situated next to a large military airport. Plans are being laid out at almost every hour.

What would happen if a large passenger jet were to crash in Trenton's residential district of the city?

Next Tuesday, a simulated exercise involving an "air crash" will be held in Trenton's residential district of the city.

The entire plan is being coordinated through the efforts of the Emergency Measures Co-ordinating and its commander, Col. Angus Duffy of Belleville.

Commenting on the forthcoming exercise, Col. Duffy said Trenton has become well known for its interest in emergency plans. He said the town was one of the first to have municipalities to assist a passenger emergency plane on March 6, 1970.

Trenton's emergency plan was circulated throughout the city and used as an example, he said.

During the exercise, officials of the emergency plan will be in the city of the department of safety, fire, police and other municipalities will be on duty. Trenton's on-paper disaster.

On paper, the disaster will occur this way: At 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 27, Col. Duffy will be making Trenton at the exact moment a large passenger jet, carrying 100 people, will be spotted crashing into Col. Duffy Street.

The resulting "crash" will result in the deaths of all passengers and crew and will cause a large fire.

At the same time, fire trucks will arrive at the crash site and will begin to extinguish the fire. Other departments will be on duty.

Indians Gather in Ottawa For Woman's Status Case

OTTAWA (CP) — Hundreds of Indians are in Ottawa today to witness the beginning of a Supreme Court hearing which already has raised them against one another and promises to divide them more when it's over. The issue is whether a woman born an Indian should retain her official status as an Indian when she marries a white or non-Indian.

The government, through the Indian Act of 1869, recognized about 200,000 Indians in Canada and according to those officially registered as such the right to live and own property on reserves as well as special health, welfare and educational benefits.

Women who marry non-Indian or non-Indian men and their children lose their rights. Many, depending on the particular wife, are discriminated against, forbidden to set foot on the reserve and deprived of health rights.

Indian men who marry non-Indian or white women, however, stay at their birth rights with their wives and pass them down to their children. There are an estimated 500,000 non-Indian Indians, and many status women who married non-Indian or white men are located off the official government list for any number of reasons including marital intervention in the case says that when a woman in the Indian agent was married—see their documents.

Twelve of the law to lose the "benefit of state."

has conveniently made it possible for at these Indian children to come to Ottawa at this particular time to meet with the help of the department of Indian Affairs.

The Indian Affairs department, she says, claims they are consulting with the people regarding the case.

But as far as Mrs. Turner is concerned, the government is ignoring one side of the story—the side of those not officially registered as Indians, and providing the other side with an Indian handbook. But they do not support her case for the duration of the hearing.

The two main organizations supporting the case are the National Indian Congress, an association of Indian and non-Indian Indians, and the Committee for Indian Rights. Mrs. Turner is a lawyer in a law firm in Ottawa, and she is not a member of either.

Small co-chairman.

In a brief to Indian Affairs Minister, the Indian Association of Alberta argued: "In our way of life it has always been the man who has had the responsibility of caring for his woman and family. . . . Because our lives are so limited and our resources so poor it would have been economically impossible to have so many new people."

Fears that while men who marry Indian women would go onto the reserve, lack control of their land and power, and that Indian women would be flooded by white women and their children, she said.

Some reserves, she said, allow their women to remain on the reserve with their non-Indian husbands. But they do not support her case for the duration of the hearing.

The women fighting on behalf of the Indian Act express a variety of reasons for doing so. As far as the study and most of the Indian and non-Indian Indians, they are mostly gold diggers.

Most of them are women who lost their status by marrying outsiders. They are supported by Indian and non-Indian groups as well as a number of largely white women's organizations. While they claim 500 support, they are actually looking for an estimated 500 Indians.

The Federal Court of Canada is expected to hear the case in the next few months.

Coffin of Petain Returned to Tomb

PARIS (AP) — A military plane returned the flag-draped coffin of Marshal Philippe Petain to his tomb on a nearby island off the Atlantic Coast today even though it may cost the French government millions of dollars.

The coffin was found Wednesday night in a garage in a northern suburb of Paris. It had been left there by a group of men who said it was from the late Charles de Gaulle.

World's Problems Global

OTTAWA (CP) — The world's most pressing problems are global in nature and solutions also must be looked at from a global viewpoint, Dr. Alex King, member of the G-10, said Wednesday.

The problems of over-population, escalating energy resources, food, shelter, education, medical care and pollution are all interconnected, he said.

Dr. King, a member of the G-10, said that the world's problems are global in nature and solutions also must be looked at from a global viewpoint.

Gas Truck Explosion
Closes 400

TORONTO (CP) — A fatal gas truck explosion closed Highway 400 for 400 metres today as all six lanes of traffic were shut down.

The explosion, which occurred at the intersection of Highway 400 and Highway 7, was caused by a gas truck that overturned after a gas valve broke open, spraying flaming gas over the bridge.

Police working on the bridge estimated traffic might be closed for 400 to 600 metres. OPP reported the unidentified gas truck overturned on the bridge.

The explosion, about 15 miles north of the city limits, also closed off Highway 400 for 400 metres. Highway 400 is one of the most heavily used roads in the province, needed to carry traffic south of the city.

Police said traffic south of the bridge was being detoured.

Engineers were trying to determine how the gas truck overturned. The cause of the explosion was not known.

Police said the gas truck was carrying a large amount of gas. The explosion was heard for miles around.

Women's Institutes Make Better Life for All

Living "bread" and "butter" are not the only things that can be made from wheat and milk, but with the help of the Women's Institutes, it would be still possible to produce these today.

Celebrating its 75th birthday this year, the organization has a membership around the world.

The Ontario division of the Federated Women's Institutes has a total membership of 30,000 women.

In the area, subdivision 5, representative Mrs. Clifford Barber noted that a year with other board directors in Ontario is almost a year for their organization. For one week in April, 60 provincial board directors in all will describe their subdivision's resolution which would be a provincial legislative to improve health.

Following this convention, all resolutions made will reach higher levels in the provincial government. Ministers will discuss letters from the members of the institute.

Choose Unwisely

TORONTO (CP) — The new credit system in Ontario high schools, which allows students to choose their subjects freely, may be harmful to many young people, says A.C. Phillips, principal of a suburban high school.

Phillips said that many students are being "shortchanged" because they are allowed to take courses that are too easy for them. "Many are not willing to challenge their potential," he said.

"On the first day, they looked a little surprised when I walked in, but they didn't mind me that much," she said. "On the second day, they were better. I told her when the class began, 'when a few of them were around me and I didn't feel, they figured I was quite responsible.'"

"How they treat me this time is much better, putting them in my pocket, or throwing pieces of fat at me. When they want to talk with a black woman, they say, 'Come on, sister.' Or they think it's my turn on the scene, they give me the seat."

Sister Jean Ann said that although the "sister" act, like a new theme in the LCC, meant cutting course, a lot of women work in packing plants, and women have been working behind the meat counters of supermarkets for a long time.

NOW Feminists Demand Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Feminists have ended a national meeting, where they demanded that the civil rights movement be taken into account. In one, leaders demanded their rights and leadership were lost to the movement in the past.

NOW founder Betty Friedan said the women's liberation movement is to stress it, and to take care of the world to look at men "not as instruments, but as subjects, not as bread-winners or human beings, or both."

The convention adopted a resolution calling for N.O.W. to support civil rights legislation to "end discrimination based on sexual orientation, especially in the areas of housing, employment, credit and financial child custody and public accommodations."

The convention adopted a resolution calling for N.O.W. to support civil rights legislation to "end discrimination based on sexual orientation, especially in the areas of housing, employment, credit and financial child custody and public accommodations."

N.O.W. has been at the forefront of the drive to pay equal rights for women, and has pioneered in improving the job situation for women. It has won $10 million for women's employment at the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

In the last two years, N.O.W. has established national centers in Philadelphia, and centers in other areas in which the organization has been active.

Britain's Postmen On Trial

LONDON (AP) — Britain's giant post office is on trial. Caught in the grip of inflation and budget cuts, the post office, it has been deluged by complaints—after trying to save money.

Critics say the British mail service is the worst in 100 years. Supporters of the post office call it the most advanced in the world and say the introduction of complex, automated systems will make it even better.

"I received a reply in a letter before a letter I sent at the same time to an address first known to a lady's secretary," complained one London letter-writer. "How crazy is that? Perhaps I should send all my letters by air mail."

The post office has total control over communications in this country. Every letter, every cable, every telephone call, every radio and television broadcast, passes through the post office monopoly.

In 1969 the British post office became a nationalized industry, a public corporation divorced from government control. The new corporation was created with interest by experts from many countries, with the expectation of modernizing the public corporation would maintain traditional standards and transfers financial risks into a good profit.

But as the country's largest employer—with a work force of 800,000—the post office was expected to grow to inflation. Pre-inflation the post office was expected to be replaced by another agency of the law during the 1975-76 period of about $17 billion.

The British post office faces heavy money losses and has been warned to cut its losses. The latest crunch here came during the Christmas period. A big cut in overtime and the suspension of temporary staff resulted in a backlog of mail, leading to the British post office's growing credit posted well below the deadline for its arrival in time for Christmas.

Many customers were disappointed. Some customers were disappointed. Some customers were disappointed. Some customers were disappointed. Some customers were disappointed.

B.C. Sacred Mushroom Users Are Taking Lives in Hands

VANCOUVER (CP) — People who eat a fungus known as a "mushroom" are taking their lives in their hands, says a police officer.

The scientific name of the mushroom is Amanita muscaria, but it is more commonly known as the fly agaric or the red-capped mushroom.

Mr. Saccarwall said the mushroom is growing in the mountains of British Columbia and is known to the Indians as the "mushroom" or "mushroom".

PCs and Socreds Rush Motions Of Non-confidence in Budget

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons sat on Wednesday night for a day-long debate on the new government budget, the only flurry of action from the Conservatives and Social Credit rush to get in amendments they hope will bring down the government.

The 31 NDP members in the Commons are voting the vote in favour of the government, and the NDP believes the vote is intended to be just that.

The NDP holds the power has since 1980. The NDP's 31 members in the Commons are voting the vote in favour of the government, and the NDP believes the vote is intended to be just that.

The Conservative motion proposed by financial critic Marcel Lambert (Edmonton West) condemns the government as failing to propose measures to deal with the government's failure to increase Canadian participation in domestic business and development.

Rene Martin (St-Charles) proposed an amendment, inserting the government for failure to include in its budget direct financial aid to small businesses and steps to reduce the national deficit.

Passage of either amendment at the end of the debate would bring down the minority government. However, NDP financial critic Max Sasseman confirmed NDP support of the budget.

Mr. Martin (PC—Edmonton—Stanislas) moved their amendment with plans for restructuring of the Canadian merchant marine.

The only real fire of the day erupted during the question period between Conservatives and Mr. Turner.

Mr. Stanfield said Mr. Turner's budget includes $800 million already pumped into the economy. He said the government is not for 1979-80, and Mr. Turner said Mr. Stanfield was deliberately confusing figures.

Mr. Stanfield said that in his previous budget Mr. Turner had predicted creation of 200,000 jobs, but his new budget did not create only 200,000 new jobs.

Mr. Sasseman emphasized that NDP support for the new budget implies no commitment to corporate income tax measures still to be considered from last May's budget. However, some of those measures can be implemented by cabinet order, avoiding a Liberal/NDP confrontation in the House.

Olympic Deficit Under Discussion

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

An anticipated deficit forecast by commissioner general Rogers for the 1976 Summer Olympics at Montreal and shared by Prime Minister Trudeau in Ottawa Wednesday, has caused a new conference in Toronto, said federal government sources.

He said Montreal has already agreed to a federal government that any deficit for the city would be shared by the province of Quebec and the city.

The Ontario treasury board, tabled by the prime minister in the Commons on Wednesday, said the deficit for the 1976 Olympics would be $10 million.

Gillman Offered Post

MOCKTOS (AP) — Houston Oilers owner K. E. (Bud) Adams said Wednesday he has offered Dallas Cowboys assistant coach Bud Gillman the job of general manager of the National Football League's Oilers.

Adams said the Oilers received permission from the Cowboys to discuss the job with Gillman, a former head coach and general manager of San Diego Chargers.

"He came in last Saturday and we got everything pretty well covered," Adams said.

Adams said he is not sure the Oilers are getting it all in

Lalonde Asks Smoke Firms Give Tar, Nicotine Figures

OTTAWA (CP) — Health Minister Marc Lalonde has called on cigarette manufacturers to give tar and nicotine figures on cigarette packages, cartons and vending machines.

A statement from Mr. Lalonde giving the tar and nicotine figures for 78 kinds of cigarette said:

"In this way smokers could have the information at the time of sale or from their friends and not be depending upon periodic press releases, brand popularity or whether or not sales of a brand were promoted."

The statement said nicotine and tar contain cancer-producing and irritating chemicals. It said the levels of the two substances have been reduced substantially during the last two or three years in some brands but there has been little progress in reducing the levels in some heavily promoted or well-known products.

content has been amply demonstrated," adding "I hope that maximums will be progressively decreased."

The non-smoking minister reiterated his department's position that it is safer not to smoke at all. He asked manufacturers to decrease production of higher-tar brands and asked that new brands avoid the higher tar ranges.

Levels of widely-known and widely-available high-tar products should be reduced as rapidly as possible.

The statement concluded that lung cancer, "one of the major

It was second only to heart attacks for men in the 45 to 54 years age group and was responsible for the deaths of almost 54,000 Canadians in 1971.

The tests for tar and nicotine were made by Dr. W. P. Forbes and Dr. J. C. Robinson of the University of Waterloo, Ont.

The statement has this statement at the end of the figures: "Smokers should not be concerned about small differences in tar and nicotine levels between brands." Generally, but not always, nicotine levels increase or decrease with tar levels.

"Smokers are reminded not to rely on the brand of cigarette as a guide to tar and nicotine content."

War Ends in Laos

coastal area where two decades of warfare in Laos has ended. The United States today, and United States troops, are withdrawing in support of the Vietnamese government's forces. The effectiveness of the ceasefire was not expected to be known for some three or four days, since communications in much of the mountainous, jungled, mountainous, primitive or nonexistent, the passade, through which the supply route from North Vietnam to Communist forces in South Vietnam runs. There were still several areas in the south where the government forces were in the process of clearing the area. The ceasefire began 10 hours after the signing in Vietnam of a peace accord between the Vietnamese government headed by Prime Minister Phanom and the Communist Party of Vietnam. The ceasefire was the last step the drivers they will be making in the last

Sharp Approves Criticism

OTTAWA (CP) — Michael Sharpe, head of the Canadian delegation in Vietnam, has taken the right approach by criticizing events since the Vietnam ceasefire agreement was signed. External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp told the Commons Wednesday. "I think he has been very clear at this time in making clear that he expects better things of the International Commission of Control and Supervision of those which have far happened."

However, he added, Mr. Sharpe has not yet passed judgment on whether the commission is performing a useful operation.

Mr. Sharpe has criticized delays in getting observer teams into the field and violations of the ceasefire agreement.

The 1,000-member supervisory commission includes observers from Canada, Indonesia, Singapore and Poland. James Richardson said it will cost Canada about $100,000, including normal pay and benefits for the initial 60-day period. The 30 Canadian observers are in Vietnam.

The information was contained in a written report filed by the minister in response to a question from Adrian Lamont (ND-Beaches).

Cayer Had Welcome News

TORONTO (CP) — Marc Cayer, who had been brought to a Toronto women's shelter in the camp was Mr. Henderson, "we almost fell out of chairs," said Mrs. John McNish. Henderson last week, talked about United States civilian social worker Alan Henderson. Henderson was alive since he disappeared in Vietnam Jan. 31, 1968.

One-dog Open Sleigh

A little bit reluctant to play the role of a reindeer, this old hand dog gives his master a hard time even providing a free sleigh ride along the frozen Rideau Canal in Ottawa. However, the chase finally ended and following a comment that made the old canine cringe, the novice Santa Claus hopped aboard and away they went. (CP Photo)

School Thefts Common Today

By DAN SLOVITT

Canadian Press Staff Writer
Someone always suffers from a theft.

If it's equipment stolen from a school, the taxpayers must pay for it and the students have to do without until it can be replaced.

When thieves take a wallet or an article from a student locker, that student bears the cost.

And when this happens and a middle school or college is continually theft-ridden and security measures are tightened, all suffering is the school and the pupils.

Theft is indeed a part of the school every day, a Canadian Herald by The Canadian Press indicates.

NEWFOUNDLAND
They are prevalent at Memorial University in St. John's, although a representative of the university's security force has helped in curbing some of the thefts.

P.E.I.
Thefts are not significant at Charlottetown although principal Wendell Harris said there are "one or two unfortunate cases where someone has lost a wallet or a book."

QUEBEC
Thefts are not significant at the University of Quebec at Montreal, although a representative of the university's security force has helped in curbing some of the thefts.

ONTARIO
Thefts are not significant at the University of Toronto, although a representative of the university's security force has helped in curbing some of the thefts.

BRITISH COLUMBIA
Thefts are not significant at the University of British Columbia, although a representative of the university's security force has helped in curbing some of the thefts.

ALBERTA
Thefts are not significant at the University of Alberta, although a representative of the university's security force has helped in curbing some of the thefts.

SASKATCHEWAN
Thefts are not significant at the University of Saskatchewan, although a representative of the university's security force has helped in curbing some of the thefts.

MANITOBA
Thefts are not significant at the University of Manitoba, although a representative of the university's security force has helped in curbing some of the thefts.

ATLANTA
Thefts are not significant at the University of Georgia, although a representative of the university's security force has helped in curbing some of the thefts.

NEW BRUNSWICK

Regina campus of University of Saskatchewan report that thefts are not much of a problem. A university spokesman said most are "petty thefts" in which equipment may be left unattended for a couple of days.

ALBERTA
Principals of four Edmonton high schools indicate some theft occurs in the schools, but don't consider it a serious matter. R. T. Campbell, principal of Austin O'Brien high school, said he believes action at curbing thefts comes from involvement of the student council in school problems and activities. "There's nothing like the student grievance," he said.

BRITISH COLUMBIA
Thefts at Simon Fraser University at Burnaby are "not too bad now. It's tolerable," said Fred Hare, director of traffic and security, but prevention of offenders and security measures are responsible for curbing down the number of thefts. There is less of a problem in Vancouver public schools than in private schools, school administrators said. The city juvenile bureau said thefts in schools is not considered a big problem.

Tough Break

There is something rather ironic or paradoxical in the contrasting fortunes of Dr. Henry Kissinger, key Nixon aide and peace negotiator, and Captain Michael Heck, ex U.S. B-52 bomber pilot and war hero.

Here are two men who have served their country well, but while one has reached peace the peak of his career with the conclusion of yet another diplomatic mission, the other is in the wake of the Vietnam peace treaty and including a meeting with China's Chairman Mao — the other has been quietly discarded along the U.S. air force.

Captain Heck was one of the men whose B-52 "persuaders" helped the United States toward a point where Dr. Kissinger and his Vietnamese counterparts could reach a mutually-acceptable agreement which also fulfilled for the Americans the perceptive of "peace with honor" which they had sought for so long.

On his third tour of duty, Captain Heck flew nearly 200 missions either as a bomber pilot or as forward air controller. On December 27, 1971 missions behind him, the 30-year-old pilot apparently had a crisis of conscience. The Christmas ceasefire was over when he decided "the goals do not justify the mass destruction and killing" and refused to fly any further missions. He was promoted to command status as a conscientious objector and was assigned to administrative duties as his base in Thailand while his fate was decided.

The word now is that Heck returned to an air force base in Louisiana last Wednesday and was discharged the following day. The much-decorated airman is quoted as saying he had been given his discharge under "some long honorable conditions" which he described as being the equivalent of an undesirable discharge.

Before returning to the U.S. and while talking about his decision, Heck said "anytime you bomb on the massive scale we did there are bound to be horrible off target... Talking effective action against missiles could account for error and, added, "there are certain inherent errors in any bombing equipment..."

Here was no draft dodger, but Heck missed just as well as he at this stage. In a sense he "blew it" — his career that was up when the whole show was about over. Yet it seems he is at peace with himself and with his own conscience. Some will argue that this is all that counts... yet if everyone backed off in the latter Captain Heck did, wouldn't it be letting down the side? There come to mind some words written, we understand, to Winston Churchill: "If you don't have to be nice — you may only have to be right. War may not be right, but you are at war then you might as well try to win. In Vietnam no one won, but all things considered — led to a truce. Captain Heck and a host of other servicemen played their part — why deny his career in it.

Dr. Kissinger meanwhile has no such problem. He too has served his country well, and he has the full peace was different, maybe even a little easier. Both and he and the Captain Heck had much the same end and the end was the same. The difference, of course, the B-52 pilot said all things considered alike to all men does not seem to fit.

Israel Error

Fuel Arab atrocities notwithstanding, the shooting down by the Israeli air force of a Libyan civil airliner seems to us to have been neither strategically necessary nor morally excusable. In this case it is the Jewish, with whom we had thought, that we have seriously compromised prospects of a settlement of the end, mind-up-and long-drawn-out confrontation between Arabs and Jews in the Middle East.

March 31 Deadline For Recommendations

Commons Committee on Food is Working Against Time

By ROY ADAMS
From The Intelligencer's
Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — The Commons' special committee on food is in a tight spot. The committee has only until the end of March to present an interim report to Parliament, presumably before the government, which it should consider, on the basis of all sectors of the food industry.

The spokesman for the parties about the government has said the committee's chances of coming up with useful recommendations are less than two. The committee chairman, Col. (Lester) says he is determined to try to make the committee work, but the spokesman for the Conservatives says he will give the committee enough time to formulate from recommendations on the issues as politicians will be negative as price controls.

Conservative Alan Lawrence, the former Ontario cabinet minister, said the committee is in a tight spot. He said the committee is in a tight spot. He said the committee is in a tight spot.

And New Democratic Party member George Brown, who has served since Mr. Col. (Lester) says he is determined to try to make the committee work, but the spokesman for the Conservatives says he will give the committee enough time to formulate from recommendations on the issues as politicians will be negative as price controls.

At the same time, all three spokesmen say they are encouraging their members to give it their best effort.

Mr. Col. (Lester) said he doubts that the two-month deadline will give the Conservatives enough time to formulate from recommendations on the issues as politicians will be negative as price controls.

But, he said, if the estimates were right, the committee might be able to complete its work by the end of the year. He said the committee is in a tight spot.

Mr. Lawrence says he does not think the results will be that positive.

He said the committee members will make a political judgment on the basis of the price controls.

At the same time, all three spokesmen say they are encouraging their members to give it their best effort.

Government and Those 'Conflict' Situations

Editor,

The Intelligencer.

I read with some interest the article in your issue of February 17, 1978, regarding the conflict between the government and those 'conflict' situations.

It is interesting to see that the government is not taking any action to deal with the conflict between the government and those 'conflict' situations.

Israel Is Arms Exporter and Producer

By JOHN H. HARRISON
Foreign Affairs Analyst
Thames News Service

It will come as a bit of surprise to many that Israel, major purchaser of aircraft and weapons from the world's largest arms-producing country, is now a major arms exporter and producer.

Since the month Israel Defense Industries, a state-owned manufacturing company of the Israeli Government, has been producing arms for export. Previously, Israel had been a major arms importer.

The new weapons factories, which will be in the form of a company of the new private industry, have been designed and offered to the world's largest arms-producing countries, at least those that are not hostile to Israel.

Dr. Barak, who is the head of the Israeli Defense Industries, has said that the new weapons factories will be in the form of a company of the new private industry, have been designed and offered to the world's largest arms-producing countries, at least those that are not hostile to Israel.

Collection of Old People's all of which come to us from the first place from readers. I read such a lot of nice stories that I made up the collection and I am sure it will be a good one.

Henry Van Dyke's Three little boys, which is one of them, is a jewel. I would like to see "My Sweetest" with the illustrations of L. V. C. and hope the last item will be the last.

I'll send the Collection; all the rest of available points to come more from. (Each available for 30 cents and a stamp entered in a n y month.) The children's

after the worth of

Government Spending Irks Fledgling New Brunswick MP

By RICHARD JACKSON
OTTAWA — "What has happened here is that the government is spending money like there is no tomorrow," said Conservative M.P. Robert Harris of New Brunswick's York-Sussex riding.
Harris, a freshman parliamentarian, was speaking in both English and French in the House of Commons last night. He was the only member of the opposition to speak in both languages.
Harris, who is also a member of the New Brunswick Liberal Association, said that the government's spending was "out of control" and that it was "a waste of money".
He said that the government was spending "billions of dollars" on "unnecessary projects" and that it was "not doing enough" to "improve the lives of the people of New Brunswick".
Harris also criticized the government's handling of the economy, saying that it was "not doing enough" to "reduce inflation" and "create jobs".
He concluded by saying that he was "concerned" about the government's spending and that he was "hoping" that the government would "change its ways".

They won't like it a bit, because they know and we know they know that there are much better ways to spend the money," he said.

Women at Work

Could women really make a better job of things were they given greater say in our society, or at least put on a more equal footing with men in the business of running this perplexing world?
If women — in Canada at any rate — are under-achievers, it is simply because they have not been afforded adequate opportunity. In other words, for 50 much time were not required for the raising of children, who knows what additional contributions could be made by women.

Of course many women still manage to achieve prominence in a male world, such as Sylvia Ostry, head of Statistics Canada, who recently was the first witness before the special Commons committee on food prices, and Madame Sauve, the new federal science minister. There are others, too, but it is nevertheless clear by and large that women here are not as involved in business and the professions as they are overseas.

According to figures released by Toronto real estate brokers Olsson Williamson Ltd., who incidentally employ almost as many saleswomen as salesmen (in 1972 total earnings of the women exceeded the salesmen by $20,000) and quoted by columnist Dennis Brathwaite, the majority of doctors in the Soviet Union are women while in Canada only 10.5 per cent are. In Finland, most doctors are women; in Canada less than 15 per cent are.

Of all employed women in Canada in 1970, 10 per cent, according to the survey, worked as a clerk, only one in 33 as a manager. Moreover, in 96 per cent of jobs, men are paid more than women. In the U.S., 60 jobs, the difference in favor of men is 25 per cent or more.

Brathwaite adds that women are better fitted for any business than men, noting that girls usually get the best marks and win all the academic prizes "because they concentrate harder, have more orderly minds and are more conscientious than the boys." He suggests that only marriage and the raising of families prevent them from following through.

Well now we are not sure that women would have as first diplomatic impact in the many roles that women play, but where feasible and where they are qualified we are certain the world would benefit from the life of a woman benefit from a greater focus of their sex.

As it is, women are more involved in these spheres than may be supposed. Women doctors and dentists may be in the minority here — and we know for example that women announcers are almost non-existent on national radio and television — but in business and professions they are becoming increasingly active.

In Kingston for example an extensive newspaper survey has revealed that women are paid by the taxpayers' money, like men in similar positions, do best on the wage scale. Women's occupations are more varied, for instance, often without degrees or special training earn up to $12,000. At the present time, women make a maximum of $10,700. Some other women's salaries in that community: $14,000 for the head of the social services department at city hall and around $10,000 for a couple of women professors at Queen's, not to mention a lady in real estate who as a top saleswoman earns more than $20,000 annually. A woman copier at the same firm earns more than $11,000. And so on.

Some of the Manpower Councils' admissions: "We're overpaid when you compare community salaries, such as the recently $14,000 minimum wage of sales clerks — now up to $12,000."
Women them are very much involved in the work here and are making good money in many instances as the figures show. Air stewardesses incidentally are another group who earn more up to $10,000 a year. It is only when men who work this kind of money, however, the headline in Dennis Brathwaite's article is worth noting: "It's a waste of money to keep them at home." Many women are providing the backbone of the government. Provided the welfare of children, where involved, is not compromised, it is not for the happier and more stimulating family life of all round. There will be those of course who disagree and in the ultimate, it is a matter for the families themselves to decide.

Hazards of Snowmobiling

There are many hazards of snowmobiling. One of the most common is the risk of falling off the sled. This can be avoided by wearing a seat belt. Another hazard is the risk of hitting a tree or a building. This can be avoided by staying on the trail. A third hazard is the risk of hitting a person or a dog. This can be avoided by staying on the trail.

Seals Snap Losing Run 5-3

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
The lowly California Golden Seals couldn't have picked a better time to snap a 14-game winless streak as far as Boston Bruins are concerned.

The loss for the Blackhawks left them only two points ahead of the scurging Bruins who play Los Angeles Kings tonight at Ice. The Rangers are idle until Sunday when they entertain Minnesota North Stars.

Baldrev, who has been injured much of the season, scored his eighth and 15th goals of the campaign and will have to try very hard to match the 18 goals he scored last year in his first full NHL season, which was 1974-75.

Less than three minutes later he set up Morris Mott for what

Rams Win Playoffs

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Richmond Hill Rams advanced to the semi-final round while Seneca Flyers stayed alive in another series with victories Friday night in the Provincial Junior Hockey League playoffs.

Richmond Hill scored twice in overtime to defeat Ajax 4-2 and win the best-of-seven quarter-final series by an identical 4-2 margin.

Seneca forced a seventh and deciding game in their best-of-seven series with a 4-3 win over Dixie Bees. The final game is to be played Sunday at Dixie.

Ajax led 2-0 until Richmond Hill scored two goals within two to force the overtime. Ajax Pruitt's second goal of the night at 9:15 of the 30-minute overtime gave Richmond Hill a 2-1 lead and Craig Perry added an insurance goal into an empty net 35 seconds later.

Pat Hughes got the other Richmond Hill goal, while John Sedgley and Don Nicholson replied for Ajax.

Tenn Bitt scored the winning goal for Seneca in the third period to clinch an uphill struggle. Dixie had period leads of 2-1 and 3-2.

Mike Francis had two goals for the Flyers and Mike Kespenev. The Dixie goals went to Mike Kaszycki, Terry Williams

Hornets Sting Aces

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The so-called home ice advantage didn't worry Harrie Flyers and Galt Hornets in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series Friday night.

The Flyers visited Belleville and took a 5-2 victory over the last-place Quoties to move into a first-place tie with Orillia Terriers, both with 56 points.

In Kingston, the Hornets won by an identical 5-2 score over the Aces before 1,877 fans to tighten their hold on third place; Galt has 45 points, six ahead of the Shamrock Kings.

The Aces are fifth with 34 points, two ahead of Owen Sound Downtowners who have a five-point lead over Belleville.

Ron Smith's two goals led the Hornets to their 22nd victory in 29 starts. Steve Dugan, Bill Hway and Mac Westgate shared the others as Galt outshot Kingston 40-29 and led 3-2 at the end of the first period and 4-2 after the second.

Peter Kennedy got both Kingston goals.

Action resumes tonight, with Owen Sound at Galt, Kingston at Orillia and Belleville at Barrie.

Winger Craig Patrick tallied the other goal for California on a breakaway with 1:29 left in the contest.

Gilles Meloche had another busy night in the Seals nets, stopping 34 of the 37 shots the Rangers fired at him while Villeneuve blocked only 18.

Red Wings Fail To Get Flying

Hamilton Red Wings could be announced for adopting Show Me The Way To Go Home as their theme song for the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A season.

The eighth-place Red Wings extended their dismal record to 19 games without a victory when they were shut out by Ottawa 6's 5-0 Friday.

In other games, St. Catharines Black Hawks edged St. John's 3-2, Marie Greyhounds 5-3, Sudbury Wolves edged Kitchener Rangers 4-1, London Knights hammered Peterborough 7-3 and Toronto Marlboros beat Ottawa Generals 6-4 as all 10 teams saw action.

Hamilton managed to hold Ottawa to one goal after two periods.

Webster scored for the winners while Bill Lockhead, Walt Johnson, Brian Kinsella and Rick Middleton counted for Oshawa.

Wally Palenstein scored three goals to lead St. Catharines victory in South Sea. Marie Michelle line-mate Wayne Chrysler scored one and collected three assists. Larry Jacques also scored for the winners.

Bruce O'Grady, Paul Woods and Bill Reed each scored once for the last-place Greyhounds, who lost their 34th of the season.

In Sunday action, Ottawa visits St. Catharines. Oshawa plays host to Sudbury and Saint John. Marie is at London.

Parents Organize Protest Over The Closing of Queen Alexandra

Marching their forces in Queen Alexandra's schoolroom, hundreds of parents from the neighborhood planned their protest against the school's closing. The decision to close the school was made last week.

They had heard Thursday night was a pretty good time to go, said Peter of the Parents' Council, and administrators for closing the school building in the morning.

Mr. Pierce, a Loyola College teacher, has led the fight to save the school. He was a member of the public meeting by George Fisher and Art Laid-die, who had several discussions with groups among the 150 parents who met last night.

Basic reason for closing the school, Mr. Pierce said, is that the school was overcrowded and that the school was in the east end of the city. The school was in the east end of the city.

Legacy of Gullist Years

Leftist Victory in France Could Precipitate Crisis

By BOB CURRIE

Canadian Press Staff Writer

The result of a constitutional crisis in France, if the parties to the left win the election next month, is seen as a major step in the leftward movement of the French government, which has been in power since the election of Charles de Gaulle, for France

The Gullist years have been a period of relative stability.

already have expressed themselves and the constitution does not require them to do so a second time.

What recent polls indicate the left has a good chance of winning the election is

left as a victory over the interference of the absolute majority.

Belleville Home for Handicapped Would Be the Second in Canada

A few months ago, Jean and Alex Cunningham were told their 18-year-old son, his back broken in an automobile accident, would never walk again.

A miracle later, Sandy Cunningham is walking, talking and prospects are bright for yet another child.

It is a Belleville home for severely handicapped children that would be the second in Canada.

The first in Montreal, Quebec, is Belleville, one that would be the second in Canada.

All Pitch In

Every one is pitching in to establish a Belleville home for handicapped young adults. Some of the supporters gathered in the living room of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cunningham this weekend when their son Sandy was home for a visit from Kingston General

Reilly Plans Life of Reilly

Garfield Reilly has seen the railroad grow considerably during his 32 years with Canadian National.

In fact, those 32 years have been used to build up the railroad from a small company in 1941 to the largest in the world today.

Reilly, 32, is the son of a railroad man. He followed in his father's footsteps and became a locomotive engineer.

He worked for the railroad for 10 years before moving to the office to become a trainmaster.

Controversial Bylaws Passed In Marathon Council Session

Despite the fact a building permit has been issued and the property has been prepared for construction, members of the Revelle-Belleview Beautification Committee have been unable to get their efforts to block construction of a 70,000 sq. ft. apartment structure on the site of the old St. Agatha's city council meeting.

This was indicated at Monday night's city council meeting held at St. Agatha's, where Dr. David Linden, who said the organization had contacted people in Hull, Quebec, where a multi-story apartment structure was never developed after a history of planning.

"We are still looking at the possibility of blocking construction of the proposed high-rise at St. Agatha's," said Dr. Linden.

At a council meeting held last night, the Revelle-Belleview Beautification Committee members, including Dr. Linden, expressed their opposition to the proposed apartment structure on the site of the old St. Agatha's city council meeting.

Dr. Linden said a number of people have been contacted and the committee is still looking for a way to block construction of the proposed apartment structure.

Lake Levels Worry Waterfront Residents With Spring to Come

By HARRY MURRAY, Staff Reporter.

Along the Bay of Quinte's waterfront they're not waiting for spring — they're worrying now.

The anxiety stems from a rising Lake Ontario water level already as high as last year's peak mark, some waterfowl residents. Predictions that spring runoff could raise it another several feet.

Young Musicians Twin Cities' Ambassadors

KITCHENWATER, Ont. (CP)—The young members of the Dutch Boy Cadet Corps drum and bugle band were notified last week that they were to be "ambassadors" for the "greatest nation" in the world.

The band, which has been in existence for 10 years, is one of the best in the world, and its members are all of the Dutch Boy Cadet Corps.

The band was started in 1925 to serve primarily as a band for the Dutch Boy Cadet Corps, but it has since grown into a community band, and its members are now of all ages.

MATCH THE CONTEST.....

it's new ... it's challenging ... it's fun ... here's how you can win

Yes, here is the most exciting new contest you have ever played ... Just follow these simple rules:

Published below are the pictures of the owners, managers or employees of the participating businesses in this contest.

During the next eight weeks, in each Thursday's Intelligencer, a full page will be published with pieces of the pictures of the participating merchants.

These picture pieces must be cut out, matched to the pictures below and then pasted in the corresponding blank on the opposite blank page.

When you have placed together the pictures of all the merchants, fill in the name of the person and the business name under each picture.

Put in your name, address and phone number in the entry blank and mail or bring in the two pages to: The Intelligencer, Belleville, as it arrives no later than Friday, May 11, 1975.

Entries must be in a sealed envelope to be eligible.

On Monday, May 14, 1975, one entry will be drawn, and if that entry has correctly matched the merchants, and has correctly filled in the names and businesses, he or she will receive a 10" Black and White TV set. If the entry contains proof of purchase from any four of the 16 participating merchants, the prize will be a 12" Color TV.

So start now -- save these pages. The first picture pieces will be published Tuesday, March 5, 1975.

Watch for them and patronize the participating merchants. All Intelligencer employees, participating merchants and their immediate families are not eligible for this contest.

Evaluation Program Explained

PICTON — Director of the ERAS (Education Resource Allocation System) task force, Dr. James H. Edwards, Monday said the ERAS program, as an area of completion for provincial resources and social services, provides a significant challenge for educators at all levels.

At a special meeting of board members, teachers and principals, Dr. Edwards explained the ERAS program, as an area of completion for provincial resources and social services, provides a significant challenge for educators at all levels.

Dr. Edwards said the program of ERAS has been in the works for several years. The program was first developed in 1971. The Prince Edward County board of education was one of the first to develop a program for the program which is "based" from local residents.

Tariff Cuts Threaten Canadian Food Firms

OTTAWA (CP) — Tariff reductions on imported food and agricultural products in the Free Trade Agreement with the U.S. will hurt the Canadian food and agricultural firms, according to a report by the Canadian Food Processors' Association.

Mr. Daurath spoke at the annual meeting of the Ontario Food Processors' Association in Mississauga, Ont. He said that the budget last month's decision to import more food and agricultural products from the U.S. will hurt the Canadian food and agricultural firms, according to a report by the Canadian Food Processors' Association.

Whelan Says Lower Tariffs Won't Affect Farm Incomes

OTTAWA (CP) — Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan, in speaking to a group of farmers in the Maritimes, said that the tariff cuts on food and agricultural products in the Free Trade Agreement with the U.S. will not hurt the Canadian food and agricultural firms, according to a report by the Canadian Food Processors' Association.

Mr. Whelan said that the budget last month's decision to import more food and agricultural products from the U.S. will not hurt the Canadian food and agricultural firms, according to a report by the Canadian Food Processors' Association.

The NDP would have made a 200 million dollar income tax cut rather than the proposed 100 million dollar cut. The NDP would have made a 200 million dollar income tax cut rather than the proposed 100 million dollar cut.

Report Urges Quebec Integrate Immigrants

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean-Jacques Duhaime said that the report of the Commission on the Status of the Immigrant in Quebec, which was released last week, backs the government's policy of integrating immigrants into the Quebec mainstream.

The report also recommended that the government appoint an ombudsman to protect immigrant rights, adopt a human rights charter and set up a language commission to guide the government in all forms of discrimination.

The report also recommended that the government appoint an ombudsman to protect immigrant rights, adopt a human rights charter and set up a language commission to guide the government in all forms of discrimination.

The third volume also touches on the language rights of native peoples, recommending that Indians be allowed on their own reserves and Eskimos within their own territory.

The report also recommended that the government appoint an ombudsman to protect immigrant rights, adopt a human rights charter and set up a language commission to guide the government in all forms of discrimination.

Fireworks Not Limited

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government has decided that fireworks will not be limited in the new fireworks regulations. The regulations will allow fireworks to be sold and used throughout the country.

Mr. Fraser, chief of the explosives division of the energy department, said many retail stores had stocks left over last year because they had to destroy the fireworks.

Racist Literature Assailed

OTTAWA (CP) — A Conservative MP said Tuesday that an association made up of "white, crazy people" is determined to bring racist literature to the attention of the government.

Kiernans Urges Manitoba To Control All Minerals

WINNIPEG (CP) — Eric Kiernan, a former cabinet minister in the federal Liberal government, has urged that Manitoba bring all of the province's mineral resources back under effective public ownership and control within 10 years, and set up Crown corporations for mining.

He warned that massive giveways of mineral rights to individuals or corporations would mean loss of control over the province's economic future.

The report was tabled in the legislature Tuesday.

Mr. Kiernan, now a professor of economics at McGill University in Montreal, long has maintained that Canada's resources are being sold at a price too high for corporations and too low for the public.

He said that the province's mineral resources will be established immediately to study the report, which he hoped would lead to widespread public discussion of resource policy and representations from mining companies in the province.

Transportation Called, Biggest Urban Problem

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario travel and leisure industry was told Tuesday that providing transportation is the greatest challenge facing urban areas. The industry is facing a growing urban population and a growing urban population and a growing urban population.

Only 10 have been implemented. Most were dropped because the municipality couldn't finance them.

Alberta Power Fails

CALGARY (CP) — One of the largest power disruptions in Alberta's history blacked out most of the province's southern half Tuesday morning, affecting 100,000 people.

To Simplify Your Shopping

NEW SINGLE ITEM PRICING

As of today, Miracle Food Mart is responding to the request of countless consumers by introducing single item pricing for all grocery and household products—all processed and packaged meats such as sausages and cold cuts—and all fruits and vegetables which lend themselves to selling in individual units.

You will no longer need to buy two, three, four or more of an item to get a bargain, when you prefer to buy only one. There will be no need to strain your current budget, overwork your kitchen, or risk spoilage, to take advantage of a "two-for-one" sale. Items will now be individually priced so that you can tell immediately the cost of such things as a single grapefruit or a can of tomato soup.

The new pricing will also simplify and expedite checking out, since customers need no longer do the necessary arithmetic when they buy only one or two of a previously multiple-priced item. Chances of error are eliminated and you will be able to check sales slips against purchases more easily when you reach home. When you shop this day at Miracle Food Mart, you will find a real convenience advantage.

Miracle Food Mart hopes that this new move will make shopping faster, more pleasant and more satisfying for you—and I'm sure it will.

CP News Roundup U.S. Court May Decide Tire Taxes

OTTAWA (CP) — Negotiations still are being sought on the American application of higher import duties on Michelin tires from New South, but the issue "may well have to go to the courts," Trade Minister Allan Rock said Tuesday.

There has been no response to the Canadian note seeking negotiations and further representations are being made, Mr. Rock said.

"We don't want to create the impression that negotiations will be able to effect a solution. We may well have to go to the courts and that may be a long process."

He said in the past that the Michelin tire company, with its without federal government assistance, may appeal to the higher American duty in American courts.

The 44-per-cent duty was imposed to counter incentives granted to Michelin by the United States and South American governments for construction of two plants in North Carolina.

Peter H. Plante, a leading trade administrator in Ottawa, told a U.S. Senate subcommittee Tuesday that the U.S. law is "inadequate to its full purpose" and that Canada and other trading partners "are subsidizing their tire industries such as the Michelin tire plant."

Court Can't Return Woman to Reserve

OTTAWA (CP) — Even if the Supreme Court of Canada decides that Indian women who marry white men retain their Indian status, Mrs. Yvonne Isadore cannot return to her home on the Six Nations reserve near Bradford, Ont., the court was told Tuesday.

Privacy Invasion Is Feared

The Toronto lawyer was making the final arguments before the court in an appeal involving the federal government's use of a judgment which would be known for a few months.

The government and all provinces have agreed to a bill to amend the Indian Act to give the federal government the right to search the homes of Indian women who marry white men.

Mr. Kellack told the Supreme Court that while the Indian Act does allow Indian women to return to their homes on reserve, it does not allow them to return to their homes on reserve if they have married a white man.

Earlier the court rejected an appeal by Mrs. Isadore, who said that she was being forced to live with a white man who was not her husband.

Festival Workshop Friday

The Rotary Music Festival will conduct a workshop for teachers and school students Friday at 11 a.m.

The will be at the announced today.

Clive Lobb will conduct the piano workshop at 11 a.m. in the auditorium and Megan Lobb will conduct the vocal workshop in St. Andrew's Church auditorium.

When Hastings county director of education, Eric H. Hunter, closed his four-day visit to St. John's, he said he was disappointed in a climate of frugeness and risk.

In his address on Tuesday night as he was conferred by school, 10 parents of Queen Alexandra School pushed to close Queen Alex to June, he said it was caught between the reality of education guidelines it couldn't sustain.

elling with the parents, Mr. Hunter said that capital funds would be available for new schools in the county or extensions to existing ones as long as vacant places remain in St. John's.

He said that the school board has forced the close to close four schools this year, Gilroy's Point, St. John's, St. John's, and St. John's.

overseered schools and the other has vacated its school. Since the board first announced closure of the school last Thursday, it has issued its final plans to take the school to Queen Alex, Queen Alexandra School, and St. John's Church School.

The board means sharing schools in adjacent neighborhoods within the same county by having plans, including selling secondary school programs in vacant elementary school classrooms.

These guidelines apply "unless we are willing to sacrifice," Mr. Hunter said. The guidelines permit no new schools. They insist on shared jurisdictions as the means of accommodating pupils.

Shack Said Sniffers' Hangout

By BRUCE AMARON

An abandoned shack, believed used by sniffers for sniffing glue, had been under police surveillance for several weeks prior to the affidavit search of an east end Monday.

Police said they had given the names of several juveniles who had been sniffing glue the deadly fumes although the shack was not known then. The shack was owned by John's friends, reported to have been sniffing glue for some time in the afternoon with the 15-year-old Hermiston.

U.S. May Have Had Auto Trade Surplus

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States may have had a surplus in automotive trade with Canada last year, a General Motors executive said Tuesday, after a substantial 1971 deficit under the 1969 agreement.

"Preliminary results for 1971 indicated a favorable U.S. balance in excess of $40 million," Murphy said. While he did not provide total figures, he said production had increased 100 per cent since 1966, the year before Canada and the U.S. signed the

Are we keeping our promises?

You tell us.

For some time now, Loblaws has been promising you things, a variety of things, in a variety of ways. In this newspaper, on television, on the radio, even on outdoor signs, we've been making you promises in twelve specific areas.

Those promises are statements of the way Loblaws intends to do business... and pledges of service to you, our valued customer.

Because Loblaws is only human, we know we may have fallen down on a thing or two in your eyes from time to time. But one thing's sure. All the Loblaws people have been trying very hard to keep our Loblaws promises.

Now we'd like you to tell us how we're doing. To make that easy, we've installed suggestion boxes at the exits in every Loblaws store. Look for "The Loblaws Promises, Are we keeping them?" box.

Will you fill out the questionnaire provided at any suggestion box next time you're in your favourite Loblaws store?

We're out to make Loblaws the place you most like to shop. And that's a promise.
